Jonathan Alder First Settler On Big Darby;

This cabin was built in 1806 by Jonathan Alder a short distance north of where it now stands beside Foster Chapel. It was Alder's wish that the cabin be preserved for years to come. After Alder's original tombstone wore away, the children of Henry Clay Alder placed this present tombstone at the grave in 1916. Many of his children and descendants are buried nearby. STAFF Photo

by Doris Brown

In compliance with the wishes of Jonathan Alder, the first white settler along Big Darby, his log cabin home is being preserved beside Foster Chapel on Plain City-Georgesville-rd. Nearby in the Foster Cemetery, more than a dozen of the Alder family have been laid to rest near the great pioneer of the Big Darby.

Many of Jonathan Alder's descendants still live in Madison and Franklin Counties, and members of the seventh generation of the Alder family live in Hilliards.

They have not forgotten the man who helped to settle the land and was most influential in keeping peace with the Indians. Each of the descendents and friends of Alder who were approached had something to add to his exciting history.

Dictated Historical Account

Before he died, Jonathan Alder dictated to his son Henry an account of his life as he remembered it. This original account had been lost for many years, but in 1935 it was found and copied for all the living descendents.

The 85-page booklet contains in Jonathan's own words many incidents that happened among the settlers around Big Darby, the trouble with the Indians, and even includes battles of the War of 1812.

Jonathan mentions in the narration that his dates may not be quite correct, but every incident is written just as he remembered it.

He was born Sept. 17, 1773 about eight miles from Philadelphia, but soon after the family moved to Wyth County, Virginia. When his father died, soon after, Jonathan learned to take on responsibility and was often sent out in the woods on errands.

At the age of seven he was sent out with his brother to hunt for a lost mare and colt and was captured by the Indians. He watched the Indians run a spear through his brother's body and later saw an Indian with his brother's scalp. Because Jonathan had black hair and a winning smile, he was spared death, was taken to what is now Logan County, and was adopted by an Indian family who had lost a son and wanted him.

Jonathan was treated very well by his new family and learned to love them very much. He gave up hope of ever seeing his white family again and lived with the Indians until his Indian father died in 1792. He traveled up to Big Darby often to hunt and sold skins for a living.

Married An Indian

After Wayne's treaty with the Indians in 1795 Jonathan decided to settle along Big Darby and took an Indian squaw as a wife. Soon after the settlers came to the territory and Jonathan became a good friend and a big help to them. They taught him the English language and he was an interperter between the Indians and the whites.

He prospered as a farmer but his squaw did not like living with the whites and when they lost two children, Jonathan thought that the Great Spirit did not like the two races mingling together. So they separated and he gave his squaw most of the farm animals to satisfy her and returned her to her people in Sandusky.

Jonathan often longed to return to his mother and family and once while conversing with his good friend, John Moore, he found that Moore had known some of his former neighbors. Since Moore was returning to Virginia soon, he agreed to look up the neighbors and to inquire of Jonathan's family.

Moore did not find either family, but he advertised for their whereabouts. When Jonathan had about given up hope of ever finding his family, he received a letter from them, stating that they had read the advertisement and were all well.

In 1806 Jonathan went to Virginia and was reunited with his family. While there, he married Mary Blont and returned with her and his family to Ohio in 1806.

Log Home Still Stands Today

Lewis Foster, who founded the Foster Chapel, had bought Jonathan's land after he went to Virginia, so Jonathan contacted his good friend Lucas Sullivant who was a surveyor and bought new land for a farm. In eight days he built the first hewn log cabin house of that area, and it is this cabin which still stands today. The cabin has been moved from its original site a short distance north of its present place beside the Foster Chapel.

Jonathan's wife bore him 13 children in that little cabin. His narration includes trips that he made, his part in the War of 1812, and many tragedies that happened among his neighbors. The book ends about 1835. Jonathan died Jan. 30, 1849 and was buried in Foster Cemetery.

His son, Henry took over the farm and according to present descendents, he built the brick house at the corner of Plain City-Georgesville-rd and Lucas-pk. This house was considered the showplace of its day and although definite records have not yet been found, the family history indicates that the house is well over 100 years old.

Foster Cemetery contains graves of the first settlers whose tombstones are barely legible, in contrast to graves as recent as last year. Among the first of Jonahtan Alder's family to be buried there were his half-sister and his mother, Hanna, who died about 1817. The name Alder has been added to the name of the cemetery in remembrance of him.

A Most Important Election Is Coming

One of the most important elections in the history of the city of Columbus will be held on Nov. 8 when a mayor and four members of city council are to be elected.

The election takes on particular significance in light of the fact that the powers that are backing the Republican councilmen and their candidate for mayor appear to be most determined to maintain or strengthen their hold on the operation of the city government.

At the same time there seems to be a rather general opinion among persons contacted that if the election could be held tomorrow Mayor Sensenbrenner would be re-elected.

Overconfidence has lost more elections than it has won. It behooves those who are interested in returning the mayor to office to lend their active support in trying to get others out to vote for him.

We continue to go [illegible] in support of the mayor because we feel he should have an opportunity to head the city government next year with some support from city council. This will be possible only with the election of the Democratic council candidates and with the election of Ralston W. Westlake, Republican.

Residents of this and every other community of the city will do well to support the candidacy of Westlake for council. He is the son of the late Milton W. Westlake who for many years was a county commissioner and also a member of city council for several terms. No man has ever given finer or more honest service to the city as a member of council than did Mr. Westlake. There is every reason to believe that the city can expect the same kind of service from his son.

Ralston Westlake is a family man of integrity and in a position to be depended upon to vote on all measures as he would see them for the benefit of the people of Columbus rather than become a "yes" man as has been so true of some of the present members of council.

Westlake is a registered Republican but was not endorsed by the party organization. Republicans and Democrats alike who are interested in solid city government will do well to vote for him and urge their friends to do the same.

Watch This One

City councilmen and the Republican candidate for mayor who have voted for a 10c reduction in the sewer rates aren't fooling too many people right before the election. Remember it was these gentlemen who upped the rates so high in the first place and don't be surprised if the rates go back up again after the election.

And too, even though they all avoid discussion of the subject before election you can bet a silver dollar that an income tax increase is due for Columbus residents after the election.

The new $50,000 headquarters building of the Franklin Township Fire Department came officially into being Sunday afternoon as more than 150 township residents and county officials attended formal dedication and open house ceremonies at the Sullivant-av site.

Visitors were treated to a tour of the modernistic building at the end of the program, held indoors because of the bleak weather outside. They saw the well-equipped communications room where calls are received and signals transmitted to firemen in the three companies serving Franklin Township.

The touring group also viewed a spacious lounge and dining room, a kitchen and the living quarters for the No. 2 Company firemen, who are stationed in the headquarters building.

Ceremonies began with the flag raising in front of the building conducted by members of World War I Veterans of Franklin County. Then the ribbon-cutting rites were held before the spectators could retreat from the chilly weather into the more comfortable building.

Paul M. Jones, resident manager of the General Motors' Ternstedt plant on Georgesville-rd, cut the ribbon as Township Fire Chief James C. Moffitt, County Commissioners C. P. Lauderbach and Henry A. Koontz looked on.

Camp Chase Hosts Legion At Annual District Fete

Camp Chase Post will be the scene of the American Legion's 12th District Fall Conference to be held Sunday beginning at 1 p.m.

Principal speaker for the meeting will be Fred W. Thacker, first vice commander of the Ohio department of the Legion. Committee chairmen from throughout the district will submit their reports to the conference.

Old Neighborhoods Eligible For Parks And Playgrounds

Old neighborhoods in Columbus are now eligible for parks and playgrounds under the Housing Act of 1955. The regulations controlling the application of the act have recently been released. The act requires that the request for the program must come from within the neighborhood needing such a program.

The act is primarily aimed at providing more public facilities to preserve old neighborhoods not having adequate playgrounds, parks and streets. A total of 10 million dollars for slum clearance and slum prevention is available to Columbus if the proper local action is taken.

The law which is a revision of the Housing Act of 1949 provides for slum prevention in addition to slum clearance. A two-thirds grant of funds will be made to cities putting up the necessary one-third in local funds, facilities or improvements.

Lawrence M. Irvin, Director of Slum Clearance and Rehabilitation Commission, said in regard to the new legislation, "Columbus citizens living in old neighborhoods should organize to take advantage of these neighborhood improvements. In many cases, Columbus has the necessary money available for obtaining the federal grants for slum prevention."

"These funds are available from previously voted bond issues or could be obtained from state funds available for streets. Individuals or organizations wishing to learn more about this program should contact the Slum Clearance and Rehabilitation Commission or the City Planning Commission," Irvin added.

Halloween Planners Top Fun Of Real Ghosts And Goblins

Witches, ghosts and goblins may be out in force on the night of Oct. 31, but if they're smart they'll follow the kids to West High School.

The Hilltop Community Council says that West High School is the place where Halloween fun will be centered.

A Halloween party, sponsored by 33 local organizations, will offer the kids, teenagers and their parents a variety of activities including a cartoon show, dance, halloween games and refreshments.

Originated by the community council in a effort to leave the usual Halloween havoc - raising strictly to the ghosts and goblins, these parties began in 1945. The number of members in the council have grown, in the party's 10-year history, from 11 to 33.

One of the favorite features of the annual event — a costume parade with prizes awarded to the winners — is to be held again this year. This costume parade has been sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association for the past nine years.

Specifically, plans for this year's Halloween party shape up as follows:

At 7 p. m. a cartoon show will begin for the kiddies and will last until 10 p. m. This feature is sponsored by the Hilltop YMCA.

PTA groups from all elementary schools will supply workers to supervise the "fish pond," and West High School Junior and Senior PTA will sell hot dogs and milk.

Girl Scout leaders will sell coffee and doughnuts as well as police the area.

Other groups, such as the Blue Star Mothers, will control the fortune-telling booth and hat bar.

The theme for this year's party is "Barrels of Fun, No Damage Done." It is scheduled for 7 p. m. on Monday, Oct. 31.

The dance, for all people over 12, will be held from 8:30 until 11 p. m.

Kiwanis' Halloween Window Painting Fete

Once again the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will sponsor the annual Halloween Window Painting Contest. Students from the 5th and 6th grades of the Hilltop schools will be eligible to participate.

In the near future application cards will be distributed through the schools. Students who want to paint a Hallowe'en scene on the window of a Hilltop business establishment should get the signed permission from the merchant. The permission slip is then returned to the school. Galloons of paint will be distributed during the week of Oct. 24-28.

Students should plan to have their Halloween scene completed by Saturday Oct. 29. Judging will be done on Sunday, Oct. 30. Prizes will be awarded to the winners on Monday, Oct. 31 at the Hilltop Community Council Halloween party to be held at West High School.

Jim Henery, chairman of the boys' and girls' committee of Hilltop Kiwanis announced that his group is busy getting ready for this project. Special help is being given by other Kiwanians: Paul Rausch, Bob Miller, Wally Bonnell, and Jim Holroyd, who will be chairmen of the judging committee.

Parris Now Proxy Of Y's Men's Club

Dewey Parris, 382 S. Roys-av, owner of the Columbus Brass Specialty Co., 253 S. Second-st, is the newly-elected president of the Hilltop Y's Men's Club, affiliate of the Hilltop Branch, YMCA. He had been serving as vice president of the organization.

Dewey Parris

He is a member of the YMCA's Indian Guides, the Powhattan Tribe; Foreman's Club, Camp Chase 96, American Legion and various Masonic organizations.

Parris and his wife, Jo, are parents of two sons and a daughter, Tommy, David and Dee.

Carriers Now In Stretch Drive For Awards

Hilltop Record carriers are beginning the final three-day stretch drive for subscriptions for this [illegible].

Numerous valuable awards, topped by a bicycle, will be given to carriers receiving the largest number of subscriptions—readers who agree to pay 20 cents a month for delivery of the newspaper to their doors each Wednesday afternoon.

Reports during the last week indicate that many Hilltoppers are taking an active interest in helping their carrier boys win one of the major awards.

All subscriptions received by the carriers up to and including Saturday noon will be credited to them in the contest.

Two $1 Insignia Are Found; Jackpot Value Now $27

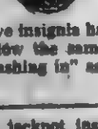
No puzzles to solve, no questions to answer, no tricks or gimmicks of any kind — two Hilltoppers discovered this week that winning "Confederate" dollars is just as easy as we promised.

Dorothy Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming, 323 S. Burgess-av, a junior at West High School, found a $1 insignia in an ad in her copy of the Record.

Mrs. Georgia Leibensperger of 309 S. Burgess-av, also was richer by one "Confederate" dollar, because of her observing eye.

Both winners brought their complete copies of the paper to The Hilltop Record office before noon on Saturday and exchanged them for crisp, new "Confederate" dollar bills to be spent with any merchant advertising in last week's Record.

The copy of the paper containing the big jackpot insignia went undiscovered once more, as did the other three copies with $1 insignia. Therefore, the value of this week's jackpot soars to $27.



Each week five dollars is added to the value of all undiscovered insignia from the previous week to make the new jackpot total. In addition, five other copies of the paper contain $1 insignia. Each and every week Hilltop Record readers have six opportunities to win.

Join your Hilltop neighbors and try your luck at playing our new game. Simply examine each ad as you read your copy of the paper. When you find a lucky insignia, follow the simple rules outlined in the accompanying box.

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it att once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $27 in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

Lions Bulb Sale Adds $1,328 To Club's Fund

In the recent Hilltop Lions Club light bulb sale, members turned out in full force and outsold all previous attempts. They sold 18,000 bulbs.

There were 84 men who circulated throughout the Hilltop carrying bags of bulbs under their arms. They made such a hit with residents that they sold $1,328 worth of light.

Last year the club netted only $400. Actually the Lions got out to sell the bulbs and brought in $1000, but some strange leopard got into the pack and stole $600 from the coffers and let the Lion fund go wanting.

Receipts of the sale will be used for community betterment. Instruments for the schools were bought by the club, eye testing charts and tape recorders for each grade school. The Lions have assisted the YMCA in sponsoring youth outings and other programs of interest to Hilltop youngsters.

Hard Time Dance Plans Now All Set

Plans have been completed for the annual Hilltop Business Association Fall Festival Hard Times dance. It will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 2, from 9 to 12 p. m. in the West High Gym.

Music will be furnished by Carl Hartley's orchestra. There will be both round and square dancing and free refreshments.

HBA members and guests are invited. Tickets are now being sold by the social committee planning the affair.

To Be, Or Not To Be College Trained, Many Hilltop Youth Seek Careers

The perennial question of attending college seemed to be on the minds of students on the Hilltop this week. Some of the boys and girls were very undecided while others indicated they knew just what course of training they would follow next.

A staff reporter of the Hilltop Record interviewed 17 Hilltop high school students and found that nine out of the 17 were planning on a future career including college.

"Do you plan on attending college after high school?" was the question asked.

A pert little 7th grader of North Franklin School indicated that she had given the question considerable thought. "I am undecided on my plans for the future," mused Willadene Harvey, 13, 303 Josephine-av, "but if I do go on to college, I like Ohio State University [illegible] it would be my choice of a really good school."

"My parents did not go to college," she added, "they want me to make my own decision."

"I may go to college," said Tom Noel, thoughtfully. "If I do, naturally I will go to OSU. It is my favorite school." Tom is the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Noel, 36 Midland-av. He is a 7th grade student at West Junior High School.

One of the most unusual reasons for not attending college was given by a lad 13 in the 8th grade at West.

HILLTOP BUSINESS ASSOCIATION PARADE

Thousands Of Blossoms Bloom Annually In 'Flower Factory'

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of stories about members of the Hilltop Business Association.)

If it were possible to assemble in your living room the yearly flower production of Mrs. Hazel Roberts, 303 Belvidere-av, you would be surrounded by about 13,500 blooming blossoms, give or take a few hundred.

Mrs. Roberts sells them, and about 85 per cent of that 13,500 total represents sales for decorating, floral arrangements and corsages in the Columbus area. The other 15 per cent were sold wholesale, she said.

In addition to the Hilltop Business Association, Mrs. Roberts is a member of Kiwanikwe, Gradale YMCA Sorority and the Glenwood Methodist Church. She devotes most of her time to managing Yost Florist. She took over the business and continued to operate it on a paying basis after the death of her husband, Curtis Roberts, in 1952.

"The business wasn't entirely new to me," said Mrs. Roberts. "I had worked here since my graduation from South High School in 1928. The bookkeeping and management were something new for me though."

Since Mrs Roberts assumed the managerial reigns, the business has continued to prosper. She has recently added another greenhouse, making a total of four "flower factories" producing the Yost Florist.

Hundreds of Items To Go To Highest Bidder At Saturday Auction

One of the most unique auctions ever held will get under way Saturday at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Prairie Township School, when approximately 300 items of widely varied descriptions will be sold to the highest bidder.

Sponsored by the West Franklin Kiwanis Club, proceeds from the auction will serve to replenish the organization's funds, most of which are used for various youth activities in the area which it serves. All items to be auctioned are being contributed.

Donations have come from far and wide and the great variety and unusualness of many of the items are expected to add a three-ring circus atmosphere to the affair.

Practically every business concern in West Franklin County, many from other areas, and numerous individuals have swelled the list of items to be auctioned.

Here are just a few: New five-room oil space heater, 80 pounds of fertilizer, new electric skillet, baled hay (and a horse to eat it), bull calf, baskets of groceries, half-hour airplane ride for three persons, 120 pounds of sugar, gallon of paint, new Frigidaire clothes dryer, and a bowl of goldfish. That's only a dozen and the number of equally unusual items will be well over 300.

Many Door Prizes

And, in addition to the articles to be auctioned, numerous door awards will be given throughout the evening. There is no admission charge of any kind to the auction sale.

Clarence Latham, chairman of auction committee of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club, and well known throughout Central Ohio as an auctioneer, will serve in this capacity at Saturday night's affair. He will be assisted by other members of the club.

Preceding the auction, between 5 and 7 p.m., a turkey dinner will be served by the eighth graders of the school and their mothers.

Movies for youngsters will be shown while their parents are attending the auction sale. Members of the Weskiwans will have a booth for serving refreshments.

DONATIONS ARE STILL BEING ACCEPTED

Additional contributions to the West Franklin Kiwanis Club auction sale will be welcome, according to club officials.

Those having items of value, new or used, which they desire to give, are asked to phone FR. 8-5892. Pickup arrangements will be made.

Democrats Rally Meet Is Scheduled

A joint Democratic rally meeting will be held Tuesday night, Oct. 25 at Bellows Avenue School auditorium, Green-st and Bellows-av, for the ninth, tenth, and eleventh wards.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, and all Democratic candidates for council and judges, will be present. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Frank A. Schneider, ninth ward committeeman is chairman of the meeting.

Twins Are Cheaper, But Not That Cheap!

In an advertisement of the Westgate Electric, appearing in last week's Hilltop Record, Westinghouse Laundromat and dryer twins were listed at $339.90 for both.

The regular price of $559.90 was also given and a saving of $160 was mentioned. Obviously a saving of $160 would make $399.90 the correct price for the twins—the price which should have appeared, but for a typographical error.

Republicans To Rally At City National Bank

The 11th Ward Republicans will hold a rally tonight in the assembly hall of the City National Bank and Trust Company, 3100 W. Broad-st.

U. S. Representative John M. Vorys, from this district, will be the principal speaker at the rally.

All Republican candidates in the forthcoming Nov. 8 elections will be present at the rally and will be introduced.

The entirely new front end, including a striking perforated mesh grille and built-in parking lights, and new rear fenders with built-in torrated taillight assembly, are but a few of the two dozen improvements in the thoroughly changed new line. This new De Soto is on display at Earl Sarver, Inc., 550 W. Broad-st.

In a statement issued by Shapter, the candidate pledged his efforts, if elected, to seek a solution to end traffic bottlenecks, further the use of parking facilities near the downtown area and utilize expressway bus transportation to end long waits at bus stops.

IT HAPPENED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

Dickens' Columbus Visit Recounted By Historian

By Gilbert F. Dodds

There was no notice given of the intended visit of the famous author, Charles Dickens, and his wife to Columbus in the autumn of 1842. The couple arrived by stagecoach from Cincinnati early one morning after an all night ride. We know of but one other town at which they stopped during the entire journey and that was Lebanon in Warren County.

Announcement of their visit was made in the local newspaper the next day. They dined at a Lebanon tavern, probably the famous Golden Lamb, although the local paper does not mention the tavern by name.

The visit to Columbus was announced and probably would have remained unknown had not the author himself, in his "American Notes," mentioned a "stagecoach ride from Cincinnati to Columbus and thence to Sandusky."

Speaking of Columbus, Dickens wrote: "We had excellent apartments in a very large unfinished hotel called the Neil House which were richly fitted with the polished wood of the black walnut, and opened on a handsome portico and stone verandah, like rooms in some Italian mansion."

Society Conducts Tour

A one-day bus tour of Highland, Adams and Ross Counties will be conducted by the Franklin County Historical Society Saturday, Oct. 22. This will be the first Autumn Pilgrimage outside of Franklin County and is expected to be the most colorful nature-wise.

Cost of the tour will be five dollars to members and six dollars to non-members and includes coffee which will be served at Serpent Mound Park at lunch time. Members take their own box lunches since there is no restaurant in the area. Reservations will be taken through Thursday and may be obtained by calling CA. 6071 during the day or HU. 6-3238 and AX. 4-1027, evenings.

Busses will leave the Greyhound bus terminal at 9:45 a. m. and will return to Columbus at 7 p. m. The arrival time is approximate.

First stop on the tour will be at Hillsboro, county seat of Highland County. Historic Hillsboro occupies a commanding site on seven hills, 783 feet above sea level. Here the tour party will be welcomed by the mayor, the editor of the town newspaper and by a representative of the public schools. A special attraction will be a tour of the Hillsboro Court House, one of the oldest and most picturesque in the state.

Second stop on the pilgrimage will be the famous Serpent Mound situated on a high bluff overlooking colorful Ohio Brush Creek in Adams County. Here in a spacious shelter house lunch will be eaten. Following this a tour of the largest and finest serpent effigy in the U. S. will be made. The greater portion of the body of the serpent is extended in seven deep curves nearly to the end of the elevated surface on which it lies. Partly within the jaws of the serpent is an oval mound of earth resembling an egg.

Next stop will be Fort Hill, one of the numerous earthworks in Ohio. This work occupies the top of an isolated hill covered with forest and extends in all directions. The top of the hill is nearly a level plateau of 35 acres, enclosed by an embankment of earth and stone. It was undoubtedly meant for a work of defense.

Last stop on the pilgrimage will be "Massie's Mansion" built in 1800 by Gen. Nathaniel Massie on his farm near the Paint Creek Falls in Ross County. This is one of the most interesting and historic homes in the Scioto Valley. The return journey will be down the picturesque Paint Creek Valley to Route 104 and then to Columbus and home.

A prize will be awarded to the member of the tour party who takes the best Kodachrome shot during the tour. Color, exposure and composition will be considered by a judging committee made up of expert amateur photographers in Columbus. In the event of a tie duplicate awards will be made. Prize or prizes will be presented at the Society's seventh annual meeting, Nov. 9.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

From The Bible

For what is man advantaged if he gain the whole world and lose himself, or be cast away?—(St. Luke 9, 25.)

No matter how much wealth or fame a man may accumulate, there will come times, often in the depth of the night, when he realizes how alone, how lost, how cast away he is when he has rejected God, the source of all good, all love.

Forman Urges Mayor-Council Cooperation

A speech was given on Oct. 12 at the home of Clifford E. Garwick, 668 Chesterahire-rd, by Robert T. Forman, candidate for city council. In the speech, Forman brought out that he favors building sidewalks in the vicinity of Westgate and St. Mary Magdaline Schools. He added that although he felt sidewalks vital in the areas near the school, he found no need for building them where there are no children.

Forman concluded his speech by calling for greater cooperation between the mayor and council. He said "the continuing feuding has been hard on the city and the present city council has rotten the reputation of disagreeing and obstructing just for the sake of disagreement." He plans on instituting regular planning meetings between the mayor and council, at which points of view could be exchaged and efforts made to iron out differences, if elected.

Franklin Township To Try Landfill Garbage Program

Franklin Township is soon to be included in the county's landfill program for collection of trash and garbage, Carl Melvin, director of the project, has announced.

The program, already set up, will go into operation as soon as county commissioners schedule a public hearing.

Details of the program were worked out by Melvin and Desso T. Mitchell, county sanitary engineer. A specially built truck has been purchased for garbage collection, Melvin said, and another will probably be needed later.

Each property in the area will be notified of the public hearing if the project is approved in Franklin Township.

For weekly garbage and refuse pickup, the current rate of collection is $1 per month per home. The bills are sent out semi-annually.

At present, the landfill project extends to all of Marion, Mifflin and Truro Townships, two portions of Hamilton and Madison Townships, and the program is still expanding rapidly.

When the project began in Aug., 1952, it was financed by revenue bonds. Now it is self-sustaining and presently employs 15 persons.

Junior Y-Teen News

The 9th grade Y-Teens Club held its first meeting of the year on Oct. 4, 1955. Its president, Janet Gove, presided at the meeting at West High School.

They discussed plans for the coming year and welcomed the new members. Some of the highlights of the year for all of the Y-Teen members in the city of Columbus are: the Junior Jamboree in October, World Fellowship Recognition Service in November and the Christmas Party in December.

It looks like a good year for the 9th grade Y-Teens.

Great Western Center Has Three Stores Open

Two shoe stores, Crosby Shoe Store and Schiff Shoe Store, were opened during the ceremonies, as well as Richmond Bros. Clothing Co. Other stores will be opening during the next few weeks, according to Don M. Casto, developer.

Harriers Win Opening Meet

The West High Harriers opened their 1955 cross-country schedule with a very impressive win over Upper Arlington 15 to 44. The Cowboys scored 15 points which is the lowest possible score as they captured the first five positions. Art Slate led the pack with a time of 11 minutes 36.6 seconds. The other two returning lettermen, Woody Waltman and John Kuntz finished second and third while Jim Kerr took fourth, Bob Alt fifth, Gene Russell seventh, John Hartigan eighth, Jim Allen tenth and Bill Pruitt eleventh.

On Sept. 29 the West High two-milers ran up against a tough East squad and came out on the long end of a 38 to 19 score. The Tigers' Malcolm Potts finished first with a time of 10 minutes 53.9 seconds in. Art Slate of West ran a close second with a time of 10 minutes 57 seconds. East then took the next four positions to hand the Cowboys their first dual meet loss since [redacted].

Worthington made it two straight losses as they defeated West 22 to 37 on Oct. 6. Russell of Worthington was clocked at 10:49.8 to take top honors while his teammate finished second. Art Slate and Woody Waltman led the Cowboys by taking third and fourth places respectively.

West evened up the won-lost column Tuesday, Oct. 11, by defeating Mansfield 26 to 29 at Ramond Memorial Golf Course. Art Slate was first as he clocked 10:46.6, his best time this year.

Great Books Group Meets Here Friday

Members are still being accepted into the group which will meet every other Friday from 8 to 10 p. m. Galvy Gordon, public relations director of the Public Library, will be discussion leader for the series.

Co-sponsors for the program are the Hilltop YMCA and the YWCA Hilltop Center.

The Fashion Stage

By Molly Hunt

Curtain going up on October fashions at West High School!

We find that our stage is set in the ever lasting fall hues of changing leaves. Everyone seems eager to get into winter clothes and a complete new wardrobe cast has taken the spotlight.

Soft wool and jersey sheath dresses are very becoming with brightly colored cardigans, and jumpers found in the same material are being worn with print blouses and jerseys.

Since a moderate turtle neck is coming back in style a cute idea is to find scatter pins fastened together with a chain (such as animals) and pin them around the neck.

Knickers have been added to the many variations of girls' slacks. They are a toreador with a slight bloomer effect and tied just below the knee in a knot.

As for fall footwear girls are shod again with immaculate (we hope) white bucks, saddles, and suede loafers of all different colors. Boys are wearing crossed argyles with colors accentuating both the top and bottom of the outfit.

Dances are going to be important, especially with Homecoming right around the corner, and this calls for semi-formal. The West Hi man might wear a dress suit in somber shades with matching tie and shirt complimenting the undertones.

Dresses both full and sheath of brocaded faille, wools, taffetas, will adorn the young lady and of course, heels and earrings, but don't forget that the simplest outfit can be the most charming.

Curtain going down!

Broncos Game Close, Spilled By Panthers 16 To 12

Buck Pemberton's West High gridders played one of their best games of the year last Friday at Linden McKinley, only to have victory slip from their grasp in the final two minutes as the host Panthers came out on top 16-12.

A sturdy West defense headed by game captain George Wiehlen, end, Ray Williams; tackle, Ed Richardson, and fullback, Gary Wissinger knuckled down when the going got tough and turned in a good job despite the 16 points.

Linden received the kickoff and marched to the West 24 before surrendering the pigskin to the hands on downs.

The Bronco under the direction of quarterback Bill Spratley moved to mid-field before being forced to kick. Spratley's boot went to Linden's Byron Riffle on the Panther 28. He fumbled as he was hit and the locals' Dave Randall speared it out of the air and advanced it to the 16.

Three plays carried it to the seven but Randall's fourth down effort at tackle failed to pick up the first down and Linden took over.

On the first play, 185-pound fullback Larry Haase broke off his own left tackle and electrified the crowd with a 84-yard gallop to pay dirt, eluding Ray Williams' tremendous effort to catch him.

Johnny Campbell's placement ment made it 7-0.

The Cowboys refused to fold, however, as they came back strong to subdue the Panthers the remainder of the half without much difficulty.

West's defense continued to be stubborn in the third quarter, forcing Linden's Jerry Whitacre to kick from his own 47. His kick apparently was touched by a West player before it rolled into the end zone and the Broncs' Jerry Keyes attempted to run it out, only to be nailed for a safety. The count was 9-0 with 10:12 left in the third canto.

A few seconds later the Cowboys pounced on a Panther bobble on the West 25 and began to move.

With Spratley pulling the trigger and Randall, Nebinger and Bob Ackerman carrying the mail, the Buckaroos moved to the Panther one-yard mark in 14 plays. The drive was executed without the aid of a forward pass as the locals were content to grind out the yardage on the ground.

Nebinger got the touchdown as he slammed off-tackle with 1:22 left in the third period.

Dick Furry's kick was no good and the score stood at 9-8.

Linden fumbled on the first play after the kick-off and an alert Williams gobbled it up for the Hilltoppers on the Panther 41.

Nebinger went up the middle for two and Ackerman crashed for nine at tackle as the third quarter came to a close.

Randall opened the final period by churning 12 yards to the 18. Spratley hit Dick Furry with an aerial and the sykscraper Cowboy end was downed on the three. On the next play Randall bulled his way in for the score with nine minutes remaining.

Furry's boot was blocked but the locals led 12-9 (first time they'd led since the opening game).

The drive covered 41 yards and the Cowboys turned the trick in seven plays.

This time the host club came roaring back as they took the ball on their own 39 and marched straight down the field to the Cowboys' one in 14 plays. The Broncs' line plied up a quarterback sneak attempt for no gain, but halfback Lanny Garkalis drove into the end zone on the next play to snatch the victory from the Westerners.

The clock showed 1:59 remaining as Campbell's kick made the score 16-12.

The locals' Bob Ackerman gave the fans a bit of a thrill as he took the following kickoff on his own five and almost broke away as he returned it 30 yards. Two plays later, however, the Broncs lost the ball on a fumble and that was that.

West Broad Captures Lead In Touch Football League

West Broad took over undisputed possession of first place in the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Touch Football League Saturday as they defeated Westgate 20-0.

The first half of the game was scoreless as both teams intercepted each others passes and action was limited to midfield. West Broad took a 6-0 lead on a pass from Glen Rohrer to Dan Snyder.

The score remained the same until the last two minutes of the game when Bob Dent intercepted a Westgate aerial and returned it 20 yards. Rohrer again flipped a pass to Snyder to make it 12-0. Rohrer hit Duane Sheets with an areial for the extra point. Another intercepted pass by Dent and a pass from Rohrer to Snyder made it 19-0. The final point came on a pass to Sheets.

In the other game played, John Burroughs beat West Mound 25-0. Ray Barnes took the opening kickoff and ran 30 yards for the first score of the game. A pass from Larry Smith to Bob Nelson made the score 13-0.

A long pass from Smith to Tim Weisert set up the next score which came on a pass from Smith to Bob Nelson. Barnes hit Roger Nelson with another TD throw to make it 19-0.

John Burroughs concluded its scoring with another pass from Barnes to Bob Ralph.

	W	L
John Burroughs	1	1
Westgate	0	1
West Mound	0	2

When ousted, Dictator Juan Peron was in the midst of transforming an entire eight-story apartment building into a "love palace" to house teen-age girls, according to a spokesman for the provisional Argentine government.

Haire-Pens

West's offense began to come alive against Linden as West collected 206 yards and also completed four out of nine aerials . . . Linden picked up 280 yards (96 in one mammoth gulp) although the Cowboys allowed them only 12 yards in the third period . . . The Cowboy also collected a season high 12 first downs. Linden chalked up nine. . . . In the bobble department, the locals fumbled twice, losing both, while Linden lost four of their five miscues . . . This week the Cowboys have their work cut out for them as they play host to the state's fifth-ranking team, Columbus East. The undefeated Tigers have walked over such opponents as Newark and Central with ease and it looks like the Cowboys will have to be shooting both barrels if they expect to bag any Tigers Friday.

Columbus Day Sees Grade School Students Out In Force, Classes Compile Scrapbook

Luisa Stefanelli, second grade pupil in Mrs. Dale Bates' class, John Burroughs School, was among those who celebrated Columbus Day as a native of Italy and a resident of Columbus.

Luisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luciano Stefanelli, 133 S. Terrace-av, has been in the United States two years.

A scrapbook of life in Columbus will be sent to the C. Battisti School in Genoa, Italy, by pupils of the third and fourth grades.

Teachers supervising the project are Mrs. Hazel Clemens, Irene Taylor, Marilyn Anthony, Mrs. Pearl Pogle, Mrs. Iris Wimer and Mrs. Lois Fitch for the third grades, and Margaret Barclay, Bessie Stovall, Marilyn Nolan and Katherine Hebbert for the fourth grades.

In the Gra-Y touch football league, West Broad Cobaal took an 8-0 victory from John Burroughs School.

Two plays after the opening kickoff, Co-Captain Dave Snider, West Broad, trapped Captain Ray Barnes, John Burroughs over the goal for a safety.

Then, with 32 seconds left in the game, Halfback Dave Snider caught a pass in the end zone for a touchdown. With no time for the try for extra point, the score remained 8-0, West Broad.

Upper grades at John Burroughs are engaging in interclass competition. Most recent game was between two sixth grades, classes of Stella Schart and Sam Simon.

Although Bill Green, pitcher for Miss Schart's room, hit two home runs, the final score was 15 to ., favor Mr. Simon's team.

A display case on the first floor hall of John Burroughs School is currently filled with treasured possessions of the pupils.

A sword display includes a World War I German bayonet, owned by Mike Simpson; a World War II Germany bayonet owned by Ricky Combs; a U.S. Navy sword, brought by Steve Wolf; and a U.S. sword used in World War I.

An arrowhead collection belonging to Eddie Huhn displays 26 arrowheads which were found in Ohio. A rare Bible, printed in Germany in 1704, contributed by Roberta Miller, is the oldest dated item in the display.

Other items include an 1879 telephone brought by Eddie Huhn; an 1850 kerosene lamp and old American coins owned by Paul Bradley Brown; an antique pewter sugar bowl, loaned by James Whipple; and a collection of old keys displayed by John Evaline.

Mrs. Phyllis Ann Barnard supervises planning these displays.

"I have no define plans for the future," said Bill Orme and Carol Ball. Bill, 12, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Vern Orme, 67 Midland-av, a 7th grade student at West. Carol, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Ball ,223 N. Oakley-av, a 11th grade student at West.

Missionary zeal and spirit was expressed by Nancy Creemer, 125 S. Highland-av. "I plan on attending the Apostolic Bible Institute in St. Paul, Minn. From there I want to go on to become a missionary," she said.

The 11th grade student at West continued, "Although my parents did not attend college, they have encouraged me to go on to college."

Nancy's younger sister Judy, 15, a 10th grade student at West had entirely different plans from her sister. "I plan on going to OSU to become an architect," she insisted.

Service life has left its adventurous pang with Barbara Van Lue, 14, 191 Belvidere-av. "I want to enter service," she said, "to become either a WAC or WAVE."

"OSU is the school for me, I plan on going to a good college and that is the one," said David Van Lue, 13, 191 Belvidere-av.

The strange world of stenographic symbols and the clackity-clack of the typewriter are found to be interesting to Beverly Wright 13, 146 S. Highland-av. This 8th grader from West said, "I want to go to college and become a secretary. I have not decided which college I will attend yet." Her twin sister Carol, also plans on a college education, but has not decided on her program or college.

"I have not decided which college I will attend, but I want secretarial training," said Clara Unger, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Unger, 33 N. Wheatland-av, an 8th grade West student.

"I plan on going to work after high school," said Shirley Chesser, 17, 194 N. Wayne-av. She is an 11A at West. Her sister Mary, 14, is a 10B at West and she plans on becoming a nurse. Mary indicated no plans for college yet.

"I plan on attending Capital University to become an elementary teacher," said Helen Zielke, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Zielke, 254 N. Wayne-av. She is a 10B at West.

"I want to become an architect and I plan on attending OSU for my college training," said William Harvey, 12, 109 S. Wheatland-av. "Since both of my parents went to college, their example has influenced me in my future plans." Harvey is a 7th grade West Student.

Mike Reinhard, 15, 168 S. Terrace-av, a 10th grader at Aquinas, said he plans on attending the OSU College of Journalism. He said he picked this university because it is near home. Although his parents did not attend college, they both are encouraging him to attend, he said.

Broncos Game Close, Spilled By Panthers 16 To 12

Mack Pemberton's West High griddars played one of their best games of the year last Friday at Linden McKinley, only to have victory slip from their grasp in the final two minutes as the host Panthers came out on top 16-12.

A sturdy West defense headed by game captain George [illegible], Ray Williams; tackle, [illegible], and fullback, Gary [illegible] knuckled down when the going got tough and turned in a good job despite the 16 points.

Linden received the kickoff and marched to the West 24 before surrendering the pigskin to the locals on downs.

The Broncs under the direction of quarterback Bill Spratley moved to mid-field before being forced to kick. Spratley's boot went to Linden's Byron Riffle on the Panther 32. He fumbled as he was hit and the locals' Dave Randall speared it out of the air and advanced it to the 16.

Three plays carried it to the seven but Randall's fourth down effort at tackle failed to pick up the first down and Linden took over.

On the first play, 185-pound fullback Larry Haase broke off his own left tackle and electrified the crowd with a 94-yard gallop to pay? dirt, eluding Ray Williams' tremendous effort to catch him.

Johnny Campbell's placement ment made it 7-0.

The Cowboys refused to fold, however, as they came back strong to subdue the Panthers the remainder of the half without much difficulty.

West's defense continued to be stubborn in the third quarter, forcing Linden's Jerry Whitacre to kick from his own 47. His kick apparently was touched by a West player before it rolled into the end zone and the Bronco' Jerry Keyes attempted to run it out, only to be nailed for a safety. The count was 9-0 with 10:12 left in the third canto.

A few seconds later the Cowboys pounced on a Panther bobble on the West 25 and began to move.

With Spratley pulling the trigger and Randall, Nebinger and Bob Ackerman carrying the mail, the Buckaroos moved to the Panther one-yard mark in 14 plays. The drive was executed without the aid of a forward pass as the locals were content to grind out the yardage on the ground.

Nebinger got the touchdown as he slammed off-tackle with 1:22 left in the third period.

Dick Furry's kick was no good and the score stood at 9-8.

Linden fumbled on the first play after the kick-off and an alert Williams gobbled it up for the Hilltoppers on the Panther 41.

Nebinger went up the middle for two and Ackerman crashed for nine at tackle as the third quarter came to a close.

Randall opened the final period by churning 13 yards to the 18. Spratley hit Dick Furry with an aerial and the sykscraper Cowboy end was downed on the three. On the next play Randall bulled his way in for the score with nine minutes remaining.

Furry's boot was blocked but the locals led 12-9 (first time they'd led since the opening game).

The drive covered 41 yards and the Cowboys turned the trick in seven plays.

This time the host club came roaring back as they took the ball on their own 20 and marched straight down the field to the Cowboys' one in 14 plays. The Broncs' line plied up a quarterback sneak attempt for no gain, but halfback Lanny Gaskalla drove into the end zone on the next play to snatch the victory from the Westerners.

The clock showed 1:39 remaining as Campbell's kick made the score 16-12.

The locals' Bob Ackerman gave the fans a bit of a thrill as he took the following kickoff on his own five and almost broke away as he returned it 30 yards. Two plays later, however, the Broncs lost the ball on a fumble and that was that.

West Broad Captures Lead In Touch Football League

West Broad took over undisputed possession of first place in the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Touch Football League Saturday as they defeated Westgate 20-0.

The first half of the game was scoreless as both teams intercepted each others passes and action was limited to midfield. West Broad took a 6-0 lead on a pass from Glen Rohrer to Dan Snyder.

The score remained the same until the last two minutes of the game when Bob Dent intercepted a Westgate aerial and returned it 20 yards. Rohrer again flipped a pass to Snyder to make it 12-0. Rohrer hit Duane Sheets with an aerial for the extra point. Another intercepted pass by Dent and a pass from Rohrer to Snyder made it 19-0. The final point came on a pass to Sheets.

In the other game played, John Burroughs beat West Mound 25-0. Ray Barnes took the opening kickoff and ran 30 yards for the first score of the game. A pass from Larry Smith to Bob Nelson made the score 13-0.

A long pass from Smith to Tim Weisert set up the next score which came on a pass from Smith to Bob Nelson. Barnes hit Roger Nelson with another TD throw to make it 19-0.

John Burroughs concluded its scoring with another pass from Barnes to Bob Ralph.

The standings are:

	W	L
John Burroughs	1	1
Westgate	0	1
West Mound	0	2

When ousted, Dictator Juan Peron was in the midst of transforming an entire eight-story apartment building into a "love palace" to house teen-age girls, according to a spokesman for the provisional Argentine government.

Haire-Pens

West's offense began to come alive against Linden as West collected 206 yards and also completed four out of nine aerials . . . Linden picked up 230 yards (96 in one mammoth gulp) although the Cowboys allowed them only 13 yards in the third period . . . The Cowboy also collected a season high 12 first downs. Linden chalked up nine . . . In the bobble department, the locals fumbled twice, losing both, while Linden lost four of their five miscues . . . This week the Cowboys have their work cut out for them as they play host to the state's fifth-ranking team, Columbus East. The undefeated Tigers have walked over such opponents as Newark and Central with ease and it looks like the Cowboys will have to be shooting both barrels if they expect to bag any Tigers Friday.

Homecoming Dance Scheduled At West High

"Rhythm Is Red" will be the theme of the annual homecoming dance sponsored by West High School's Alumni Association.

The event will be held on Oct. 28, in the West High gymnasium, from 9 till 12 p. m. Music will be furnished by the Ernie Wolfe Quintet, which has recently finished an engagement in Hollywood.

All West High School alumni may purchase alumni tickets which entitle them to attend the homecoming game on Oct. 27 as well as the dance.

Admission for students and guests has been set up at $1.75 per couple or $1 per person.

Queen Jill Ogden and her court, Barbara Druar, Ruth Evans, Frances Athey and Judy Matson, will be crowned during the intermission festivities.

New officers for the alumni association will be announced and presented to the audience. Candidates for offices in the association will be announced in the Oct. 26 issue of The Hilltop Record.

Not everything that happens is published in the newspapers, for which everyone can be thankful.

Columbus Day Sees Grade School Students Out In Force, Classes Compile Scrapbook

Luisa Stefanelli, second grade pupil in Mrs. Dale Bates' class, John Burroughs School, was among those who celebrated Columbus Day as a native of Italy and a resident of Columbus.

Luisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luciano Stefanelli, 133 S. Terrace-av, has been in the United States two years.

A scrapbook of life in Columbus will be sent to the C. Battisti School in Genoa, Italy, by pupils of the third and fourth grades.

Teachers supervising the project are Mrs. Hazel Clemens, Irene Taylor, Marilyn Anthony, Mrs. Pearl Pogie, Mrs. Iris Wimer and Mrs. Lois Fitch for the third grades, and Margaret Barclay, Bessie Stovall, Marilyn Nolan and Katherine Hubbert for the fourth grades.

In the Gra-Y touch football league, West Broad Cehasi took an 8-0 victory from John Burroughs School.

Two plays after the opening kickoff, Co-Captain Dave Snider, West Broad, trapped Captain Ray Barnes, John Burroughs over the goal for a safety.

Then, with 53 seconds left in the game, Halfback Dave Snider caught a pass in the end zone for a touchdown. With no time for the try for extra point, the score remained 8-0, West Broad.

Upper grades of John Burroughs are engaging in interclass competition. Most recent game was between two sixth grades, classes of Stella Schart and Sam Simon.

Although Bill Green, pitcher for Miss Schart's room, hit two home runs, the final score was 15 to ., favor Mr. Simon's team.

A display case on the first floor hall of John Burroughs School is currently filled with treasured possessions of the pupils.

A sword display includes a World War I German bayonet, owned by Mike Simpson; a World War II Germany bayonet owned by Ricky Combs; a U.S. Navy sword, brought by Steve Wolf; and a U.S. sword used in World War I.

An arrowhead collection belonging to Eddie Huhn displays 36 arrowheads which were found in Ohio. A rare Bible, printed in Germany in 1704, contributed by Roberta Miller, is the oldest dated item in the display.

Other items include an 1879 telephone brought by Eddie Huhn; an 1850 kerosene lamp and old American coins owned by Paul Bradley Brown; an antique pewter sugar bowl, loaned by James Whipple; and a collection of old keys displayed by John Evaline.

Mrs. Phyllis Ann Barnard supervises planning these displays.

harder," announced Randy Rife, 64 Midland-av.

"I have no define plans for the future," said Bill Orme and Carol Ball. Bill, 12, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Vern Orme, 67 Midland-av, a 7th grade student at West. Carol, 13, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Ball, 232 N. Oakley-av, a 11th grade student at West.

Missionary zeal and spirit was expressed by Nancy Creamer, 125 S. Highland-av. "I plan on attending the Apostolic Bible Institute in St. Paul, Minn. From there I want to go on to become a missionary," she said.

The 11th grade student at West continued, "Although my parents did not attend college, they have encouraged me to go on to college."

Nancy's younger sister Judy, 15, a 10th grade student at West had entirely different plans from her sister. "I plan on going to OSU to become an architect," she insisted.

Service life has left its adventurous pang with Barbara Van Lue, 14, 191 Belvidere-av. "I want to enter service," she said, "to become either a WAC or WAVE."

"OSU is the school for me. I plan on going to a good college and that is the one," said David Van Lue, 13, 191 Belvidere-av.

The strange world of stenographic symbols and the clackity-clack of the typewriter are found to be interesting to Beverly Wright 13, 148 S. Highland-av. This 8th grader from West said, "I want to go to college and become a secretary. I have not decided which college I will attend yet." Her twin sister Carol, also plans on a college education, but has not decided on her program or college.

"I have not decided which college I will attend, but I want secretarial training," said Clara Unger, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Unger, 33 N. Wheatland-av, an 8th grade West student.

"I plan on going to work after high school," said Shirley Chesser, 17, 194 N. Wayne-av. She is an 11A at West. Her sister Mary, 14, is a 10B at West and she plans on becoming a nurse. Mary indicated no plans for college yet.

"I plan on attending Capital University to become an elementary teacher," said Helen Zielke, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Zielke, 284 N. Wayne-av. She is a 10B at West.

"I want to become an architect and I plan on attending OSU for my college training," said William Harvey, 12, 109 S. Wheatland-av. "Since both of my parents went to college, their example has influenced me in my future plans." Harvey is a 7th grade West Student.

Mike Reinhard, 15, 168 S. Terrace-av, a 10th grader at Aquinas, said he plans on attending the OSU College of Journalism. He said he picked this university because it is near home. Although his parents did not attend college, they both are encouraging him to attend, he said.

Glenwood Adult League To Operate Again This Year

Glenwood Recreation Center will again carry on an adult basketball league this year under the auspices of the Glenwood Athletic Club. The league is for men 19 years of age and older.

This year the league games will be played on Fridays, from 8 to 10 p.m. There will be space available for eight teams with a $30 entry fee for each team. The entry fee will cover the cost of officials and awards, and the remainder will be used to purchase a franchise for the Glenwood A.C. basketball team.

League play will start Nov. 18, so all teams interested in joining the league should contact Glenwood Recreation Center, BR. 4-7416, immediately and register for one of the remaining league openings.

At the Oct. 12 meeting of the Glenwood Teen Club election of officers was held. The new officers for this term will be Beth Grogan, president; Donna Liston, vice-president; Paul Woodruff, secretary; Joanne McAndrews, treasurer; and Gary Walters, sergeant-at-arms.

Youths Attack Store Owner Take $71 And Trousers Too

Four youths, estimated to be between 15-20 years old, attacked and robbed Joseph N. Pieros, 60, owner of the Highland Wine Store, 2277 W. Broad-st, about 4 p. m. Monday.

The robbery occurred, Pieros said, after one of the youths dropped a bottle of pop and Pieros went to the rear of the store for a mop. "It was then that the four jumped me," he explained.

One of the youths began pulling Pieros' hip pocket. "He jerked," the store owner said, "and pulled out my wallet. The left side of my trousers came off with it."

The billfold contained $60. The youths also emptied the cash register on their way out. Pieros said it contained about $9. The wallet was appraised by the store owner at $2.

"Two of them had come in to buy some pop," said Pieros. "They loitered about for a while and then left. Then the other two came in, and were joined shortly by the first two."

Pieros said that he did not chase the robbers because his leg was exposed to an indecent degree. Pieros was able to call police through the efforts of a passer-by, Nancy Creamer, 126 S. Highland-av.

"I told her I had been robbed and to go over to the fire house across the street and have the firemen call the police," said Pieros.

The police arrived in about five minutes, Pieros added. They took him to Mt. Carmel Hospital, but after routine questioning and first aid, returned him to his store.

Pieros gave the police descriptions of three members of the gang which closely resembled descriptions of three youths who beat and robbed Okey E. Johnson, 78, of 139 S. Eureka-av, in a garage at the rear of 2239 W. Broad-st, last Thursday.

Pieros said that the youths fled west on Broad-st and south on Wheatland-av. Three wore jackets and the fourth wore a checkered shirt. He added that three of them were rather small, while the fourth was tall, slender and tow-headed.

Miss Creamer said that one of the youths winked at her as he left the store. She was unable to remember that one of them wore a blue jacket with a football-like emblem which read "National Jewelers."

Self-Contained Classes Started At West

Three years ago a system known as self-contained classes was developed at West. By this system, English, geography, and citizenship are taught by one teacher to the same group of students. To date there are ten sections of these classes in this school.

The aim of the self-contained class system is to help the 7B adjust to his new surroundings and better prepare him for high school.

Seemingly more is achieved in these classes. Such activities as learning the history of the English language and memorizing and reciting classical poems can be taken up. Even art work, which may better help the student understand his lesson, is done.

Consequently, these classes help the teacher get to know and understand the pupil and the pupil is helped to overcome shyness.

Sales Tax Show Shapes Up

The Sales Tax show will be held the first part of December and will include the dance and music numbers, comic and novelty acts, singing and instrumental bits and of course the Master of Ceremonies.

The West High Dance Band will furnish background and feature music. The many new acts will be from both Junior and Senior High Schools and will do their stuff in two day shows and an evening show for adults. The admission price will be the same ten dollars worth of Sales Tax Stamps or $.50. Watch for more news on this later.

Radio Students Have Well Rounded Background On Job

"This is WHS, your West High Broadcasting Station." That's a common phrase around West halls and classrooms. Being a very new course at West High, many students are curious about what goes on in the little glass cage on the second floor. Let's investigate the matter.

Not only do the radio students study speaking, but all of them are able to operate the controls throughout the school. Much emphasis is placed on creativeness. When a broadcast is to be done, a student director is appointed. The director is the executive of the whole department, concerning the broadcast. He assigns writers and engineers and selects his cast. For each broadcast hours are spent typing script and rehearsing. Actually by the time each radio student completes a year, he really has a well rounded radio background.

The beginning radio class is taught a strict set of rules which are followed to the letter. They have instructions on all equipment and then are ready for action. Everyone writes scripts which are cast and taped. Gradually they learn to take over the advanced class work.

The advanced radio class is one of varied talents and interests. Several members of the class are top engineers and are strictly interested in the technical phase of radio. Some are very good writers and all of them are "hams" when they stand in front of a mike. Among the interesting things the advanced students have done this year were taped interviews with Chet Long and Mayor Sensenbrenner.

Even though radio is undoubtedly hard work, every member of the class agrees that it's worth it many times over, when an assignment is completed and the petite instructor, Mrs. Hall says, "Well done." tor, Evelyn A. Hall says, "Well done." Then they all grin from ear to ear.

It's a smart child who understands her parents.

Dedication—

Rev. Glendon Thacker, pastor of Brown Road Community Church, gave the invocation. Honored guests were introduced and Paul Wichterman, clerk of the township board of trustees, gave a report on the fire department.

Major address of the program was given by Franklin County Probate Court Judge Roscoe R. Walcutt. The judge lauded the neighborly cooperation between rural residents, and particularly praised the spirit of the volunteer firemen who grouped together to give the citizens of Franklin Township protection from what he termed, "the most dreaded thing to country folks — fire."

Wichterman, in his report on the fire department, said that in its four years of operation, it had received 864 fire alarms. He added that the emergency squad, in one year of answering calls, had responded to 568.

Chief Moffitt presented awards to three emergency squadmen who donated more than 900 hours of service. The three are: Jim Thompson, Marty Swingle and Tom Davis.

Souvenir balloons were given to the children present and a door prize was presented.

Firemen displayed trucks and other equipment in front of the fire house.

Besides the Headquarters Building at 4100 Sullivant-av, the Franklin Township Fire Department has companies located at 2196 Frankrd in Briggsdale and 3266 McKinley-av.

Grove City Appears To OK Merger

Although Grove City-Jackson Board of Education had voted 3-2 against the proposed consolidation of six school districts in Franklin County, this probably will not be the board's final opinion, according to the superintendent's office.

The board clerk, Mrs. Davis, commented that the vote came at the end of a long, busy meeting, and that several of the members were very tired and had not been given an opportunity to study the proposal. She added that members have attended the different community meetings since and have recognized the advantages of such a merger. She states that now there is a "tendancy towards a favorable attitude by the board of the proposal, even though they had voted in opposition of the bill.

So far, Grove City-Jackson is the only school of the six schools involved which has expressed any opposition to the merger of the school districts. Prairie, Franklin, Urbancrest, Pleasant, and Georgesville school boards all have voted unanimously in favor of the proposal which will appear on the November ballot.

Community meetings are being scheduled in the different school districts to acquaint the voters with the issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hastings To Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary With Reception And Tea

The golden anniversary of their wedding day will be celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Hastings, 150 S. Westmoor-av on Sunday, Oct. 23. An open house reception and tea will be held in their honor at the home of their son, David E., 341 Guernsey-av, from 2 to 5 p. m.

Events of this year will make 1955 memorable for the couple, for they have not only achieved a half-century of married life, but Mr. Hastings' retirement on Aug. 1 marked the end of a 62-year career as a printer. He was also publisher of the Hilltop Record from 1936 to 1938.

The former Gertrude Graham travelled to Fresno in 1906, where Mr. Hastings had accepted a job as a linotype operator and the couple were married there on Oct. 25.

They soon returned to the Hilltop and on New Year's Day, 1914, moved into the house at 33 N. Ogden-av, their home for the next 33 years. They have lived in their Westmoor-av home for the past three years.

The couple has been members of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church since 1914. Mr. Hastings serves the church as an elder and Mrs. Hastings sang in the choir for 19 years and taught Sunday School

Mr. Hastings is also a charter member of the Luther B. Turner Lodge, F&AM and belongs to the Typographical Union.

The couple has another son, James H. of Hilliards; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Jones, 33 S. Ogden-av and Mrs. Norman Line, 181 S. Southhampton-av, and nine grandchildren.

In addition to caring for her home, Mrs. Hastings makes all her own clothes. Her husband devotes much of his spare time to his woodworking hobby and his garden, with its lovely roses and crysanthemums, is the envy of many a younger man.

Retirement for the Hastings doesn't mean a less interesting and active life. Both are just as busy with continuing interest in their community, church friends and families. Their time and energy are now devoted to pastimes and activities of their choice.

No 'Slightly Damaged' Stocks Have Contributed to Our 20 Years' Success
We just don't believe in attempting to peddle "distress" merchandise to our customers. Rugs and carpeting are like meats and groceries — inferior products sell for less because of lower quality. They must be reduced in price to move from the shelves.
Almost every housewife recognizes value in her everyday purchases, but not too many are versed in rug and carpeting values. She must depend upon the seller's reputation for honest dealing. Our 20 years in business and thousands of satisfied customers is your guarantee of getting quality merchandise at a fair price.

With Peg Warren:

About The Hilltop

The United Appeal campaign is nearing the end. Due to Columbus being the second fastest growing city in the country, various agency members of the UA need dollars and support to keep pace with the times. Your giving reflects kindness for the less fortunate, up's the moral of the workers and helps to make this city the best place to live.

Former Hilltopper Martha Redding is back to stay. She is residing in Brookshire Addition . . . In the late spring of this year, Beverly Nafzger and Bill Hayes exchanged nuptial vows in a quiet ceremony in Indiana . . . The Ralph Meyers' daughter, Arlenne, will marry Francis Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Doyle, Saturday, Oct. 29, in St. Agnes Church. Following the wedding ceremony a breakfast and reception will be held at Mrs. Root's Party House. Mr. Doyle is an assistant buyer at Morehouse-Fashion Co. . . . This week Nance and Roy Speakman are due home after a vacation tour of Florida.

Among the newly-elected officers of the American Association of University Women are Mrs. Benjamin Wheatley, Mrs. William H. Showman and Mrs. William L. Weber of Westgate. New officers will meet on Nov. 14 for an evening of bridge . . . Saturday, Oct. 29, the Columbus Maennerchor will celebrate its 107th anniversary. Louis Pass is chairman of the annual dinner-dance committee and Judge Robert Draper will be guest speaker at the affair to be held in the evening at the club . . . Just any day now, the Irvin Weisheimers of the Jewell Flour clan are expecting a visit from the stork . . . It looks like cold weather is here to stay; the Harold Millers have closed their summer home at Buckeye Lake and are back in the city to stay. Harold is the newly-elected commander of the US Coast Guard Auxiliary.

P. C. Browning, driver at the Ohio Cartage Co. was again among the recipients of the safe driving award at the company's annual dinner . . . The Arthur C. Thompsons are due home from a vacation stay in the South. While in Miami they were guests of Col. and Mrs. R. H. Dunlap. Before returning, they travelled red-carpet style to Cuba and stayed at the Parkview Hotel in Havana, Cuba.

This past week, Harry Eaton, Regional Business Agent of the Elevator's Local, has been attending conferences in Philadelphia, Pa. . . . Frank Neu of Omaha is the newly - appointed purchasing agent of Omar Bakery Inc. Mr. Neu and his family are residents of Brookshire . . . Recently, Harry Fell, long-time associate and treasurer of McCleery-Carpenter Electric Co. joined his son, Donald, in the operation of Fell's Westgate Hardware Co. . . Julia Wright, former student of Ohio University and the Cartar School of Music has joined the US Woman's Army Corps and at present is stationed at Ft. Hayes.

PROPOSED LAW
To increase unemployment compensation benefits.
(Proposed by Initiative Petition)
A majority vote is necessary for passage.
The proposed unemployment compensation law provides for increased weekly benefits, increased dependency allowances, increased duration of benefits, places the burden of proof upon applicants, provides supplemental payments to claimants whose claims are delayed by the unreasonable action of employers, and provides that payments to a claimant under a supplemental period wage plan shall not affect the weekly benefit amount of claimants under the unemployment compensation law of the State of Ohio.
YES
NO
SHALL THE PROPOSED LAW TO INCREASE UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BENEFITS BE ADOPTED?
Can you spot the jokers in this "Workless Pay Bill?"
Does the ballot tell you all you want to know? Does it say whose proposed law? Does it say how much more is being asked in unemployment payments for how long and for whom? Does it say how much the proposed law will cost if passed by your vote and put on the statute books? It does not . . . so here are the facts:
WHOSE PROPOSAL IS THIS?
Number 4 on a separate ballot on Election Day is a bill by the Congress of Industrial Organizations (the CIO) to increase unemployment payments. The CIO is disgruntled over certain actions of the Ohio Legislature, your elected lawmaking body, in refusing its exorbitant demands for higher payments and is trying now to "sell" its issue to the people.
The CIO's demands exceed unemployment payments paid anywhere in the U. S. A.
If the CIO succeeds in by-passing the legislature this time, it will have the green light for more fantastic initiative proposals in the future.
Stop this self-interest drive now!
HOW MUCH MORE FOR NO WORK?
The new maximum weekly benefit, if enacted into law at the polls, would be $53.00! That's $1.46 per hour for a 40-hour week of no work! Compare that with the new Federal Minimum Wage Law which only requires a dollar an hour for actual work.
The CIO asks also that the maximum jobless pay period be increased from the present 26 weeks to 39 weeks! Think of it! The simple arithmetic is:
39 x $53 = $2,301 TAX FREE
It means that persons out of work—many of them abusers of the plan—would get up to $2,301 for nine long months of idleness! A nice vacation on the sweat of honest labor!
WHO RECEIVES WORKLESS PAYMENTS?
The CIO claims only willing workers "actively seeking work," as the law requires, will be paid compensation. But every citizen knows how badly even the existing set-up is abused.
In 1954 alone, more than 64,000 persons worked in this state, then went to another state while drawing unemployment benefits from Ohio. They went to Florida, California and elsewhere . . . many of them loafing in the sun while others paid the bill.
If these abuses occurred under a lower rate of hand-out, imagine what it will amount to if the CIO is successful!
Its bill is an open invitation to "free-loading" at public expense!
HOW MUCH WILL IT COST YOU?
If the bill is passed, it will cost an officially estimated additional $17,900,000.00 per year at least.
The CIO is trying to fool the public—and that includes all of us—into thinking that this increase will not raise taxes and prices.
You hear the CIO's line every day. They say unemployment compensation is not a new or increased tax. This is not even a half-truth. It really means hidden taxes.
Ohio employing firms pay into an unemployment compensation fund. The more they pay, the higher their expenses. The higher their expenses, the higher their asking prices for goods and services.
Who says raising unemployment benefits won't raise taxes? Those taxes mean higher prices for everything you buy.

Westlake Makes Suggestions For Improvements

A blueprint for a better Columbus through greater use of existing and planned facilities without increasing taxes has been laid before city voters by W. Ralston Westlake, candidate for city council.

Westlake's stated views on major problems facing the city and its people included a plea for a new finance director to "straighten out the city's economic mess."

The candidate urged a program of sound economy and efficiency in all departments of the city government, saying:

"Intelligent people do not expect something for nothing, but they do expect value received for their tax dollars. The people are already burdened with heavy taxation of all kinds."

Westlake also recommended an increase of privately-operated off-street parking lots to agument the proposed underground parking lot at Broad and High-sts.

To help move traffic through the city streets, Westlake advised a by-pass for Route 40 and the expediting of grade crossing eliminations and both outer and inner belt expressway systems. He said that, through use of a parking lot at the end of a bus line and the sale of weekly bus passes, many motorists might be encouraged to leave their automobiles at home and take advantage of public transportation.

Westlake's blueprint also called for: good street maintenance and cleaning and adequate lighting; regular and frequent garbage and rubbish collection; including of garbage disposers in new home plans; a centralized motor pool to eliminate unauthorized use of city vehicles; development of the metropolitan park system, especially in west and south Columbus; and maintenance and expansion of the present sewer system.

Hilltop Business Association Backs New Health Levy

The Hilltop Business Association announced its endorsement of the health levy to be voted on in Columbus Nov. 8, at the group's annual Employers - Employe Dinner meeting recently.

Text of the association's resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, the Columbus Department of Health is facing curtailment of its already too limited services due to insufficient and indefinite budget arrangements, and

"Whereas, the Columbus per capita expenditure for health services is too low to provide even minimal services, and

"Whereas, the lack of funds has completely precluded and provision of much needed services in the fields of mental and industrial health, and

"Whereas, every enlightened American city has the moral and legal obligation to tax its citizens sufficiently to provide adequate health services,

"Resolved, that the Hilltop Business Association hereby endorses the special tax levy which will provide operating income for the Department of Health. . . .

"Further, the Hilltop Business Association pledges the support of its members through affirmative vote and urges the citizens of the Hilltop to vote FOR the levy in the interests of the public health, at the general election on Nov. 8, 1955."

Hanging up his framed letter from Stirling Moss, ace English driver, is Larry Rogers, 15, of 81 S. Ogden-av. Larry wrote a letter in mid-May and addressed it to Moss at Le Mans, France, where Moss was to race on June 11 and 12. Moss replied on July 6, and the letter arrived in Columbus on July 13.

"I had heard so much of his skill and finesse as a driver in the past few years that I became an avid follower of him through various sports car magazines," Larry said. Moss was the first English driver to win the Mille Miglia, an Italian race of about 1000 miles. He set a new record for the run of about 98 miles per hour, breaking the old record of about 89 mph. Rogers wrote him congratulating him on his win in Italy and sent good wishes that he would win at Le Mans.

Moss and his co-driver, Juan Manuel Fangio (the world's champion driver of 1954), were two laps ahead of the pack when the factory team of Mercedes Benz of Germany was withdrawn in respect of its dead team mate, Pierre Levegh, whose car crashed and killed over 80 people.

Moss' latest victory was the English Grand Prix race at Aintree, United Kingdom. He was again driving for the Mercedes Benz factory team.

Hilltop Halloween Party At West High School Will Be Gala Affair

Eight thousand invitations have gone out to school children of the Hilltop, inviting them to participate in the gala annual Hilltop Community Council Halloween party in West High School Monday, Oct. 31.

Putting aside the ghosts and goblins—and for the misguided youth the window-soaping—the youngsters will join in a Grand March as they parade their costumes before prize-awarding judges. Hilltop businessmen have taken time off from their busy schedules to act as judges.

Prizes will be given to the funniest, prettiest and most original costume. Prizes will be separated into four age groups: two to six; seven to nine; to to 12; and 13 years and over.

The party will reach its climax at 7 p.m. with movies to be shown in the auditorium from 7 to 10 p.m. by Hilltop YMCA representatives.

Among other special features to be enjoyed during the day and evening are:

West Hi-Y club will maintain a check room. Members working at the room will be Dennis McDonald, Mark Rector, John Kuntz, Fred Lanch, Woody Waltman, Gary Link, and Cliff Shoemaker.

Oh, it's just a pumpkin, said Marilyn Moore to Edna Mae Pishuta. Donna Foote, treasurer of the council is shown holding an image of a pumpkin while Miss Moore, chairman of the ordering committee and Miss Pishuta, chairman of the fish pond program at the Halloween event discuss its merits. Caring for and amusing the smaller children who attend the annual Halloween party at West High School is the traditional responsibility of West High School's Girl Scout Troops. Pictured above are, left to right, Susan Weisman of Troop 127 with Christine Starkey and Marvin Snyder, Jr. STAFF Photo

Robert Schmidt and Bert Korte are committee members from the Hilltop YMCA on the council.

Prizes for the costume parade and window painting contests will be awarded at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Chairman of the Kiwanis Club group judging the contests is Jim Henery, principal of Westgate School.

West Junior and Senior High PTA members who will serve at the hot dog and milk concession are Mrs. John Tilton, chairman, Mrs. Richard Lloyd, assistant chairman, Mrs. Harrison Jones, Mrs. Ralph Strickler, Mrs. Leonard Eagon, Mrs. Fred Bauerbeister, Mrs. F. S. Jester, Mrs. Harold Howe, Mrs. Robert Reeves, and Mrs. Richard DeWitt.

Ralston Westlake, candidate for city council, was recently asked what kind of men should be on city council.

His answer was summarized: "Men of vision, sincerity of purpose and courageous action."

No candidate in the present council race so well embodies these characteristics as does Ralston Westlake himself.

Sensenbrenner Stand Seen Step To Election

Mayor Sensenbrenner stood firmly on his Democratic platform this week—the same platform from which he hopes to leap that into the office of Columbus' mayor—and re-asserted his views on how to make the city a better place in which to live.

The voluble official, whose heart as well as his home is in the Hilltop, stated that the first plank in his platform was the hiring of a finance director for the city.

Sensenbrenner also sees a need for the equalization of police and fire pay, the raising of that pay to meet standards set in most other large cities in the country. He said that there should be more police and fire department buildings, with police precinct stations in the same building with neighborhood fire stations.

Traffic congestion in the city brought forward the Mayor's ideas of a master control plan for traffic, better means of mass transportation with school bus rates for children.

Elimination of railroad crossings, begun under the Sensenbrenner administration, must be continued, the Mayor emphasized.

A strong slum elimination program is also part of his platform, he said.

It's this church and this community, to which his father contributed so much that Rev. Ashburn will serve.

23 Acres Are Purchased For Hilltop Civic Center

3 Groups Acquire Title

First steps toward the development of a three way civic center project were completed Tuesday morning when Glenwood Methodist Church, the Hilltop YMCA and Luther Turner Masonic Lodge purchased the 23 acres west of N. Hague-av, and south of Valleyview-dr.

The land was sold by Mrs. Helen Kitzmiller of Hudson, O., daughter of the late Charles W. Haldy.

Glenwood Church has purchased the section facing on Hague and Valleyview on the recommendation of their long range planning committee and expects to build a new church there sometime within about eight years.

Immediately west of this area and facing on Valleyview-dr, the Hilltop YMCA has purchased ten and a fraction acres and it is planned that a new Hilltop Y will be built on this location in the near future.

Luther Turner Masonic Lodge purchased three acres west of the Y plot and their plans are for a new Masonic temple in the future.

37 'Confederate' Dollars For Finder Of Week's Lucky Jackpot Insignia

One copy of this week's Hilltop Record is worth $37 in "Confederate" currency. This very paper could be the lucky one . . . you could be the winner!

No winners last week means the jackpot value soars to $37. As always, the jackpot total is reached by adding $5 to the sum of all undiscovered insignia from the previous week. Five $1 insignia are also imprinted in five other copies of the paper as an added incentive.

Not one, but six valuable copies of the Record means your chances of winning are multiplied six times. So polish off your specs, take a good, long look at the replicas in the accompanying box, and examine the ads in your copy.

Don't delay as did one disappointed Hilltopper, who put off reading the Oct. 19 paper until this week. She found to her chagrin that her copy contained one of the lucky insignia. Since it was past the Saturday noon deadline we were unable to redeem her paper.

The insignia are plainly visible; no microscopes are necessary. They are the same size as the replicas shown in the box and are stamped in bright blue ink on the ads.

When you find a lucky insignia take the complete copy of the paper to the Hilltop Record office before Saturday noon and redeem it for "Confederate" dollars. These, of course, may be 'spent' with any advertiser in this week's Hilltop Record, for any merchandise of your choosing.

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it at once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $37 in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

Dies of Heart Attack

Services were held Saturday in Stoutsville with burial in Maple Hill Cemetery.

Five Stores At Great Western Hold Openings

Five stores—W. T. Grant, Crosby Shoes, J. C. Penney, Thom McAn Shoes and Schiff Shoes are holding openings this week, beginning Thursday, at the new Great Western Shoppers' Mart, W. Broad-st and Wilson-rd. All are in Project 3.

Isaly's, near Project 3 on North-blvd, is also open for business on a limited basis and Mogel's Men's and Boys' Wear, also on North-blvd, hopes to be open Friday.

Two other stores—F. W. Woolworth and Richman Brothers—held openings two weeks ago.

Details and advertisements of the various Great Western concerns will be found elsewhere in this issue.

From Such Humble Beginnings..

The first J. C. Penney Co. store, begun in 1902 in Kemmerer, Wyo., laid the foundation for the hundreds of Penney stores which have sprung up all over the country. Latest in the Columbus area is the new edifice in the Great Western Shoppers' Mart, W. Broad-st, at Wilson-rd.

Founder and board chairman of the department store chain bearing his name was James Cash Penney, who personified a success story in the best American tradition. Son of a farmer and part-time preacher, Penney started life in Missouri. Investing $500 savings and $1500 borrowed capital, he opened a little dry goods store in Kemmerer determined to operate it on the Golden Rule principles taught him as a boy. Today that store has grown to more than 1600 and the J. C. Penney Co. is known to millions as a synonym for fair dealing.

Comes A Greater Store At Great Western Mart

Leslie B. Swinford, newly-appointed manager of the J. C. Penney Store at Great Western

Leslie B. Swinford

Shoppers' Mart said yesterday that the recently-opened store places a huge inventory at the disposal of the Hilltop buying public.

"We've ordered large quantities and assortments of sizes and colors," Swinford said, "to meet a big anticipated demand."

"To help customers find their way without confusion," Swinford continued, "shadow-boxes of merchandise will be on display at every wall-counter."

Describing the layout and location of various departments in the new store, Swinford said, "As the customer enters the store, he sees on his left a lingerie department, an infants' furniture bar with cribs, bassinettes, high chairs and other infant needs, as well as toddlers' and childrens' departments."

"On the right of the door are men's furnishings."

"On the south wall is a shoe department and luggage area which features Penney's Towncraft traveling bags in a new design."

"The basement houses gifts for the home, work clothes 'make it yourself' dry goods, Boy Scout shop and draperies."

Grant Store Will Open Thursday

Everything is in readiness for the opening Thursday, Oct. 27 of the new Grant Store of the Great Western Shoppers Mart, W. Broad-st and Wilson-rd.

B. J. Lee, manager of the new store, said that when the doors swing open at 10 a.m., for the three-day, grand-opening sale, shoppers will find a miracle of modern merchandising. Planned as four stores in one, the big Grant store will offer customers the same assortments normally found only in distinct specialty shops. Here virtually everything needed for family and home will be gathered under one roof on two big selling floors, he said.

Describing his new store, Lee said:

"The latest in scientific display counters and fixtures will afford 'shop-at-a-glance' convenience. Daybright flourescent lighting will reveal the true colors of the huge merchandising displays. There will be air-conditioning and wide, roomy aisles to afford a continuous, even flow of customer traffic. And parking facilities will be available for 3000 cars.

"Grant's famous Credit Plan will be introduced," Lee said. "Participants use Credit coupons like cash for anything they want. There is no down payment involved. Our corps of 66 buying specialists will provide the biggest barrage of bargains this community has ever seen."

The company was formed in 1906 by W. T. Grant, now chairman of the board. There are now over 500 Grant stores in 42 states.

Jack Lee, who has been with the W. T. Grant Co. for nine years, has been named manager of the firm's Great Western Shoppers' Mart store.

Ruden To Manage New Schiff Store At Great Western Shoppers' Mart

A man who has specialized in opening and managing Schiff Shoe Store branches in the new shopping centers, Meyer J. Ruden has taken command of the company's Great Western Shopping Center place.

"I like to consider my job as a sort of hobby. It's fun working with people, and trying to help them with their foot problems. Each problem is a challenge," Ruden said. He is completing 20 years of service with the firm.

Though he now lives with his wife, Minta, in an apartment at 897 E. Main-st, Ruden will soon purchase a home in the Hilltop area.

When Mrs. Ruden makes the move with her husband to the Hilltop, it will be a return to the West Side area of Columbus. Mrs. Ruden grew up on the West Side. Her parents now live in New Rome. Ruden is a native of Columbus, having graduated in 1933 from South High School.

Isaly Store Open Now In Center

Although the official grand opening will be held at a later date, Isaly's Great Western Shopping Center store is now open for business. The new addition to the Isaly chain is one of the most modern dairy stores in Ohio. New innovations and design are throughout, according to Marian Delicandro, 770 Whitethorne-av, manager of the new store.

The Great Western store carries the Isaly's line of ice cream and other dairy products as well as a complete delicatessen. Isaly's will also feature modern cafeteria facilities for lunches and snacks.

IT HAPPENED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

Indian Chief's Name Heard Often In County Histories

By Gilbert F. Dodds

Histories of Franklin County frequently mention the name "Billy Caldwell" who lived for short intervals with other Indians in the county. He was a courageous and noted chief.

Caldwell's real Indian name was Sauganash, but he was much better known as Billy Caldwell. His father was said to be William Caldwell, a British officer and his mother a Ptowatomi woman. He received some training from the priests at Detroit and, in addition to several Indian languages that he spoke, he acquired fluency in both English and French.

It is believed that Caldwell encouraged Tecumseh and the Prophet while their followers were located at Greenville in 1807. For six years he was Tecumseh's interpreter and acted as a kind of secretary. He opposed the advance of the white settlers, but it is believed that he did not believe in cruelty. He arrived at Fort Dearborn (Chicago) the day after the massacre of August 15, 1812, and it is certain that he was the means of saving several lives. He was probably with Tecumseh when he was killed at the Battle of the Thmas, Oct. 5, 1813. Until 1820 Caldwell was in the British Indian department during which time he declared his allegiance to the United States.

In 1828 the government built Caldwell a frame house just north of the Chicago River, probably the first such house erected in the Chicago region. He was a man of exceptional intelligence and ability and was highly regarded by his white neighbors. Caldwell died Sept. 28, 1841.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

WHEN OCTOBER DAYS ARE GONE

As we wound around the road
And came up over the hill,
A gorgeous sight to behold
Made the heart almost stand still!

Below was the wide, rich valley;
Some corn already in shock.
The trees, a riot of color,
Topped a winding ridge of rock.

Golden pumpkins on the vine;
The sun gleaming bright over all;
Birds were flying southward,
Sure harbingers of the fall.

A picture, this, to cherish
When October days are gone,
Its beauty forever ours,
In poignant memory lives on.

Celestia Castoe.

If you are out Oklahoma-way be sure to go to Claremore to see the Will Rogers Memorial. You can see the battered typewriter he used, and had with him when he and Wiley Post crashed; some of his original letters, telegrams and columns; saddles and other gifts that were given to him, and many other interesting relics.

Wonder what Will Rogers would be writing about the world today? Nobody so far seems to be filling the shoes of this great American, so far as writing is concerned.

There is a general store in North Lima, Ohio; in that store you can find almost anything, including an "amen corner" where the citizens of that community gather to sit on kegs and discuss everything from the weather to the new Ohio turnpike which runs near the town. The evening we stopped in, the men were talking about food mostly, since it was supper-time. One favored beef, potatoes, onions and cabbage cooked together; another declaimed loud and long on his reason for preferring spareribs and kraut, and the third liked pancakes with sorghum, and thought he would meander home and get some. Speaking of the turnpike, it is fine—but it takes us central Ohioans a long time to get to it, and a long time to get home after we have reached the end of it.

Store Manager At Great Western Shopping Center

Edwin E. Davis

Beginning his managerial career for the Thom McAn Shoe Co. at the tender business age of 20 years, Edwin Earl Davis exudes enthusiasm for the company that has employed him now for three years.

Davis, a graduate of Gahanna Lincoln High School in 1953, has been with Thom McAn since his graduation. His top ambition at the moment is to make the new Great Western Shopping Center store of the company the best of all its city branches.

Thom McAn has two downtown stores and three others in shopping centers. The sixth store in Great Western Shopping Center will have the largest seating capacity of the group. Of modern design it will fit into the overall plan of the city's newest shopping area.

Davis said that the new store will offer a complete line of men's, ladies' and children's shoes and accessories. For women, handbags and hose will be offered. Special gifts will be given to all shoppers, at the announcement opening scheduled for Oct. 27 through Oct. 29. Handbags and hose will be offered the ladies, wallets for men and roller skates or a baseball for the youngsters.

The new store manager spends some of his free time, when he's not thinking of new methods to operate a better store, as a member of the Ohio National Guard. He is attached to the 160th Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

Davis was born and grew up in Blacklick but now lives at 4626 Eastway-st, with his wife, Charlotte, and daughter, Debra, eight months.

Valleyview Has All Incumbent Candidates

Candidates in Valleyview municipal elections are all incumbents.

Up for re-election in the Nov. 3 elections are Charles Ringer, mayor; Myrna Booth, clerk; Alma Turner, treasurer, and councilmen, Henry Whipple, Louis Sauer, Frank Dillin, Harry Holroyd, Norris Boothe and Carl Grabill.

Voters will also enact or deny an issue for a levy of two mills in addition to the regular 10 mills for fire protection. This is an increase of 9/10 mill over previous levy in accordance with Valleyview's fire protection contract with Franklin Township.

Mayor Ringer said that the additional levy would afford better protection through the addition of more equipment.

Howard W. Raber hovers money order. This is a seldom-seen view of a familiar Hilltop Post Office window. In background are FBI "mugs" of wanted men.

New golf-type cart conceived by former Hilltop Carrier Allen J. Pipelow, gets trial use by Ernest E. Harris, 371 S. Wayne-av (right). Assistant Superintendent of Hilltop Post Office Earl C. Struble asks Harris' opinion of the labor-saving device.

Postman Designs New Delivery Cart

Hilltop branch of the Columbus Post Office may not [illegible] a large building compared to the main branch, but the amount of mail it handles daily reaches into five figures.

The area serviced by the Hilltop Post Office stretches from Highland on the east to 3600 W. Broad-st on the west — from Clime-rd on the south to Roberts and Dublin-rds on the north.

Mail delivered by the Hilltop's 24 carriers in this area amounts to an average of 30,000 pieces daily, or about 1,250 pieces for each carrier to deliver.

The Hilltop branch of the post office starts its day about 6:30 a. m. when trucks arrive with multitudes of mail bags from the main branch.

The mail has already been sorted according to carrier number, and Hilltop's 24 carriers go to work in sorting the mail according to street number.

By 9 a. m. most of the mailmen are ready to set out on foot—the branch has only three trucks at its disposal—getting rid of their 1,250 pieces.

A former Hilltop postman, Allen J. Pipelow, 153 E. Gates-st, recently came up with a gadget closely resembling a golf cart, which takes a little of the drudgery out of carrying an overflowing mail bag around on a large route.

The cart is fitted with a large metal box where parcel post may be carried, with a rack on the bottom for hanging the letter bag.

The Hilltop branch has about three of these carts.

A recommendation for widespread adoption of the cart has been made to the post office regional office by Ray Anderson, superintendent of the Hilltop branch.

If the cart is adopted, Pipelow will be in for a "suggestion award bonus" from the post office department.

One of the biggest headaches of the post office department stems from the task of forwarding mail of people who have neglected to make their new address known to correspondents.

"Some days," said Earl C. Struble, assistant superintendent, "as much as 15% of the mail has to be forwarded."

A perennial problem, for the foot postman, continues to be the unfriendliness of home owners' dogs. "Usually," said Struble, "we get about 25 dog bite cases yearly."

"A case of dog bite," he continued, "requires treatment by doctors—and the forms required by the government for getting medical services take about an hour and a half to complete."

People detest standing in line to buy stamps and money orders, Struble observed. "One day," he said, "a guy way back in the line was commenting on the speed of the clerk. When he finally got up to the window he told the clerk he wanted an air mail and special delivery stamp and that he wanted the letter he held in his hand to get to Cleveland "on the double."

"The clerk at the risk of being considered somewhat 'wise' by the customer, told the man that he had better re-address the letter, because as it stood, it was destined for Columbus."

11 Hilltop Fathers Attend Indian Guide Conference

A delegation of 11 Indian Guide fathers attended the second annual area Y Indian Guide Longhouse held in Akron over the past weekend. These delegates represented the 14 Indian Guide Tribes now functioning throughout the Hilltop.

Indian Guide dads who attended this meeting were Martin Boyer, James Donelson, Rex Parrish, Stan Ruoff, Dewey Parris, Don Ehman, Charles Parks, Don Roederer, Harry Grashel and Bob Schmidt of the Hilltop YMCA staff.

Frank Watts who is the present Area Y Indian Guide Longhouse Chief was unable to attend this meeting due to the death of his brother-in-law. These Big Braves were able to participate in workshop discussion and work on problems which were of main concern to local Y Indian Guides. Two delegates, Harry Grashel and Dewey Parris, served as discussion leaders for the workshop on crafts, games and initiations. Don Roederer served as recorder for this workshop.

The Columbus Longhouse of which the Hilltop is a member invited the area longhouse to hold its third annual longhouse in Columbus. This invitation was readily accepted so the Columbus association will serve as the host for the 1956 Area Indian Guide Longhouse.

Striking Westinghouse Men Told Offer Good As GE's

Management at Westinghouse Electric Corporation this week issued a statement to its striking employes and the public, stating that a five-year contract proposal offered the IUE-CIO is virtually the same as the settlement recently made with General Electric Corporation.

Robert D. Blasier, vice president in charge of industrial relations for Westinghouse, released a comparison of the economic benefits in both cases, declaring:

"In view of the Union's statements that the Westinghouse offer is lower than that it accepted from GE, it is important that our employes and the public know the truth.

"Not only does Westinghouse pay higher wages on the average, but careful calculations show that the value to our employes of our five-year package offer is almost identical to that of the GE settlement insofar as two packages containing many kinds of benefits can be compared.

"We cannot understand why the IUE has been refusing thus to negotiate with Westinghouse the same kind of five-year agreement its president called 'a splendid settlement' when signing with our major competitor."

MEAT INDUSTRY LARGER

Officials of the meat industry predict overall meat production for the U.S. this year will total 26 billion pounds. That's a billion pounds more than last year.

Westinghouse, GM And Unions Get UA Plaques

Employees of Westinghouse Electric Corporation's plant along with Local 746, IUE-CIO and Local 89, Operating Engineers-AFL; and General Motor's Ternstedt Division with Local 969, UAW-CIO and Local 88, Operating Engineers-AFL were given plaque awards for outstanding citizenship in the United Appeal campaign which ended Friday, Oct. 21.

The campaign ended only $40,000 off the goal after running up 12 percent higher than last year. The final total was $2,901,000 for a $326,000 increase over 1954.

Many Old-Timers And Not-So-Old Will Recall These Big Darby-Route 40 Scenes

Old-timers will recall these scenes — the old wooden trestle and the old steel bridge and two-lane route 40 over Big Darby Creek. Those not so old may marvel at the changes wrought in these scenes near West Jefferson in the course of one generation. Now the national highway, with four lanes of wooming automobiles and a broad concrete bridge, spans the creek.

The traction line ran behind the present location of Hauck's Standard Oil gas station. Hubbard-rd ran over the steel bridge and west into Madison County, while new Hubbard-rd parallels the creek on the east side for two miles and a half before it crosses into Madison County.

Picnic grounds and a park were located on the south side of route 40 on the east side of the creek.

The traction line station was located on the east side of the creek between the tracks and route 40.

Residents of Alton and vicinity happily drove their horses and buggies to the station and rode on the electric car to Columbus to shop. Many students, one of whom was Dr. William O'Harra of New Rome, rode the car to attend high school in Columbus, as there was no high school in the county at that time.

Hilltop residents remember the interurban cars coming in from the west on W. Broad-st, turning south onto Hague-av, then cutting across the empty corner lot at the intersection of Sullivant and Hague-ave, where the Kroger store now stands. It proceeded east on Sullivant.

While in Columbus, at least, the cars were generally thought to travel too fast, and were considered dangerous. In fact, the writer well remembers them being nicknamed "the angel makers."

The CL and S traction line was removed from service in October, 1938, and the trestle shown was torn down after that date.

The new concrete bridge was built and the steel bridge torn down in 1943, Route 40 later becoming the four-lane super highway we know today.

Vinton Seaman of Alton rode the interurban car on its first and its last runs.

Vinton Seaman, who has been the proprietor of Seaman's Market, 6515 W. Broad-st, Alton since 1891, took this picture of the old trestle bridge across Big Darby Creek in 1905. The picture from which an engraving was made was printed from Seaman's 50-year-old negative. On the left is Mrs. Seaman, dressed in the popular style of the day—wide-brimmed hat, white shirtwaist and long dark skirt. Crossing the wooden trestle is one of the C, L and S (Columbus, London and Springfield) traction cars. Barely discernible in the center of the picture is the old Hubbard-rd two-lane steel bridge for other vehicles crossing the creek.

Pictured is the old metal bridge which carried horse and buggy traffic, then "horseless carriages" and finally fairly modern cars over Big Darby Creek on old Hubbard-rd. It was situated between the present route 40 crossing and the old traction trestle. This picture was taken by Dr. William O'Harra, New Rome, between October, 1938, and 1943, after the trestle was removed, but before the new concrete bridge was built.

Speaking of snows, a snow fell one time in Colorado that was so dry that they had to place "No Smoking" signs along the highways.—New Harmony (Ind.) Times.

Win-Hungry Cowpokes Topped By Bengals 33-0; 3 Tallies In 2nd Turn Game Into Rout

By Bill Haire

West High's Cowboys dropped their fourth straight game last Friday at Magly Field for the power-laden East Tigers by the deceiving score of 33-0.

Mack Pemberton's locals put up fairly good opposition to the states fifth-ranked team. A lapse in the second quarter in which the Bengals took advantage of a couple of Cowboy bobbles to rack up three tallies in 4:47, broke the game wide open and sent the unbeaten tigers on the way to their sixth straight triumph.

Neither team scored in the opening period and the quarter ended with East on the Bronco 34 yard mark.

The first play of the second quarter saw the Tiger Half Otis Sharp skirt his own left end and ramble to the Cowboy four before Bob Conley nailed him. On the next play Sharp knifed in for the score. Charlie Comer missed the conversion and East led 6-0.

Two plays after the following kickoff, the Bengals' Bob Cook picked off Bill Spratley's aerial and was downed on the Cowboy 35. Gale Walker's strike to end Al Long put the ball on the locals' one and on the next play Comer churned over as West's hopes of springing an upset rapidly began to fade.

This time Walker's kick was good, making the count 13-0.

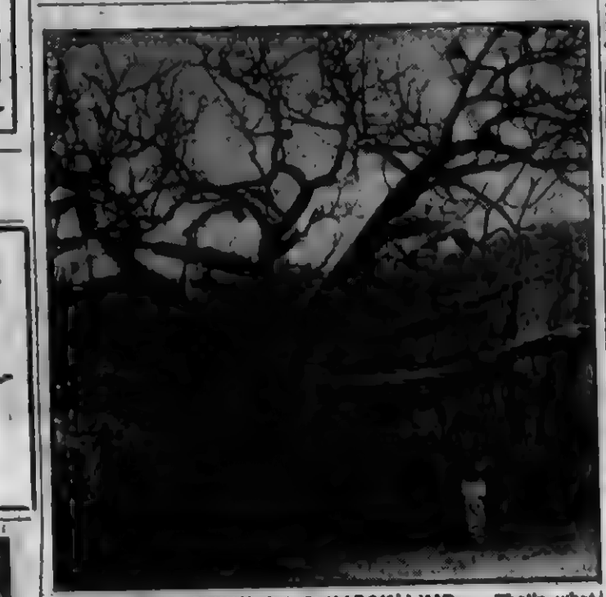
The locals continued their juggling act as once again they ran one play before the pigskin danced merrily away from Bob Conley and into the arms of East's Nap Kee on West's 17. Three plays later speedy Chuck Church zipped in from nine yards out. Gale Walker's extra point closed the scoring in the most disastrous five minutes of the season for the Broncos.

The Cowboys held the Bengals in check the remainder of the period and retired to the locker room on the short end of a 20-0 count.

East wasted no time getting started in the third canto as they took the ball on their own 26 and marched to the Cowboy seven in 11 plays with Walker and Sharp carrying the brunt of the attack. Comer cut off his own right tackle for the score with 6:01 remaining in the stanza. Bob Courtney broke through to block Walker's extra point try, leaving the score at 26-0.

West Roared Back

West came roaring back and it looked as if they might dent the scoring column as they put together four first downs to march 52 yards to the Bengal 10. Here Mr. Miscue again stepped in to thwart the locals as East again recovered a Bronco bobble.



Adding insult to injury, the Tigers clamped a firm hold on the ball and powered 90 yards in 13 plays for the final tally of the evening. Earl Murray did the honors from six yards out and Walker added the point after to write 33-0 in the ledger with 2:21 remaining in the game.

The two clubs traded punts and played out the contest without a serious threat by either.

Although the Cowboys went down to their fifth straight setback (four in the league), they perhaps deserved a better fate. For instance, they played much better than they did against Aquinas who decisioned them 21-6, and Arlington who edged them 6-0.

The locals had little to say in the offensive argument, but on the defensive side they had several boys who turned in good jobs.

Halfback Bob Ackerman turned in a very outstanding performance as he moved up time and again to stop the Bengals. Bill Link and Kay Williams also stood out as did Ed Richardson, a junior who is fast developing into one of the league's best.

HANG YOUR SHIRT ON A KAPOK LIMB — That's what Ecuador's Ministry of Economics would have you do, as it announces that it is making large tracts of land available to those who would cultivate the living "general store," hitherto harvested only from wild growth. Bark is used in manufacture of twine, sacks, nets, hammocks and cloth. Hairlike fruit fiber, lighter than cotton, is used for stuffing floats, life preservers, cushions. Seed fiber, very elastic, far exceeds cork in floatation qualities and is used in lifesaving devices, clothing and upholstery. Seed also yields oil for soap making and feed cake for livestock. Tree is said to be both rain and drought resistant.

TOUJOURS LA POLITESSE

An angler who had been trying to hook something for the last six hours was sitting gloomily at his task, when a mother and her small son came along.

"Oh," cried out the youngster, "do let me see you catch a fish!"

Addressing the angler the mother said severely: "Now, don't you catch a fish for him until he says 'Please!'"

Haire-Pens

Coach Mack Pemberton was not too disappointed at his team's loss to the East juggernaut saying he thought his boys played well and would have given the Bengals real trouble if they had been able to hold onto the ball. The locals, incidentally, fumbled four times, losing all of them. East turned three of the miscues into touchdowns . . . While taking the Cowboys into their lair, the Tigers chalked up 18 first downs, good for 207 yards. They also displayed a fair air game as they completed seven out of twelve for 90 yards. The locals on the other hand, gained only 104 yards on six first downs. They completed none out of two in the aerial department. . . . This week the Cowboys will be out to leave the league cellar as they tangle with South (also winless) in the locals' homecoming contest at Magly Field.

COLUMBUS NEEDS SHAPTER

It is time to break up the One Party Rule that has been so evident in City Council for so many years. Columbus municipal government is not making the strides it should in keeping with the extensive growth of the city.

Columbus voters will do well to go to the polls on November 8 and elect Walter J. Shapter as a member of City Council. Mr. Shapter is a Democrat but has never been active in politics. He is a business man with a very successful career in this field. He has insight and understanding that will aid in extending services to this rapidly growing city.

Mr. Shapter believes it is time that city council give Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner their cooperation and work for the good of the city. Included in his platform he believes:

1. The City should employ a full time Finance Director.
2. The City should adopt a master traffic control system.
3. Police and firemen should have equal salaries and these salaries should be high enough to attract and keep up a good force.
4. Columbus should have better transportation system with zone fares and student rates.
5. Columbus should seek Federal aid for slum clearance.
6. The City should have a pay as you go plan for sewer improvements with a new sewerage treatment plant as soon as possible.
7. The City should continue its present policy of annexation.

Crossing the wooden trestle is one of the C, L and S (Columbus, London and Springfield) traction cars. Barely discernible in the center of the picture is the old Hubbard-rd two-lane steel bridge for other vehicles crossing the creek.

Pictured is the old metal bridge which carried horse and buggy traffic, then "horseless carriages" and finally fairly modern cars over Big Darby Creek on old Hubbard-rd. It was situated between the present route 40 crossing and the old traction trestle. This picture was taken by Dr. William O'Harra, New Rome, between October, 1928, and 1943, after the trestle was removed, but before the new concrete bridge was built.

Win-Hungry Cowpokes Topped By Bengals 33-0; 3 Tallies In 2nd Turn Game Into Rout

By Bill Haire

West High's Cowboys dropped their fourth straight game last Friday at Magly Field for the power-laden East Tigers by the deceiving score of 33-0.

Mack Pemberton's locals put up fairly good opposition to the states fifth-ranked team. A lapse in the second quarter in which the Bengals took advantage of a couple of Cowboy bobbles to rack up three tallies in 4:47, broke the game wide open and sent the unbeaten tigers on the way to their sixth straight triumph.

Neither team scored in the opening period and the quarter ended with East on the Broncos 34 yard mark.

The first play of the second quarter saw the Tiger Half Otis Sharp skirt his own left end and ramble to the Cowboy four before Bob Conley nailed him. On the next play Sharp knifed in for the score. Charlie Comer missed the conversion and East led 6-0.

Two plays after the following kickoff, the Bengals' Bob Cook picked off Bill Spratley's aerial and was downed on the Cowboy 35. Gale Walker's strike to end Al Long put the ball on the locals' one and on the next play Comer churned over as West's hopes of springing an upset rapidly began to fade.

This time Walker's kick was good, making the count 13-0.

The locals continued their juggling act as once again they ran one play before the pigskin danced merrily away from Bob Conley and into the arms of East's Nap Kee on West's 17. Three plays later speedy Chuck Church zipped in from nine yards out. Gale Walker's extra point closed the scoring in the most disastrous five minutes of the season for the Broncos.

The Cowboys held the Bengals in check the remainder of the period and retired to the locker room on the short end of a 20-0 count.

East wasted no time getting started in the third canto as they took the ball on their own 26 and marched to the Cowboy seven in 11 plays with Walker and Sharp carrying the brunt of the attack. Comer cut off his own right tackle for the score with 6:01 remaining in the stanza. Bob Courtney broke through to block Walker's extra point try, leaving the score at 26-0.

West Reared Back

West came roaring back and it looked as if they might dent the scoring column as they put together four first downs to march 32 yards to the Bengal 10. Here Mr. Miscue again stepped in to thwart the locals as East again recovered a Bronco bobble.

Adding insult to injury, the Tigers clamped a firm hold on the slippery skin and powered 90 yards in 19 plays for the final tally of the evening. Earl Murray did the honors from six yards out and Walker added the point after to write 33-0 in the ledger with 3:21 remaining in the game.

The two clubs traded punts and played out the contest without a serious threat by either.

Although the Cowboys went down to their fifth straight setback (four in the league), they perhaps deserved a better fate. For instance, they played much better than they did against Aquinas who decisioned them 21-6, and Arlington who edged them 6-0.

The locals had little to say in the offensive argument, but on the defensive side they had several boys who turned in good jobs.

Halfback Bob Ackerman turned in a very outstanding performance as he moved up time and again to stop the Bengals. Bill Link and Kay Williams also stood out as did Ed Richardson, a junior who is fast developing into one of the league's best.

HANG YOUR SHIRT ON A KAPOK LIMB — That's what Ecuador's Ministry of Economics would have you do, as it announces that it is making large tracts of land available to those who would cultivate the living "general store," hitherto harvested only from wild growth. Bark is used in manufacture of twine, sacks, nets, hammocks and cloth. Matrilike fruit fiber, lighter than cotton, is used for stuffing floats, life preservers, cushions. Seed fiber, very elastic, far exceeds cork in flotation qualities and is used in lifesaving devices, clothing and upholstery. Seed also yields oil for soap making and feed cake for livestock. Tree is said to be both rain and drought resistant.

TOUJOURS LA POLITESSE

An angler who had been trying to hook something for the last six hours was sitting gloomily at his task, when a mother and her small son came along.

"Oh," cried out the youngster, "do let me see you catch a fish!"

Addressing the angler the mother said severely: "Now, don't you catch a fish for him until he says 'Please!'"

Haire-Pens

Coach Mack Pemberton was not too disappointed at his team's loss to the East juggernaut saying he thought his boys played well and would have given the Bengals real trouble if they had been able to hold onto the ball. The locals, incidentally, fumbled four times, losing all of them. East turned three of the miscues into touchdowns . . . While taking the Cowboys into their lair, the Tigers chalked up 18 first downs, good for 307 yards. They also displayed a fair air game as they completed seven out of twelve for 80 yards. The locals on the other hand, gained only 104 yards on six first downs. They completed none out of two in the aerial department. . . . This week the Cowboys will be out to leave the league cellar as they tangle with South (also winless) in the locals' homecoming contest at Magly Field.

COLUMBUS NEEDS SHAPTER

It is time to break up the One Party Rule that has been so evident in City Council for so many years. Columbus municipal government is not making the strides it should in keeping with the extensive growth of the city.

Columbus voters will do well to go to the polls on November 8 and elect Walter J. Shapter as a member of City Council. Mr. Shapter is a Democrat but has never been active in politics. He is a business man with a very successful career in this field. He has insight and understanding that will aid in extending services to this rapidly growing city.

Mr. Shapter believes it is time that city council give Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner their cooperation and work for the good of the city. Included in his platform he believes:

1. The City should employ a full time Finance Director.
2. The City should adopt a master traffic control system.
3. Police and firemen should have equal salaries and these salaries should be high enough to attract and keep up a good force.
4. Columbus should have better transportation system with zone fares and student rates.
5. Columbus should seek Federal aid for slum clearance.
6. The City should have a pay as you go plan for sewer improvements with a new sewerage treatment plant as soon as possible.
7. The City should continue its present policy of annexation.

Days Of Yore Recalled By Horse Theft

Pages of the calendar flipped back a bit last week in the Valley View area when horse thieves returned to action, stealing a mare and a pony from two different farms.

The mare, stolen from Harold F. Cunningham, 3115 Valley View dr., and the pony, taken from Noble Allen, 2961 Valley View-dr, were both found 24 hours later grazing contentedly in a field not far from Jet Stadium.

An unidentified elderly man reported on Friday morning to the Sheriff's office that he was still rubbing his eyes after seeing two horses in the field on the south side of W. Mound-st. The county officials then notified Cunningham and Allen, who retrieved their animals none the worse for wear.

Unfortunately, the same wasn't true for the fencing around the two men's farms. Several steel posts holding up two wire fences were uprooted by the thieves.

Cunningham said that there had been several previous visitations to his place, and he believed that teen-agers were riding his horse late at night. He said he found some jackets left in his pasture, as though the youths had departed hurriedly.

He offered as his theory for the quick departure the fact that a "very mean" bull also inhabits the pasture, and he warned that the bull could be dangerous to trespassers who disturb it.

Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made in all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted if requested. The Editor.

There was a time in our history when the leaders of a certain country said one to another, "Let us build us a city to make us a name."

This was the wishful thinking of selfish ambition and a desire to glorify self.

By inserting one word, the above would read, "Let us build us a bigger city to make us a name."

It seems that making Columbus a big city is the aim and ambition of the 20 year councilman.

Using his own words he said that he has worked hard to accomplish this end.

All the people of Columbus, Democrats and Republicans alike, have made the city what it is and they deserve the credit.

But the veteran councilman, a candidate for mayor, seems to want to take the credit for himself.

Most of the citizens of Columbus want to see the city grow, but not too fast.

If it grows too fast, the utilities will be spread so thin that they cannot meet the needs of homes and business places.

This is manifest in water and gas supply, as the people of Columbus have experienced.

All of this has come to pass under the administration of the president of council, whose ambition is to become mayor of the "big city," which he says, he has worked so hard to build.

However we note that three of the councilmen are not stooges of the president of council. They think for themselves and vote accordingly.

He has not blasted them publicly (perhaps privately) for not supporting his whims, as he did Mayor Sensenbrenner for thinking and acting for himself.

Laying aside for the moment the vicious attacks the Republican candidate for mayor has made against his opponent, the low level of tactics he has resorted to in his campaign for mayor was reached when he uses the "sob stuff" to provoke sympathy in his solicitations for votes.

This is what he said: "My enemies have abused, castigated and vilified me personally."

As long as the political guns were aimed at the mayor, who has ignored them and used statesmanlike policies in his campaign, the veteran councilman seemed satisfied.

But when the political guns were turned against him, what mournful sounds and wails are heard in childish cry-baby manner.

This is the candidate who seeks to enter the hall of fame by building a bigger Columbus at the expense of the taxpayer and the comfort and welfare of all the people of Columbus.

Honor Society Is Elusive Goal For West Pupils

This January a select group of West High's senior class will cross the stage to receive pins in the National Honor Society Assembly.

These hard-working Seniors have received a 3.5 or better average of grades in their four years in high school, but there are other qualifications which are not so well known.

In addition to the 16 credits required for graduation, the student considered for National Honor must have a minimum of 10 service points. After the student has proved to be eligible in these fields of merit there is still another. It is character. If the student is eligible in the other three qualifications but the faculty decides that his character is not of the highest type he will not be considered.

The Otto Hagly Chapter of the National Honor Society was started in 1930. Since that time 1048 West High students have reached this goal. The majority of the students receiving this honor have been girls.

Fifteen per cent of a graduating class may receive the award, although the percentage is usually much lower.

St. Mary Magdalene Is Scene Of High Nuptial Mass Uniting Sue Patton and Jan Litzinger

MR. AND MRS. JAN LEE LITZINGER J. Curtis Allen Photo

Miss Sue Ellen Patton and Mr. Jan Lee Litzinger exchanged their wedding vows at a nuptial high mass in St. Mary Magdalene Church Saturday, Oct. 8, at 9:30 a.m. Rev. Raymond Bankhard officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white mums and palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Patton, 2068 Fremont-st, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Litzinger, 890 S. Champion-av.

The bridal gown of pure silk mouseline de soie over silk taffeta was designed with a portrait neckline outlined in embroidered pearl and iridescent-studded Alencon lace. The same lace cuffed the bracelet-length sleeves and the extended bodice. Her bouffant skirt was worn over old-fashioned hoops and crinolines.

A plateau hat of pleated tulle with appliques of jewel-studded Alencon lace held her finger-tip length veil of French illusion and she carried an arrangement of white mums centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry, a single strand of pearls, was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Phyliss Patton, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Jayne Hausfeld and Miss Carolyn Fabian. Their ballerina-length gowns of aqua silk taffeta were fashioned with cuffed portrait necklines and extended bodices, complementing the bouffant skirts. Each wore a matching bandeau with theatre veil and carried a bouquet of orchid mums.

Mr. James Meiney served as bestman and guests were seated by Mr. William Patton, brother of the bride, and Mr. John Augustus.

Wedding breakfast was served for members of the wedding party at the Fiesta Club immediately following the ceremony. A reception was held, also at the Fiesta Club, from 2 to 5 p. m. Hostesses were Mrs. Harry Walcutt, Miss Melinda Justus and Mrs. John Augustus.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of champagne satin with brown accessories and a green cymbidium orchid for the occasion. The bridegroom's mother wore a frock of plum crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of orchid cymbidiums.

The new Mrs. Litzinger was graduated from St. Mary of the Springs, studied at Mt. Carmel School of Nursing and is associated with R. G. Barry Co. Her husband was graduated from Bexley High School and is associated with Southern Ohio Electric Co.

Following a wedding trip through the Cumberland Mountains, the couple is at home at 914 Binns-blvd.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Phyllis Catherine Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Phillips, 3506 Wicklow-rd, to Mr. Keith Allen Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Aldrich, Larue, O. The bride-elect was graduated from West High School and is associated with Westinghouse Corp. in the cost accounting department. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from high school in Ostrander, O. He served two years in Korea with the U.S. Marine Corps and is now associated with the Goodrich Corp in Marion. The wedding will be an event of Dec. 18, 3:30 p.m., in Glenwood Methodist Church. Rev. Joseph Shellhaas will officiate at the open church ceremony. J. Curtis Allen photo.

With Peg Warren: About The Hilltop

The frost is on the pumpkin, the trees are dressing in their autumn colors, so get with it; be ready with sweets when the small fry in witches,' ghosts' and goblins' costumes stop to beg a bite on beggars' night.

Over the week-end, the H. E. Walkers of Cleveland were guests of Ed McGurers of Westgate . . . Get well wishes to "Boots" Sherlock, a patient at Mt. Carmel Hospital . . . Last week Bob Southworth, Sr., brought back a deer he shot while on a hunting trip in the wilds of Canada. Already the meat has been prepared and guests invited for an outdoor steak roast Saturday evening at their farm . . . Recently, Mrs. Virginia Wolfe's son, Clark, exchanged nuptial vows with Miss Marie Pholen of Pearland, Tex., in a quiet ceremony in Indiana . . . The Fred Beaupres returned this week after a vacation stay in their home state, New York. Before returning home they traveled red carpet style to attend the wedding of their niece in New Hampshire.

The well known Dee Mickeau is the newly-elected president of Arthritis and Rheumatism foundation and John Broden, retiring president will serve as chairman of the board of directors . . . Did you know? Young Dr. Robert (Bob) Murnane, is one of the two medical advisors for the Ohio Turnpike Commission . . . Last week, the Ralph Flemings entertained friends and their small fry with an outdoor wiener roast on the birthday of their son, Buck. The Flemings are new residents of Miriam Addition.

Former Hilltoppers, the Gene Massueras of Marion were guests this past week of Chuck and Dottie Hickman . . . In September a group of ladies interested in the welfare of the children of St. Vincent's Orphanage met at the Columbus Country Club for the first time. Mrs. Johnny (Rita) Patton has been elected treasurer of this new service group of the orphanage . . . Just recently Howard (Mac) McGannon, has been appointed sales representative in this area for the Seagram Distillers Co. . . . Hoge Women Hear Indian Home Economist

The chief home economist for the Directorate of Extension and Training in India, Dr. Rajammal Packiyanathan Devadas, spoke before the Women's Association of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church on Thurs., Oct. 20.

Dr. Devadas, who won both her master's and doctor's degrees at Ohio State University in 1948 and 1950, respectively, is in charge of a five-year plan which covers all aspects concerning higher standards of living, including health, education, sanitation, income management and agricultural production.

In regard to her work, Dr. Devadas said "I am very much encouraged with the work so far. There is a very great enthusiasm among the people to improve their farms and homes. People think that Indians are very conservative and don't like to change but that is not true. The techniques which I learned at Ohio State have been taught there, where they are applicable."

Dr. Devadas, who received her bachelor of science degree at Madras University in India, came to the United States on a scholarship. She has a 17-year-old son, Mohanda and her husband, Edward, is a police officer in Madras.

She left Saturday for Washington and went to New York on Sunday, where she was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. William Maggerty, principal of State Teachers' College at New Paltz, N.Y., and then on to New Delhi on Tuesday.

WESTLAKE FOR COUNCIL

SMALL BUSINESSMEN!
FARMERS!

Get out and vote! Kill the preposterous CIO unemployment compensation law that would take money out of your pockets, but would return you nothing!

Here's the truth about the CIO proposal you will be asked to vote on November 8th:

Too Much Pay For No Work — while you work 12-14 hours a day for shrinking income, "privileged" industrial workers would loaf on up to $256 a month, tax-free, for nine months.

Higher Taxes—Higher Prices — additional money worries for you — and remember, you're not eligible to draw unemployment benefits yourself!

Ohio Already Pays The 2nd Highest Benefits, second only to Michigan among all industrial states in unemployment compensation.

Ohio Legislature Just Raised Benefits 10% — this is the sixth increase in unemployment compensation in the last eight sessions of the Legislature.

Minimum Wage for Workers is $1—CIO Wants $1.45 for Idlers—Tax-Free! Why should a man be paid more for not working?

Farm Bureau Federation Urges, "Vote No!" — Governor Lausche calls this proposal "fantastic" — Sen. Bricker says "It's exorbitant".

Look for — Don't Fall For — the CIO's plan to raid the unemployment compensation fund!

Vote No X on number 4

Male Chorus Opens Ranks For Members

The well known Hilltop Male Chorus has just announced openings in its ranks for more members.

Best known for its work with the Hilltop Business Men's Minstral shows, this group has also entertained at community, religious, fraternal and social functions locally. The chorus is organized to serve the community and greater Columbus.

Any man interested in singing is invited to join the group, according to Bill Grace, president. There is no cost or dues and no special singing requirements to become affiliated with the group. It has always been self-sustaining with remunerations received from their various appearances.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Bill Marot, 269 N. Harris-av (corner of Ridge-av) at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 7. Anyone interested in joining can learn more details by calling Grace at BR. 9-1207 or Marot at BR. 4-[illegible].

"If you like to sing and entertain, here is a community group where you receive and give enjoyment. Anyone is eligible to be a member from teen-ager to 80," Marot insisted.

Children In 'Beggars' Night' Collection For UN

Children of the Hilltop will take off on Saturday to scour area neighborhoods to get a "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF" (the United Nations Children's Fund).

The youngsters will hold the "Beggars Night" just two days in advance of Halloween in order to collect coins for the UN fund. The fund supplies medical equipment for rural health centers, provides insecticides, vaccines and antibiotics to initiate campaigns against disease, and ships powdered milk to combat malnutrition among children of other lands.

UNICEF dollars are also put to work training health workers and improve sanitation abroad.

In Columbus the drive is sponsored by the United Church Women's organization under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Milne. Children will carry official UNICEF cartons in which residents may drop the coins they wish to give. Each child will also wear an arm band.

Among groups cooperating are the women of Westgate EUB Church. Chairman of their committee is: Mrs. William Hutchison. Committee members include: Mrs. S. W. Culler, refreshments; Mrs. Martin Hegele, transportation; and Mrs. Wendell Glass, [illegible]

Burgess Scout Troop Plans Paper Drive

Boy Scouts of troop 70 sponsored by the Burgess Avenue EUB Church, will be collecting magazines, comic books, and childrens books to be distributed to the State Hospital, rest homes and childrens homes.

They will be picked up in the south-west area Saturday, Oct. 29. Please have all books and magazines ready for pick up. If you will not be home put them on the front porch, and the boys will pick them up there. Please do not include crime or horror comic books, said Charles Hobson.

Any one having large donations they would like to have picked up, call John Leonard, CA. 1-4061 or Ed Hobson, BR. 9-2990.

Unemployment Pay Issue Up To Vote

Voters in Columbus and its surrounding area will get an opportunity on Nov. 5 to accept or reject a proposed law to increase unemployment compensation benefits.

The highly controversial question, backed strongly by the CIO and opposed just as vigorously by Governor Lausche, Senator Bricker and various industries through out the state, would also increase the number of weeks an unemployed person could claim benefits and would call for greater dependency allowances.

Proponents of the measure have stated that present unemployment compensation payments are insufficient. Those against the plan have said that the proposed law would necessitate an increase in taxation and would place unemployment compensation completely out of perspective with other costs of government.

The proposal was rejected by the Ohio Legislature during its last session, after a labor and industry committee had held hearings on the bill. A signed petition was then filed to put the issue before the voters at the coming election.

HILLTOP BUSINESS ASSOCIATION PARADE

Hilltop Service Station Has Contented Customers

Business partners I. S. Snider and Clarence L. Fladt, proprietors of the Snider & Fladt Pure Oil service station at 2807 Sullivant-av, find that most of their business comes from customers who live around the neighborhood.

"Transients make up only a small part of our business," said Mr. Sidner. "We find that we are better off to keep the steady customers satisfied."

Commenting on their effectiveness in keeping those steady customers satisfied, Snider related testimony from a driver of the oil truck which services their station.

Snider said that the driver observed that since the parners took over the station some three years ago, he has delivered more gas at their location than ever before.

Before taking over their present station, Snider and Fladt operated a Standard Oil service station at Powell-av and W. Broad-st.

At present, the Snider-Fladt station is one of the few service stations in their area specializing in carburetor service, ignition, motor service and tune-ups.

Both men are married. Snider has a grown daughter and Fladt has a son who plans to study medicine.

Hilltop Optometrists To Serve On Committee

Two Hilltop optometrists, Dr. C. O. Miller with offices at 2484 W. Broad-st and Dr. John Garrison, 2532 W. Broad-st will serve on the committee for the Ohio State Optometric Association's convention to be held at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, Oct. 30 and 31.

Dr. Miller, convention treasurer for the past two years, will assist the treasurer at this year's sessions. Dr. Garrison, past zone governor, will serve as chairman of exhibits.

Sisters Work In Convent Of Good Shepherd To Offer Safe Haven For Troubled Women And Girls

A beautifully kept garden spot with miniature plants and flowers is a bright touch against picturesque stone walls. Mrs. Willis, volunteer social worker who works closely with the sisters, is shown above admiring the flowers.

The homelike comfort of the spacious, beautiful lounge is typified by this group playing cards before the fireplace. A bird sings in his cage by the window and bowls of fresh, cut flowers are arranged about the room.

Help Wards Prepare For Happy, Useful Life Through Comprehensive Training Program

By Betty Daft

Just over the wall is W. Broad-st, bustling with noise and traffic. Inside is a safe haven for troubled women and girls, whose lives have become tangled with problems.

An historical landmark the Convent of the Good Shepherd, W. Broad-st at Sandusky-st, has serenely withstood ever-increasing pressure of the modern world and, throughout the years, the humanitarian work of the sisters has continued without interruption.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd, whose lives are dedicated to women and girls who have need of their help, have convents in every part of the world.

The local convent cares for teenage girls, most of them referred to their care by the court. In the protection and security of the convent the girls are given the advantages of a comprehensive program to prepare them for a happy, useful life. At the present time, 97 girls, 94 of whom are non-Catholic, are committed to the sisters' care.

In recent years, the sisters have extended their work into the Alcoholics Anonymous program for women. An entirely separate portion of the building has been converted for that purpose.

The convent actually consists of many buildings, added through out the years as additional facilities were needed. Mother M. Collette, superior, laughingly admitted that she "had never taken time to count all the rooms in the huge, rambling edifice."

In the girls' section the rooms are bright and beautiful, singing with clear, pastel colors, floral drapes and lovely furniture. Fresh flowers are everywhere. Polished woodwork and shining floors complement the pastel walls.

Unexpected passageways, many light, airy corridors and the surprise of small flights of steps between rooms add quaint charm not found in more modern buildings.

An accredited school, there are eight classrooms and facilities for a complete home economics program. The girls are taught to make their own clothes in sewing classes.

The cooking class, equipped with modern ranges and refrigerator, offers practical application of the girls' classroom lessons. A rotation plan provides four girls each week with an opportunity to plan their own meals, purchase and prepare their food.

They are also instructed in dramatics, ballet, tap and ballroom dancing. Two large auditoriums, complete with stages, are used by the girls to present frequent shows.

Art lessons are also offered, as well as instruction in cosmetology. A beautician teaches them in their own completely equipped cosmetology classroom.

New band instruments are available for the girls and instruction is given in their use.

Health facilities include an infirmary and dental equipment. Regular visits from a dentist assure them adequate care.

Morgan Beatty, news commentator: "There are 2,500,000,000 people on this earth, and some of them are interesting."

Llewelyn Seeks Election As Non-Partisan

Candidate for city council, Wesley Llewelyn is asking the citizens of Columbus to return the two party system to the city hall, at the election, Nov. 8. He stated that the one party rule, on a supposed non-partisan ticket has held the destinies of the people in their hands for the last 12 years and the major portion of the last 10 years.

Llewelyn commented that this is not a healthy situation for any type of government and is not the American way of life. He urged the appointment of a finance director to handle the financing and planning of all departments in the city government, reporting directly to the mayor and city council. In outlining his views on the traffic situation, he pointed out the necessity of expressways throughout the city, more one way streets, restricted left turns and a synchronized system of traffic lights.

Llewelyn mentioned in his stand on mass transportation that Columbus is in dire need of express service to the distant points of the city and the adoption of a special student rate on all city buses.

Continuing his attack on the present Council he said their appropriations for the garbage and rubbish collections have been pitiful and far below what they should be and for the benefit of our people must be improved. He emphasized that garbage should be collected twice weekly and rubbish once. This could be accomplished with additional equipment and the proper disposal units in various sections of the city.

Linda Myers Displays Her Large Button Display At Library

By Mildred Phelps
Hilltop Branch Librarian

BUTTONS! BUTTONS! BUTTONS! On display in the Kiwanis Case at the Hilltop Branch Library, 2955 W. Broad-st, is the button collection of Linda Ruth Myers, 107 N. Hague-av. Linda received awards in the Junior Achievement Division of the Ohio State Fair in 1951-52 and 1954.

The collection is very interesting. It includes all kinds, shapes, sizes and colors of buttons. Calico button are so named because they follow patterns in calico cloth. Black glass and jet buttons have beautiful design. Jet is a coal-like substance and is distinguished from glass only in that it will burn. Picture button are often of metal and tell a definite story. There are floral metal buttons in the collection as well as a few that are hand painted. The lowly and rare shoe button comes into its own.

Many of the buttons in Linda's collection are listed in "The Button Sampler" by Lillian Smith Albert. Collecting can be a fascinating and a remunerative hobby. Books in the library for collectors in other fields include "Handbook of Tomorrow's Antiques" and "New Geography of American Antiques" by Carl Drepperd; "Cut and Engraved Glass" by Dorothy Daniels; "Old Glass, European and American" by Hannah Moore; "Handbook of Antique Chairs" by Carl Drepperd; "Old Patchwork Quilts and the Women Who Made Them" by Ruth Finley; and "Early American Crafts and Hobbies" by Raymond Yates.

Sidney Chafets has a display of woodcuts and drawings at the Hilltop Branch Library until the middle of November. Chafets is an instructor at Ohio State University in the department of applied and fine arts. His interpretations are new and interesting. Woodcuts and drawings use the subject of the family group and mother and child in varied treatments.

Tuesday Is The Day You Should Vote

The air around Columbus should be a little clearer after next Tuesday when the mayoralty campaign comes to a conclusion. The public is anxiously awaiting the outcome

Since the founding of this paper years ago it has been our policy to extend our endorsements in a very limited manner to both candidates and issues. Any endorsement has been based on the fact there must be an outstanding reason for it. In the current campaign we have followed the same plan.

Although I am a registered Republican I would never endorse local candidates along party lines alone. In a final analysis the parties, on local levels, have nothing to offer that makes one different from the other except the individual candidate.

Our papers were almost alone back two years ago in endorsing the candidacy of Jack Sensenbrenner for mayor. Since that time he has captured a wide host of supporters who believe he should have another opportunity to head up the city government. We go along with this idea and also believe he should have more support for his program from city council which can be made possible only with the election of new councilmen.

We believe the present city councilmen who are seeking re-election have been in office long enough. They have become tired and aggravated and we believe it is time for the people to swing them out of office and have some new faces appear in council chambers.

We are particularly interested in the candidacy of Ralston Westlake. He is the son of the late Milton W. Westlake who for many years was a councilman and county commissioner. He is by far the best qualified candidates for this job who has presented himself for service to the city in many years.

We remember that several years ago his father, a staunch Republican, sought the council job and at that time, ran as an independent candidate with-out the party endorsement and led the ticket. This was because the public knew him to be trustworthy and honest in every respect and to stand for everything that was good for Columbus. He had a reputation of putting his service to the city above the party line.

The public can be sure that his son, W. Ralston Westlake will be the same kind of a councilman. He has the intestinal fortitude to stand up for what he believes is right. Republicans and Democrats alike are for him in this present campaign because he can be counted on to do what is right for the people of Columbus.

Vote "No" on the Pay Bill

We agree with Gov. Lausche that the "Workless pay bill" to increase unemployment compensation benefits is "Fantastic" and that it deserves a "No" vote next Tuesday. In these days of full employment no man needs nine months in which to find a job nor is it right that the minimum wage for thousands should be $1 per hour while this bill would provide $1.48 per hour for not working!

Finalist in the big Hilltop Record carrier contest is Tom Rice, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Denton of 665 Wedgewood-dr. Tom is 13 years old and hopes to become a machinist when he gets older.

Sensenbrenner, Jones Wind Up Hot City Campaign This Week

Mayor Sensenbrenner:

'Your Vote Is The One That Counts. Cast Your Ballot On Election Day Nov. 8.'

City Progress Is Issue In Mayor, Council Races

The growing city of Columbus, frequently spoken of during a grimly-fought campaign, will get its final chance to weigh the statements of mayoral and council candidates this week prior to the Nov. 8 election.

Mayor Sensenbrenner will be opposed for re-election by Councilman Joseph R. Jones. Both have made many appearances at rallies of their political parties. Twice they have met in debates, one of those times before radio and television audiences.

Both have expressed themselves in favor of city improvements and chided the other for not having brought them about during their previous two years in office.

The two mayoral candidates along with the eight council candidates are expected to intensify their drives for votes in the remaining week before Election Day.

While no predictions had as yet been made as to the expected size of the vote on Nov. 8, the city has 138,540 total eligible voters, according to Charlie Davies, clerk of the Board of Elections.

Other candidates on the Nov. 8 ballot are: for council, W. Ralston Westlake, Daniel J. Whitacre, Robert T. Forman, W. Wesley Llewelyn, Walter J. Shapter Jr., Dewey Z. Garner, Albert R. Gretz and Roland A. Sedgwick.

Columbus voters will also have the opportunity to vote for a member of the State Board of Education, 12th District. Candidates

Thousands Attend Annual Hilltop Halloween Party

An estimated crowd of over 4,000 Hilltoppers of all ages swarmed into West High School on Monday, Oct. 31, when the Hilltop Community Council held its 10th anniversary Halloween party.

Hilltop Business Association members Bob Schmidt, Hazel Moss and Lee Koontz judged the costume parade sponsored by the HBA. Winners in age group two to six were Harry Wayne Conrad, funniest; Dennis and Nancy Fisher, prettiest; and Sylvia Miller, most original.

In the six to nine group, Diane Pope had the funniest costume, while Pam Murphy had the prettiest and the most original was worn by John Linebrink. Eugene and Margaret Mays had the funniest in the nine to 12 group, with Carol Deadman having the prettiest and Ann Reeves the most original.

In the 13 and over group, Joseph DeVore had the funniest, with the prettiest award to Vickie Fisher and the most original to Allen Fredendall.

Boy Scouts maintaining the first aid room reported not even a bruise or an injury during the evening, making the theme of the affair (Barrels of fun, no damage done) a reality.

Hundreds of youngsters viewed the movies furnished by the Hilltop YMCA and many people used the check room sponsored by Hi-Y members under the direction of Bert Korte.

Girl Scouts of troop 127 were in charge of the grand march before the costume judging.

No Strings On 5-Dollar Bill Boys Discover

It's not every day that a couple of 11-year-old boys can get their hands on a $5 bill, no strings attached.

Ronny Puttick and Frank Lageman did, though, at a Halloween celebration held at West High School gymnasium Monday night.

The boys thought at first it was play money lying there in the confetti. Taking a closer look, they decided it was real, but that it probably had a string tied to it and when they reached down to pick it up someone would pull it away by the string.

The boys picked it up anyway and decided to turn it over to a policeman. The policeman in turn gave the money to the rightful owner, Diane Lust, a junior at West.

'Oh well," said one of the boys, "money isn't everything."

The Hilltop Community Council, sponsor of the dance, agreed with the boys. They were impressed by the honesty of the St. Aloysius students and told the boys and their parents so.

"Honesty is its own reward," the council said.

Hillltoppers Explain Area On TV Program

The Hilltop had its day on television Monday when the WBNS-TV program, "Touring the Town" invited members of the Hilltop Community Council to take over the studio.

For those who haven't heard the story of the council's origin and 10 years of service to Columbus and its area, the program was a revelation.

Bill Burns, president, spoke of the work of the council and its projects and introduced Charles Moore of Glenwood Recreation Center. Miss Jane Owen, YWCA staff director on the Hilltop, presented several groups participating in the annual Halloween party.

Present from West High School were Janet Gove of the ninth grade Y-Teens; Mike Canton of the Junior Hi-Y; Janet Young, president of the Senior Y-Teens, and Floyd Love of the Boy Scouts. Also introduced were Phillip Stewart and Richard Sigler of Troop 147; Ruth Ann Hardsere and Shirley Anderson of Girls' Troop 127; and Peggy Hastilow of Camp Fire Girls.

Missing Priest Back At Diocese

An ex-Hilltop priest who had been missing from his Ft. Thomas, Ky., parish since Aug. 19, returned to the diocesan office in Covington, Ky. Monday.

The priest, Rev. Fr. Raymond E. Ryan, 38, was the victim of "a mild case of amnesia," according to a release from the office of Bishop William T. Mulloy of the Covington Diocese.

When told of her son's return, Mrs Raymond E Ryan, 617 Wiltshire-rd, said "My husband and I thank God that he's finally been located. We never thought we would see him alive again"

Father Ryan's return was announced in a short statement from the office of the Covington diocese. It said that Ryan is suffering from an attack of amnesia believed to be the result of an automobile accident, and is now under observation and treatment.

Hilltop Window Painting Contest Winner Almost Did Not Enter

Joan Frey Reconsidered And Won Kiwanis Contest

Grand prize winner, Joan Frey of 42 S. Huron-av, received her $25 prize for the best window painting job in the entire Hilltop area and promptly deposited the money in a bank.

Of a saving nature where money is concerned, Joan, in the fifth grade at West Broad Street School, almost didn't save her entry blank in the contest sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

The little girl's teacher said Tuesday that Joan became disgusted with her window painting efforts and threw the entry blank into a waste basket. Fortunately, she later retrieved it and went on to paint the best looking window in the area.

Joan's window, now on view at Haldeman Cleaners, depicts a fall scene in the country. The corn is shocked in a farm field, and a pumpkin lies near. A tricky little moon shines overhead in a clear, Autumn sky.

Winners of all the prizes were announced Monday night at a gala Halloween party held at the West High School. Jim Holroyd, chairman of the judging committee, awarded the prizes to the winning entries from the competing schools, John Burroughs, Highland, St. Aloysius, St. Mary Magdalene, West Broad, Westgate and West Mound. Also on the judging committee were Richard Teichert, art teacher at West, and Katherine Sullivan, feature writer for the Columbus Citizen.

Duplicate prizes were awarded to the youthful painters and to the schools they represented. Thus, the West Broad Street School received a $25 prize also.

Other winners announced Monday night were: second prize of $15 to Norman Brobst, 221 S. Letchworth-av, sixth grader at Westgate, for his State Liquor Store window; third prizes of $5 to Karen Theobald, 632 Clark-av, sixth grade at West Mound for her window in Schulze-Market; to Sharon Lee Howard, 374 S. Huron-av, fifth grade at Westgate for the Poultry Store window; to Daniel Lambert, 283 Midland-av, fifth grade at Highland, window at Bar Carry-Out; Fredricka Van Ritter, 282 Whitethorne-av, fourth grade at Highland for her picture at Kirwin's; and Karen Alexander, 130 S. Burgess-av of West Broad, for her Grashel Service Station drawing.

Honorable mentions were awarded to Kathy Sapp and Jane Holzapfel of St. Mary Magdalene; Janice Robinson, Terry Robinson and Susan Wilkenson of West Broad; Pete Parks of West Broad; Mary Pemberton and Barbara Pohle of Westgate; Susia Belt and Barbara Harlor of West Broad; Wesley Thomas of West Broad;

Susan Joy Scholten of Highland; Carolyn Gibson and Yvonne Noice of Highland; Raymond Nader of John Burroughs; Lois Bursey of West Mound; Annette Grace and Sari Cumpler of West Broad.

NO BULLYING

In most states, pedestrians have the right-of-way over turning traffic. So, motorists, don't try to "bully" your way through. "Do a good turn . . . wait!"

Early November Vote Is Heavy

Election officials predicted a heavy vote for the November 8 election as they opened the doors of the Franklin County Board of Elections for early voting.

Voting will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily except Saturday when it will be open from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

New Voting Places Set For Westgate Voters

A change in polling place for voters in Precinct FF of the city's 11th Ward was announced this week by the Franklin County Board of Elections.

Voters in that precinct will now ballot at Westgate School, 3080 Wicklow-rd. They formerly voted at 2932 Fremont-st.

Hard Times Dance Put Off Till Next Year

The "Hard Times" dance sponsored by the Hilltop Businessmen's Association has fallen upon hard times. An announcement was made Tuesday that the dance scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 2 has been called off for this year, because of many factors.

The sponsors said that the ticket sale had suffered because of the nearness of the dances to Halloween and to the several other community affairs scheduled.

W. T. Grant Great Western Store Opens

$47 Is Free For The Finding To Some Lucky Reader Of This Week's Record

"The best things in life are free," says the poet. We're not claiming that money is actually one of these "best things in life," but it sure does come in handy . . . and it sure enough is free for the finding to observant readers of the Hilltop Record!

No puzzles to solve, no questions to answer, no tricks or gimmicks of any kind in our "Confederate" money game, and yet the jackpot went begging last week. However, the misfortune of last week's readers means the increased good fortune of this week's jackpot winner, for the jackpot insignia is now worth a cool $47.

Lucky insignia, replicas of the ones shown in the accompanying box, are hand-imprinted in bright blue ink on ads in six copies of the paper. One of these, the jackpot insignia, is worth 47 "Confederate" dollars this week. The other five insignia are worth $1 each.

Each week, the value of the jackpot insignia is reached by adding $5 to the sum of all re-

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it at once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $47 in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

discovered insignia from the previous week.

When you find a lucky insignia in your copy of the Record, bring the complete paper to The Hilltop Record office before Saturday noon of the week of publication and redeem it for "Confederate" dollars. These may be "spent" just like cash, with any merchant advertising in the current week's Record.

Complete rules are outlined in the accompanying box.

Talks Continue At Westinghouse

Contract negotiations between the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the striking CIO International Union of Electrical Workers will resume Wednesday in Pittsburgh. No progress was reported during Tuesday's deliberations.

Some 4500 members of the union's Local 768 at the Columbus plant remain off the job because of the strike, which began Oct. 10.

Hilltopper Johnny Jones 'Home' Again

A former Hilltopper, Johnny Jones, has returned "home" — after a fashion — having been named manager of the new Mogol's Men's and Boy's Wear store at Great Western Shoppers' Mart.

Johnny grew up on the Hilltop

and was a 1946 graduate of West High School. He spent five and a half years in the Marine Corps, and saw service in both World War II and in Korea. His father, Thomas E. Jones, resides at 226 Emerson-av.

He and his wife, Helen, and their five children are presently residing on Stimmel-rd on the South Side. However, with his business location now on the Hilltop, Johnny and his family expect to move to this area as soon as adequate living quarters can be secured.

During the past seven months he has served as manager of Mogol's Great Eastern store. The firm opened its new Great Western store at 3390 North-blvd, last Saturday. An advertisement in this newspaper inadvertently gave the opening date as Nov. 28.

SAFETY TIP

More than half of all urban motor vehicle accident death victims are pedestrians. That fact was included in a recent report from the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce. Pedestrians — always watch for cars. Motorists — be able to stop in time.

REMODELS HOME

M. Redick of 85 S. Roys-av is remodelling the home at 85 and 87 N. Wheatland-av. Swank is the contractor.

Korean Vet Takes Pride In Hilltop Business

"Some people think that finance companies are in business to make money hand over fist,"

J. J. Doyle

began J. J. Doyle, manager of the 21 N. Hague-av branch of the Ohio Finance Co.

"That's not the way we look at it," he continued. 'We return about four per cent on our stockholders' investments, which can not be called windfall profits. As a matter of fact, our rates haven't changed since 1927."

Doyle, a graduate of Ohio State University, has been with the Ohio Finance Company for about four years.

"We are primarily a small loan business," Doyle said, "specializing in rendering satisfactory service."

Doyle entered the finance business after World War II. He also served in the Korean police action as an infantry captain.

A native of Dayton, Doyle now resides on the Hilltop with his wife, Carol, and son, Gary.

Youth Council To Sponsor Singspiration

Hilltop Inter-church Youth Council will sponsor a "singspiration' rally at the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church this Sunday at 3:45 p. m.

Song leader will be Rev. Joe Crouse of Charleston, W. Va., song evangelist, who is helping with a meeting now in progress at Westgate. Rev. Crouse is the song evangelist who started the rallies last year at Burgess Avenue EUB.

Rev. Lon Woodrum, evangelist at Westgate, will speak briefly to the young people.

This rally is open to all young people of the Hilltop, and churches are invited to attend in groups. Attendance banners will be awarded this year on a percentage basis, based on the total youth enrollment as submitted by each church.

Shirley Anderson is president of the Youth Council; C. H. "Doc" Campbell is adult advisor.

Bill Gallagher Honored By Smith-Barratt Post

Bill Gallagher, adjutant of Smith-Barratt Post 249, American Legion was presented with a pen and pencil set by Past Commander Austin L. Champe at recent ceremonies at the 2323 Sullivant-av post.

Gallagher was honored for outstanding work in the past fiscal year and in particular for the success of the party for crippled children last Christmas time.

The "Early Bird" membership drive which ends Nov. 11 has the following leaders: Bill Riffle, 90 points; Cliff Laffe, 50; M. Young, 30; M. O'Malley, 25; Lucas, 25; DeHaven, 20; and Emig, 15.

Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture: "I feel that agriculture is basically sound in spite of the claims of the prophets of gloom and doom."

IT HAPPENED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

Last Of Ohio Whig Papers Published In Columbus

By Gilbert F. Dodds

In 1840, Capt. Elijah Glover, who had for many years been the proprietor of a printing office in Columbus, commenced the publication of a weekly newspaper, The Ohio Tribune, which was Whig in its political content.

At the beginning, Capt. Glover had Walter Thrall, a veteran newspaperman, associated with him, and later Gideon Stewart, an experienced editorial writer. The paper received a goodly share of support from merchants and advertisers and was successful in every way.

About the year 1848, George M. Swan became connected with Capt. Glover in the publication of The Tribune, and subsequently, in 1849, Glover sold out to Swan. The latter continued the policies of the paper for a number of years and in the Spring of 1855 he sold out to Gamaliel Scott who continued the same editorial policy of the paper. Scott soon took in as his partner and principal editor, John Greiner, another experienced newspaperman.

In the Fall of 1857, Scott sold his remaining interest to Charles S. Glenn and the paper was continued for many years by the firm of Greiner and Glenn. This firm changed the name of the paper from Ohio Tribune to Columbus Gazette, but the policy of the paper was the same. This was the last Whig paper published in Franklin County.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

QUIESCENT, THE HEART
That I may live I must forget
The poignant sorrows of your face,
My wandering steps must not retrace
The starlit path where first we met . . .
The songs — I can't remember them—
Nor sing the lyrics here, nearby
Nor let their beauty touch my heart
Lest they return a requiem . . .
These words . . . I wrote them long ago,
Before our love withstood the pain
Of parting, end of falling rain,
My dear—I'm glad you didn't know . . .

Heard in passing: "Doctor, I come to see you about my grandmother. We have to do something about her smoking."

Doctor: "Don't worry about that, lots of women smoke."

Caller: "Yes, I know, but grandma inhales."

Doctor: "I still wouldn't worry. Lots of women inhale."

Caller: "Yes, I know, but grandma doesn't exhale!"

A returned veteran wanted a job on a midwestern newspaper. The editor said: 'Son, be brief. Always remember that. 'Be brief' is our motto."

The next day the cub turned in a story: "James C. Gillingham looked up the shaft of the Union hotel today to see if the elevator was coming down. It was. Age 23."

Let the popular songs keep on baffling the scholars. If they don't make sense, at least they make dollars . . . The best things in life are either free or available on easy terms . . . Critics are people who go places and boo things . . . Love is softening of the heartiery . . . Yearn: before marriage a man yearns for a woman. After marriage, the "Y" is silent; so is the man.

Local scene — The choir had just finished its lovely anthem and the congregation was reverently still while the minister gathered together his notes for the weekly sermon. Suddenly, dignity was forgotten and there were smiles on the faces before him (especially on the faces of parents in the congregation) as the minister's three-year-old ran down the aisle. In a stage whisper that reached every corner of the church, the child said "Daddy, will you button my pants, I can't find Mommie." The minister obliged, and without the slightest embarrassment, said "I have always taught the children to come to me with their problems." That minister I like!

Mail—from my favorite shutin: I told you something would happen to Oklahoma. I warned you, remember? Also you were there I read in the paper that the Governor of that state said it would go Democratic this fall. (If you are a Democrat, I'm kidding) . . From Long Beach, Calif.: Did I tell you about my vacation? I spent a week at Arrowhead in th San Bernardino Mountains. I camped out on the rim of the world at about 6,000 feet and could look down over the valley at will. I did no cooking, just ate cereal, fruit and drank milk and fruit juice. I went alone and had a perfect rest. More and more people are living permanently up there on top of the Rockies, at nearby Big Bear. There are large super markets, good schools, churches, department stores and of course motels.

Cowboys Whip South 13-0 For First League Win

By Bill Maire

Mack Pemberton's West High gridmen vaulted back into the win column after a five-game drought last Friday as they tamed South High's toothless Bulldogs 13-0 before a Homecoming gathering at Magly Field.

Bouncy senior halfback, Bob Conley, tallied both touchdowns as the Cowboys marked up their second victory in seven tilts while handing the hapless Rebels their seventh straight setback.

The Broncos churned through the Southeners defense to the tune of 214 yards on the ground with most of the yards being marked up on off-tackle plays. In the air, the Cowboy pitchers completed four out of seven but were able to gain but a meager 12 yards for their effort.

On the defensive side, the Cowboys received fine play from their line as they allowed South only five yards in the opening period and a total of 81 on the ground for the game. The Rebels air game (with a couple of tall, rangy ends) kept the game interesting with 61 yards on seven strikes in 15 heaves.

The first quarter was fairly quiet with both teams suffering from a slight case of fumble-itis. West did manage to push to the Bulldog 31 before a bobble stopped them.

Midway in the second stanza, Cowboy half, Jerry Keyes returned a South punt 13 yards to the Bulldog 46. With Bill Spratley at the reigns, and Conley, Dave Randall, and Gary Nebinger alternating off-tackle slants, the Cowboys moved to the Rebel one in six plays. Conley bucked it over and Nebinger added the extra point on a plunge as the locals led 7-0.

The third period was much the same as the first with the exception that South began to move on the offense as they punched to the Cowpoke 20 where the drive stalled. Things looked dark for the locals however, as on the next play the Bulldogs pounced on a Cowboy fumble on the West 28. Bronco backfielder, Ray Williams, rose to the occasion, though, and picked off a Rebel aerial on the West 25. Conley broke off-tackle for 10 as the third period came to a close.

The first five plays of the fourth chapter moved the locals to the Bulldog 21 when Dave Randall took over. The beefy halfback lugged the leather five straight times as he moved to the South six. Conley then whapped up the scoring as he bolted off the right side of his line on a cross-buck for the tally. Quarterback Dennis McDonald, fell short in his plunge for the extra point leaving the count at 13-0 with 5:23 left.

The win marked the 16th straight for the Cowboys over the Bulldogs and leaves Coach Pemberton undefeated against the Rebels.

This week the locals must assume the role of underdogs as they tangle with the non-swashbuckling Central Pirates. The Buccos will march on the field fresh from springing what is probably the biggest upset of the season. Last Friday the Bucs slashed Springfield Public 16-14 at Springfield. At the time Springfield was ranked second in the State.

The Cowpokes will have something special to work for though as they'll celebrate Dad's Night and the boys would like nothing better than to present Dad with a triumph over the Pirates.

GRA-Y FOOTBALL

West Broad and Highland are still undefeated in the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y football league. West Broad dumped luckless West Mound 32-0 and Highland romped over Westgate 49-2.

In the first game West Broad took an early 6-0 lead on a short run by Glenn Rohrer. The victors capitalized on intercepted passes and a weak West Mound line to play most of the game in their victim's territory.

Jerry Izzard and Maurice Hinton scored on passes from Glenn Rohrer while Bob Dent and Glen Rohrer added additional tallies on short runs.

Darrell Rohrer, Dan Dent and Barry Young accounted for the conversions.

In the Highland-Westgate game Westgate took over in the second quarter and from then on they rolled.

Highland capitalized on interceptions of passes by Dan Moyer, Westgate quarterback. Dick Ohde ran two interceptions for T.D.'s. Bill Karn and Harold White also scored on interceptions. Karn hit Bill Dildine for two T.D. passes and White scored the other touchdown on a run. A pass from Karn to Dildine tallied the only extra point.

West Park Teams Receive Awards For Softball

Four West Park Methodist softball teams which played in various church, YMCA and city leagues last summer were presented championship and good sportsmanship trophies at that church's Sunday School program last Sunday.

The Sunday School's senior group received a city recreation league championship trophy; the intermediate group and "old timers" group received YMCA championship trophies; and the junior group received a YMCA good sportsmanship trophy.

Three of the teams, the seniors, intermediates and "old timers", were composed mostly of members of West Park's Mowac Sunday School class for persons 16 years old and above.

Junior Bowling Schedule Changed

Junior bowling program of Hillcrest Lanes has been altered, due to the large number of boys and girls who participate in the activity.

Teen agers, who are the Junior Keglers, have been transferred to the Old Trails Bowling Alley, while the Bantams, children under 12, remain at Hillcrest Lanes.

In both leagues the pins go down at 9:30 and all children must be ready to roll at this time.

BUILD GARAGE

Kermit and Lucille Brady of 234 S. Warren-av are building a one-car concrete block garage.

More than 20,000 persons have been killed in bitter fighting touched off some three years ago in Nairobi, Africa, by the fanatic Mau Mau terrorist society, according to official estimates.

Must Ohio Voters Knuckle Under to CIO Bosses?

The "workless pay bill," to be voted on November 8th, is a fantastic money grab to line the pockets of a few thousand CIO idlers with extra unemployment pay tax-free! At the same time more than a million workers could draw only single compensation and an additional million could get no benefits at all! No wonder the CIO has not yet openly advertised its fatherhood of this scheme!

FORGET THE CLAIMS... READ THESE FACTS

Too much pay for no work — The CIO wants up to $256 a month for nine months, tax-free . . . more than the take-home pay of many a steady worker.

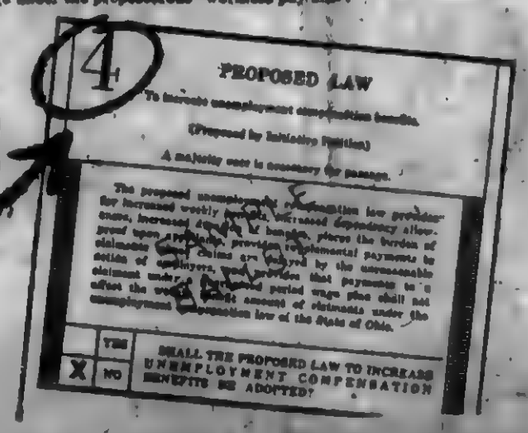
Hidden taxes, higher prices — New taxes on business come back to you, the consumer, in higher prices on food, clothing, everything you buy.

Ohio already pays the 2nd highest benefits — second only to Michigan among all industrial states in unemployment compensation.

Ohio Legislature just raised benefits 10% — and has raised them in six of the last eight sessions of the Legislature.

National Minimum wage for workers is $1 . . . CIO wants $1.48 for idleness, tax-free — Since when do we pay less for working than for not working?

Gov. Lausche calls the CIO proposal "fantastic" — Senator Bricker says "it's exorbitant." The Ohio Legislature turned it down as dangerous and excessive. Ohio newspapers are solidly against it.



The "Work" If You Can Get It! Last year more than 64,000 drifters worked for a while in Ohio, then took off for Florida, California and elsewhere. Many of them lived it up off tax-free unemployment checks paid for by steady, tax-paying workers back home. Think how many thousands more would abuse the privilege under the preposterous "workless pay bill"!

Say NO to the CIO! on number 4

LEAVES 300 DAYS ON BOOKS

On Job 36 Years, Man Takes Only One Day Sick Leave

Let's see — 2390 hours divided by eight hours per day—that's almost 300 days that Dave Dale could have stayed home in bed instead of getting up at 4 a.m. to get down to the Post Office where he worked.

But he didn't, and that's why Dave Dale, 59, of 446 S. Marriay, received a special citation from the Post Office Department when he retired last week.

In addition to the honor, Dale was presented a wallet containing about $150 as a gift from his fellow employees.

Postmaster Allen Rowe said at the retirement ceremony that Dale was one of the most reliable postal workers who ever handled a letter anywhere, any time. The postmaster hailed him as one of the few persons in supervisory capacity who had the ability to keep the friendship of his fellow workers.

In his 36 years with the Post Office, Dale could have had almost 300 days off in sick leave. He used only 24 hours of that time, however, when he took a day off to attend his first wife's funeral.

"The sick leave was there if I wanted it," Dale commented, "but I just don't see why you have to take advantage of something just because it's something for nothing."

Dale started working at the Columbus Post Office when he was discharged from the Infantry in 1919. His first job was as an operator of one of the Post Offices nine gasoline-driven vehicles.

'Back then" he reflected, "we used to pick up the mail in a horse-drawn wagon."

During his driving days, Dale made many deliveries to the Hilltop branch of the Post Office. In 1949, Dale was advanced to the supervisory capacity of motor vehicle dispatcher.

Dale has two living sons, Walter, who is also a post office employee, and David. A third son, a navigator for the air forces, was killed in World War II. He has two married daughters, Norma and Dorothy. He lives with his second wife, Ellen.

Dale said that he had no immediate plans for his retirement, although he and his wife plan to do a lot of hunting, their favorite sport.

Model Airplane Design Contest Open To Youngsters Of The Area

Columbus area school children are eligible for a model airplane design contest announced today by the Dayton Chamber of Commerce's Aviation Committee as a major effort in observing the 52d Anniversary of Powered Flight.

Dr. Jerome H. Meyer, head of this year's Anniversary of Flight observance in Dayton, expressed a hope that student competition would kindle interest in aviation design. He pointed out opportunities in the aviation industry, adding that "the full realization of benefits from the Wright's invention has only just begun."

The contest opened Oct. 31 and will close midnight, Dec. 2. The winner, to be selected by a committee of aeronautical design experts, has a number of special treats in store.

The winner will be flown to Washington to present his winning model to General Nathan F. Twining, Chief of Staff of the United States Air Force; he will be an honor guest of the Dayton Chamber of Commerce at the annual Anniversary of Flight luncheon on Dec. 8; he will be awarded $250 worth of United States Savings Bonds; and he will be a special guest of Wright-Patterson Air Force for a day.

Contest rules are: 1) Entrants must be students of elementary or high schools in the state of Ohio. 2) Entrants must not be over 18 years old by Dec. 1. 3) Models must be of original design. 4) Models must be of reasonable size. They may be either solid or flying type models. 5) A brief explanation of the design and why the contestant thinks it would be an improvement for aviation must accompany the model. 6) Models may be either military, commercial, or private plane design. 7) A tag must be attached to each model giving the entrant's name, age, address, and school. 8) Entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, Dec. 3, 1955. 9) Models must be securely packaged to avoid damage in mailing. 10) Models should be mailed to: Aviation Committee, Dayton Chamber of Commerce, Biltmore Hotel, Dayton 2.

Judging will be based on originality of design, practicality of design, and workmanship. Judges will be aeronautical engineers from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base and members of the Aviation Committee of the Dayton Chamber of Commerce.

What is a Lutheran?

On October 31, 1517 there was only one Protestant and one Lutheran, and that was Martin Luther, a former Roman Catholic priest. Luther had "protested" against the Church's sale of certificates called indulgences, which were said to reduce the time a soul must spend in purgatory. From Scripture, Luther had learned that FULL FORGIVENESS OF SIN IS PROMISED THROUGH FAITH IN THE MERCIFUL GOD, REVEALED IN CHRIST. This and other similar differences led to an open break. Lutherans don't claim any doctrines different from the common Christian faith described in the New Testament and first summarized in the Apostle's Creed. For full details on these important fundamentals, we invite you to send for material described below.

If you don't know 'ALL WOOL'
Be sure you know your dealer!
Remember that old expression, "All wool and a yard wide"? A tape measure will prove size, but it takes an expert to correctly analyze quality.

The term "all wool" can mean many things . . . it does not necessarily imply first quality. "All wool" may be fine virgin wool, it can be low quality virgin wool, or it may be reprocessed wool. There's a vast difference.

Unless you're an expert and know the difference, be sure you know and have confidence in the dealer from whom you purchase "all wool" carpeting.

MAYOR SENSENBRENNER PRESENTS

A POSITIVE PROGRAM

WHICH WAY IS COLUMBUS HEADED?

Are we to continue in our rapid growth and keep pace with the extension of services to the people of this growing community or are we going to say "All off, this is as far as we go"?

For a progressive continued growth for Columbus, people of this city should go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for the re-election of Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner and a complete new slate of candidates for CITY COUNCIL.

Mayor Sensenbrenner has declared that he would not be controlled and he has exposed the shortcomings of those in the present CITY COUNCIL, as well as past Republican administrations.

Next Tuesday you have an opportunity to settle this fight in City Hall. Your vote for Sensenbrenner will be a vote to break this powerful control over city government by those who pull the puppet strings.

Your vote should also be for the election of a complete new slate of candidates who will cooperate for the good of Columbus. Vote for Walter J. Shapter, Wesley Llewelyn, Robert T. Forman and Ralston Westlake.

The moves of city council, which includes the Republican candidate for mayor, that have been meant to embarrass the mayor at the expense of the City of Columbus include such well remembered actions as:

Refusal to set up an office of city finance director after the mayor had requested it, and after the previous administration had been given the opporunity to have such an official but failed to do so.

Spent $50,000 for a survey for the best location for a sewerage treatment plant badly needed to make the South Side an even better home section and then brushed the plan aside and nothing further was done.

Approved 40 ft. lot ordinance which the mayor promptly vetoed.

Refused to make it possible to bring the police department up to the bare minimum of 400 as recommended by the FBI.

Tried to prevent putting the city markets on a business like basis.

Refused to cooperate with the mayor in removing inefficient Civilian Defense personnel.

Approved the Kroeger survey which provided for increased city salaries by over $900,000 per year but failed to provide the money with which to pay the increases.

Passed an ordinance which made it legal to park cars on sidewalk . . . which the mayor vetoed.

Passed numerous ordinances providing for breaking of city building regulations . . . the mayor vetoed them.

Introduced and passed legislation in recent weeks asking for reduction in sewer rates, plainly a move aimed at buying votes. Mayor vetoed it.

The mayor has had a positive program for Columbus since he took office. He had stood for those things that are for the better interests of the people.

The success of the Columbus Jets baseball club this past summer is proof the mayor was right in his stand that the stadium should be bought by private interests rather than by the city.

More new streets have been built in Columbus and more streets repaired in the past two years than in any two year period in recent years.

The administration has had remarkable success in completion of the Long Street Parking Garage, expediting work on Hoover Dam and filter plant and the Inner and Outer Belt highways and extending water and sewer lines and street lighting programs.

The mayor has been responsible for the program of stopping the give-away of Columbus water and sewer facilities by freezing permits to such areas unless they come into the city.

This program has resulted in annexation of over 8000 acres or over 13 sq. miles to the city.

The administration has worked with Columbus Home Builders Association and Real Estate Board in rehabilitation programs, most of which have been opposed by powerful local financial interests.

The mayor ordered the issuance of illegal rooming house permits discontinued.

The city has had a remarkable record of issuing orders against deteriorating buildings. More than four times the progress has been made under the directorship of William Lehman, chief building inspector, than was made by the previous administration in a similar period.

The new Raymond Memorial Golf Course was opened for play after having been delayed for several years.

Initiated Hudson and Fifth Avenue Railroad Crossing eliminations.

Put an end to left hand turns in Broad Street. Installed numerous new traffic lights.

Proposed a new bond issue for additional recreational facilities and centers all over the city.

No bus strikes were held during 1954-55.

The building department sponsored a law to control racketeering in remodeling and building in the city.

Building department uncovered faulty GI housing which is now being investigated in a grand jury probe.

The administration made the survey leading up to the approval of the underground parking garage to be built by the state. Mayor gave his wholehearted support to this project.

Mayor Sensenbrenner seeks re-elecion on the fact that he has done everything in his power to work for the good of Columbus during the time he has been the city's chief executive. But he also seeks the election of four new city councilmen; Robert T. Forman, Wesley W. Llewelyn, Walter J. Shapter and W. Ralston Westlake. Three of these men are Democrats and Westlake is an independent Republican. Mayor Sensenbrenner and these council candidates are agreed on the following program:

The city should have a finance director with complete authority as the city's chief fiscal officer with an honest report on the city's financial needs to be given regularly to the people.

There should be additional one way streets where needed with synchronized traffic signals to provide a continuous traffic flow. More off-street parking facilities should be provided, preferably by private interests.

The expressways program should be expedited as rapidly as possible.

A Route 40 by-pass should be provided.

The police force should be expanded by at least 100 men and the fire department by 50 to 100 men with pay for these departments such that the best men can be attracted and retained.

Public transportation should be improved with express service, zone fares and student rates.

Continuation of a program against unsafe rooming houses with permit fees to cover the cost of inspections.

Raising the standards of living of persons in certain areas by the elimination of slums.

Establishment of a decentralized garbage and refuse collection system to keep pace with the rapid growth of the city.

A continuation of the administrations program of extension of water and sewer facilities with a "pay-as-you-go" policy and the building of a new treatment plant.

Continuation of the present policy toward annexation.

Keep pace with the need for street improvements and lighting.

Expand the city engineering division.

Clean up and expand the Columbus Zoo.

The Health Levy Should Pass

Columbus residents are being asked to vote next Tuesday to spend three cents a week for good protection of their health. We believe it is worth it and endorse the health levy.

Out of that three cents a week for each of us, the department of health will still have a difficult task in maintaining at a high level its many services so important to every person in Columbus — home nursing care, disease control, children's clinics, mothers' clinics, milk inspection, meat inspection, laboratory tests, insect control, rat control, general sanitation, housing inspection, neighborhood improvement, health of the aged, health education.

That's a mighty big order—not to mention such services as mental health and industrial health the department hasn't even started for lack of funds to date, but which may be possible when the levy is approved.

When every one of us has so much to gain at so little cost, it is small wonder then that the health levy has such widespread approval and no organized opposition. But it requires a 55 per cent favorable vote. For that reason, it is important that every man and woman who values good health for himself and herself, for members of the family, for neighbors and friends, actually vote FOR the levy.

Sensenbrenner—

for the one vacancy are Vesta R. Griffiths, Carl R. Hutchinson, Paul L. Walker, Mildred S. Bickal and Helen E. Carroll.

Only four candidates are on the ballot for the four vacancies in the Columbus Board of Education. The four, assured of election, are Paul R. Langdon, Homer Trantham, Daniel W. DeHayes and George C. Farris.

A tax levy to raise additional funds for health purposes will be up for consideration. The tax would add three quarters of a mill per dollar of tax valuation.

Glenwood Plans Indoor Activities For Winter

With the onset of colder weather, Glenwood Recreation Center is moving its Saturday morning activities indoors. A tumbling program, designed primarily for boys, 8 through 12 years of age, will be a highlight.

Elementary stunts will be stressed during the first two months, and then more advanced routines will be taught as the class progresses. Stunts included in the program are forward and backward rolls, cartwheels, round-offs, tip-up headstand, headstand, and balancing stunts. Combining these various stunts into routines will make up the advanced part of the program. Also, various elementary pyramids will be taught.

The program will be held every Saturday morning at Glenwood from 9-10 o'clock. All boys who wish to learn how to tumble, and who are in the 8-12 age group should report to the Center with gym shoes and shorts.

Halloween Parties Held

Masquerade parties, celebrating the Halloween season, were held last week by the Teen Club and Leaders Club of Glenwood Recreation Center.

Barbara Walde, dressed as a football player, won first prize for costume at the Leaders Club party Saturday, Oct. 28. Elaine Tonti, dressed as an Oriental was second.

The party committee, consisting of Vicki Quinn, Donna Young, Jan Williams, Elaine Tonti, and Faye Armour decorated the club room with the traditional orange and black crepe paper streamers, and masks on the wall. Refreshments were served. Games and contests were conducted by the committee.

Last Wednesday, Oct. 26, the scene was set for the Teen Club Halloween Dance, with members coming dressed in the traditional Halloween costumes and masks. At the intermission, cider and donuts were served.

Donna Liston was chairman of the dance arrangement. Miss Liston and Ronnie Ogden did the decorating; Diane Berkheimer, Pat McCarthy, and Beth Gregan took care of refreshments.

Barbara Lucille Williams Is Bride Of Gordon C. Andrews On Saturday

MR. AND MRS. GORDON C. ANDREWS
J. Curtis Allen Photo

St. Agnes Church was the scene of the nuptial mass uniting Miss Barbara Lucille Williams and Mr. Gordon C. Andrews on Saturday morning at 8:30. The couple repeated their vows before an altar banked with arrangements of white flowers and greenery, and lighted candles marked each pew. Rev. Robert Schmidt officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williams, 644 S. Eureka-av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Frank McCarthy, Boston, Mass.

The bridal gown, fashioned of white chantilly lace over net and satin, was designed with a vee-shaped neckline, fitted bodice extending into a vee over the skirt and long sleeves, forming points over the hands. The bouffant skirt, worn over hoops and crinolines, extended into a chapel-length train.

A crown of matching lace, trimmed with sequins and seed pearls, held her fingertip-length veil of illusion and carried a formal bouquet of white roses interspersed with pink rosebuds. Her only jewelry, a lavaliere of silver filigree, set with a diamond, was worn by her mother at her wedding.

Miss Dorothy Horst, maid of honor, was gowned in a yellow crystelle gown designed with a scoop neckline and large self-bow at the nape of the neck with long streamers. The bouffant skirt was in floor length and she wore a matching bandeau with lace veil. Her bouquet of pink rosebuds was edged with yellow net.

Bridesmaids were Miss Saundra Gall and Miss Janet Duncan. Their gowns, styled identically with the one worn by the honor attendant, were in pastel aqua and pink respectively. Miss Gall's flowers were yellow rosebuds with aqua net and Miss Duncan's, pink rosebuds with pink net.

The little flower girl was Ruth Williams. She was dressed as a miniature bride in a gown styled similarly with the one worn by the bride, and she carried a miniature arrangement of the bride's bouquet.

Mr. Frank Lautner served as bestman. Seating wedding guests were Mr. Harold Haynes and Mr. Kenneth Butler.

Mrs. Williams chose for her daughter's wedding a toast taffeta gown with gold accessories and a single yellow orchid. The mother of the bridegroom wore a brown suit with matching accessories, and a yellow orchid.

Honka's Provincial House was the scene of the reception held immediately following the wedding. Hostesses were Miss Sonia Meisner, Mrs. Joseph Haff, Miss Yvonne Gall, Mrs. Michael Kay, Mrs. Albert West and Miss Carol Keinerman.

The new Mrs. Andrews was graduated from West High School and is employed at Williams Market, Sullivant-av, at Glenwood-av. The bridegroom was graduated from high school in Boston and is a member of the United States Air Force, stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Following a wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the couple will be at home at 1126 Gulfwest-av.

Look what you don't have to iron...

when you have an electric dryer!

Sheets, towels and pillow cases dry as wrinkle-free in an electric dryer that you can just fold them up and put them away.

Jeans, corduroys and T-shirts are ready-to-wear just as they come from the dryer—with no ironing.

Underthings and nightwear dried in a dryer are smooth enough to wear without ironing, and are far more soft and comfy, too.

All in all, an electric dryer actually cuts your ironing time by a third or more!

And the lifting and lugging you love! No wrestling a 30-lb basket of clothes out to the clothesline. No bending and stretching to hang up each piece. All you do is slip your clothes from washer to dryer and set the dial. The electric dryer does the rest.

Because an electric dryer is frameless, clothes come out fresh, sweet and clean. And the cost of an electric dryer, including installation, is far less than for any other fully automatic type. Why not let your appliance dealer show you an electric dryer now? He's offering special values during Dryer-Buyer days.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments No. 2 and No. 3

THE PROBLEM — Many judges, county officials and state officers receive less salary than others holding equal offices. The situation occurred when the State Legislature voted salary adjustments in 1951 and 1955 which, under the existing provisions of Ohio's Constitution, could not be received by present office holders. These adjustments were essentially "cost of living" increases. Unfortunately most experienced judges and other office holders are being paid less than those elected or appointed to office since the Legislature voted the salary adjustments.

THE ANSWER — This is a non-partisan effort to bring Ohio's law up-to-date. By voting "YES" for amendments No. 2 and No. 3 you will enable all officials and judges doing the same work to receive the same pay. You'll agree, this is a fair and businesslike procedure.

WHAT YOU CAN DO — Vote "YES" and urge your friends to vote for these proposed constitutional amendments which will provide capable men and women, experienced in their jobs, with the salary voted them by the State Legislature.

These amendments do not apply to members of the Legislature or elected State officials.

COLUMBUS NEEDS SHAPTER

Walter J. Shapter believes that when all members of City Council are of the same political faith we do not have good City Government.

For City Councilman
X Walter J. Shapter

Life-long resident of Columbus. Married. Resides at 112 Aldrich Road, Clintonville. Engaged in Home Building, General Contracting, Real Estate Management. Veteran of World War I.

Promoter of Better Building Codes, Zoning Studies, Thoroughfares, Rehabilitation, Paint and Fix-Up Programs on City and National Levels.

Member of Indianola Church of Christ. Past President of Columbus Home Builders; Aladdin Shrine Band; Chamber of Commerce; Columbus Real Estate Board.

Mr. Shapter believes it is time that city council give Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner its cooperation and work for the good of the city. Included in his platform he believes:

1. The City should employ a full time Finance Director.
2. The City should adopt a master traffic control system.
3. Police and Firemen should have equal salaries and these salaries should be high enough to attract and keep up a good force.
4. Columbus should have better transportation system with zone fares and student rates.
5. Columbus should seek Federal aid for slum clearance.
6. The City should have a pay as you go plan for sewer improvements with a new sewerage treatment plant as soon as possible.
7. The City should continue its present policy of annexation.

Go to the Polls-Vote for SHAPTER

SHAPTER FOR COUNCIL COMMITTEE—113 Aldrich Road
Thomas A. Graham, Chairman, 2900 Neil Ave.

MR. and MRS. VOTER

Joe Jones answers your Questions

Q: Why are you fighting to reduce the sewer tax for the residents of the City of Columbus?

A: The rate was doubled by the present Mayor for the purpose of building a new plant in the Southeast section of Columbus, which later events and the expert advice of reputable engineers said was unnecessary at this time. The expansion of the present plant will provide enough capacity for 7 to 10 years future growth. The Service Director himself has said that he could cut the rate 50c.

Q: Since the Mayor has presented a budget for 1956 4-million dollars in excess of receipts, are you for doubling the present income tax?

A: Personally, I do not think it necessary to increase to budget 4-million dollars and I am opposed to any increase in the present income tax. What we need is more efficiency and economy so that present income and taxes will do the job.

Q: Are you for the new expressways to serve all the people of the Hilltop area instead of interests in the center of the city?

A: I have always fought for the expressway system, but for the purpose of benefiting all of our citizens instead of a selected few.

Q: Are you for a rapid transit system to the Hilltop area?

A: By all means — and as soon as possible.

Q: Do you think more street lights are needed in the darkened area of the Hilltop?

A: Yes and, with present plant capacity capable of carrying the load it can be done.

Q: In this community we have complaints of not enough traffic lights to protect the older citizens and the school youngsters. Will you definitely be for more traffic lights?

A: I most assuredly will be for more traffic lights. They can be regulated to provide for the free flow of traffic and still provide the protection for safe crossings.

Q: Are you for the present Mayor's proposal to construct and place garbage disposal plants in residential areas, particularly in the Hilltop area?

A: Under no circumstances in any residential area of the city.

Q: Do you believe in better police protection for residents of the Hilltop area, particularly in the night season?

A: Yes, and by kicking politics and the politicians out of Police Division operation this can and will be done.

Q: Would you fire a Hilltop businessman from a non-paying civic job because of politics if he were doing a good job?

A: No I would not, nor would I fire any other appointee who is doing a sincere, capable and conscientious job. The test for city service is ability to perform—not ability to produce votes.

These HILLTOP Druggists ask you to Consider - - - the American Peoples' Great Blessings of - - -

Blessings made possible by the efforts of the MEDICAL and PHARMACEUTICAL Professions

The doctor and the pharmacist and their colleagues in allied professions have made great contributions to longer and healthier lives for the American people. The combined efforts of these professions, through new drugs, new surgical techniques, new diagnostic tests have lengthened everyone's life expectancy.

The pharmaceutical profession has given medicine the tools to work with so far as drugs are concerned. Today a few antibiotic capsules will do what a million pills or powders failed to do 20 years ago. It is easy to see what the sulfa drugs and antibiotics have contributed to modern medicine (SEE CHART BELOW). The figures represent the decrease in death as of 1949. The chances are there has been a greater decrease in the past six years due to the new antibiotics.

DISEASE	1933-1937	1947-1949	% Decrease
Pneumonia—all forms	86.8	33.3	61%
Rheumatic fever	1.6	0.9	43%
Cerebrospinal meningitis	2.0	0.6	70%
Tonsilitis and pharyngitis	3.5	0.4	88%
Diseases of ear and mastoid	3.1	0.4.	85%
Septicemia	0.9	0.3	66%
Enteritis and diarrhea	15.0	6.1	59%
Appendicitis	12.5	2.9	76%

(The figures given represent the death rate per 100,000)

The use of biologicals, the antibiotics and other chemotherapeutic agents has measurably increased the life expectancy of the American people.

In 1900, the average life expectancy was about 42. In a little over 50 years, this life expectancy has increased to 67. Yes, 25 years of normal productive life have been added to the life span of the average American in this comparatively short time.

Most of us take all of this for granted. Somehow we forget the dread diseases of yesteryear. We should continually remember the great contributions of our medical men. And Hilltop druggists suggest that you also not forget the contributions made by the pharmaceutical profession to your longer and healthier life with "wonder" drugs that have become less and less expensive over the years.

DO YOU WANT
THE C.I.O. TO MAKE THE LAWS OF OHIO?
Say "NO" to the C.I.O.
On Issue No. 4 On The Nov. 8 Ballot

FORM OF OFFICIAL BALLOT
PROPOSED LAW
4. To increase unemployment compensation benefits.
(Proposed by initiative Petition)
A majority vote is necessary for passage.
The proposed unemployment compensation law provides increased weekly benefits, increased duration of benefits, increased dependency allowances, changes in base period, changes in definition of unemployment, provides for payment to a claimant under a guaranteed annual wage plan, provides that no benefits are paid for any week of unemployment during which any part of the unemployment is due to a labor dispute, provides that any person who has received benefits fraudulently shall not be entitled to benefits for a period of time, provides that benefits shall not affect the unemployment compensation law of this State.
X YES NO
Shall the proposed law to increase unemployment compensation benefits be adopted?
WHO WILL PAY THESE "FANTASTIC" BENEFITS FOR NOT WORKING?
YOU
THE TAXPAYERS AND CONSUMERS WILL PAY!
The C.I.O. has placed an outrageous demand for "Workless Pay" on the November 8 ballot. This C.I.O. initiative petition asks for increased unemployment benefits. The C.I.O. wants these reckless changes:
1. The workless pay bill would provide $1.48 an hour . . . $59.00 a week . . . $256.00 a month . . . FOR NOT WORKING; and all of it TAX-FREE. The minimum wage law calls for $1.00 an hour, considered fair by labor and management alike.
2. The $256.00 a month could be drawn, FOR NOT WORKING, for a period of nine months . . . a total of $2301.00.
These changes, increasing benefits from a maximum of $30.00 a week to $50.00 a week, and from 26 weeks to 39 weeks, will cost an additional 47½ million dollars each year . . . AND YOU WILL PAY IT!
Everyone agrees that the higher rate of unemployment compensation, voted by the Ohio Legislature, effective October, 1955, is fair . . . except the C.I.O., which insists on forcing a bill down your throats which will be playing into the hands of "professional loafers" and "job jumpers". The C.I.O. wants you to increase these benefits. Your elected representatives in the Ohio Legislature have already increased them so they are the second highest in the nation. Vote "NO" against this selfish attempt to have the conscientious, hard-working many support the frivolous few.
THE C.I.O. INITIATED THIS BILL TO BENEFIT A FEW AT THE EXPENSE OF MANY!
Don't Let The C.I.O. Or Any Other Pressure Group Make Your Laws.
The Constitution Provides A Legislature For That Purpose.
"FANTASTIC" IS WHAT GOVERNOR FRANK LAUSCHE CALLED THIS BILL WHEN HE READ IT.

Westlake's Bid For Council Awaits Pleasure Of Voters

Candidate To Dedicate Self To Community

Next Tuesday W. Ralston Westlake will wind up his current campaign for city council, cast his ballot in the secrecy of an election booth and then join his wife and children in their Hilltop home to await the pleasure of his fellow citizens.

For Westlake, the family grouping on election night is no novelty. He was part of such a family portrait for the 10 years that his late father, Milton W. Westlake, was a Columbus councilman and for eight other years that his father served as county commissioner.

With such a political background, it was only natural that W. Ralston (or Ross as his Hilltop friends know him) should enter a life of service to his community. Because of that background, as Westlake puts it himself:

"I have been acquainted with the service that can be rendered in public office. I decided that I would like to try to follow in my father's footsteps."

The Republican candidate owns the Westlake Ruby Glass Works, 3294 W. Broad-st, who has operated successfully for 30 years. More recently Westlake has opened the Westlake Motor Court on W. Broad-st.

But in any picture of the Westlake enterprises, Westlake's wife since 1933, the former Helen Siegwald, and their three children must be figured. Each and every member of this closely-knit family plays an important part in the Westlake success story.

Helen, a native of Columbus' South Side, works hand in hand with her husband in the operation of both the glass works and the motor court.

Both Helen and Ross are very proud of their children. David, the oldest, 20, is now a junior at Ohio Wesleyan University, where he already shows signs of a political awareness. He is active in Young Republican affairs on campus, following his earlier activities as one of a group of West High students who helped form a teen-age Republican club for Franklin County. David was selected to work in Taft headquarters at the Republican National Convention in Chicago in 1952.

The Westlake daughters, Diane, 14, and Marilyn, 12, are both studying at West. Diane is a sophomore in the high school and Marilyn is in the seventh grade at the junior high.

The family lives at 3294 W. Broad-st, and are active members of the St. John Lutheran Church. They swim together, ice skate and go camping together. Westlake is a member of the Hilltop Business Association, West Gate Lodge Masons, Scottish Rite and other school and civic groups.

Though Westlake is a candidate of the Republican party, he has won the applause of individuals and groups of all parties because of his sincerity. His gratitude for this public reaction was expressed this week in an open letter to Columbus voters. He said:

"While I have sought no endorsements, in recent weeks I have received many endorsements from Republicans and Democrats alike. I welcome the support of everyone interested in the progress and welfare of this city.

"As I have stated before, I believe the men on Council should be men of vision, sincerity of purpose and courageous action. If elected, I shall at all times try to serve the people of Columbus in a manner that will merit their confidence."

County, City Experience Listed by Candidate For Municipal Judgeship

Richard T. Savage, candidate for one of the new county-wide municipal judgeships, outlined his qualifications for the job this week.

Savage, a county magistrate for the past four years, has had experience with township problems and has also had an opportunity to familiarize himself with city courts, a spokesman for his campaign said.

Head of the "Elect Savage Judge Committee" is Edward M. Taylor, who said on behalf of the committee this week:

"Nothing is more important to your (the citizens') welfare than the selection of fair judges who possess patience and that which is known as 'judicial temperament.' Those who have it are rare indeed. We recognize this quality in Mr. Savage."

HILLTOPPERS BACK WALKER

A pair of Hilltop residents have announced their support for Paul L. Walker for the new state board of education. The two supporters, John Schneider, 268 S. Powell-av, and Joe Ryan, 178 N. Warren-av, outlined Walker's background as follows:

"At 44 he is the youngest in the field of five candidates. He is the father of two school-age children. For 26 years he was a newspaperman and is currently executive secretary of the American Cancer Society's Franklin County unit. He is a native of Columbus, attended East High School and Ohio State University."

Citizens Unite In Endorsing Bond Issue

A citizens' committee has been formed in Franklin County to help pass the Public Education and Building Bond Issue on the ballot here for Nov. 8.

The issue would authorize Ohio to borrow $150-million to rebuild its inadequate and out-dated mental institutions and other public buildings. half of the money would go for mental and penal buildings and half for loans to public schools, state universities and office buildings.

Money would come from a one-cent additional tax on packages of cigarettes.

Among groups said to be in favor of the issue are the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, the CIO and AFL, churches of every faith, the County Mental Health Association and the County Council for Retarded Children.

Two-Party Council Asked By Democratic Candidate

A plea for a two-party city council was voiced this week by Walter J. Shapter, Democratic candidate for a council post. Asking the voters to elect him and two other Democratic candidates to the city legislative positions, Shapter said:

"I feel that my background as a successful builder and contractor, along with my experience as a member of various committees, such as: zoning, better codes, etc. on a city and national level, affords me the experience needed in a growing community."

LAST MINUTE DISASTER

The doctors, after much consultation, had decided that, after 20 years in the mental hospital, Mr. Blank was fit to be released.

On the morning of his release Mr. Blank was allowed to shave himself instead of having to submit to the attentions of the barber in his home.

Turning to address a remark to one of the attendants who had come to wish him goodbye, his razor caught the string which supported the shaving mirror, which fell to the ground.

When Mr. Blank tried to go on with his shave he looked at the [redacted] wall.

Well," he said with a sign, if that isn't just my luck. After 20 years in this place, on the very day I'm going to be let out, I've cut my head off!"

Five Judge Candidates Endorsed By Lawyers Of Franklin County

A committee of some 300 Democratic lawyers in Franklin County made a plea this week to voters throughout the county to give particular consideration to the non-partisan judicial ballot by which five men to fill the five posts of Municipal Judge will be selected Tuesday, Nov. 8.

The committee, headed by Atty. Simon P. Dunkle, chairman, is sponsoring the candidacies of Municipal Judge Henry L. Holden, Municipal Judge Ralph G. Smith, Atty. Evan P. Ford, Atty. John C. Duffy and Atty. Leo A. Roberts. Said Mr. Dunkle:

"The selection of municipal judge is of vital importance to all voters in Franklin County this year since the court's jurisdiction has been widened to include the entire county."

James C. Penney, head of the Penney chain, observing 80th birthday: "I receive no salary—maybe that's why I'm kept on."

TEACHER SEEKS OFFICE

Vesta B. Griffiths, a Columbus school teacher for many years, is a candidate for the 12th District, State Board of Education. Mrs. Griffiths holds degrees from Ohio State University and has had 30 years experience as an educator.

G. Bromley Oxnam, Methodist Bishop of Washington: "We must never forget that an ideology cannot be demolished by atomic bombs, nor suffocated by poison gas. It must be met by a better ideology, equally dynamic.

School Board Candidate Gives Views

The major responsibility for policies, administration and conduct of Ohio schools lies with the local school districts, Carl R. Hutchinson, candidate for State Board of Education, said this week.

Hutchinson, a Worthington man, also spoke out strongly on behalf of citizen participation in school affairs.

"Citizens in the local school districts have a vital contribution to make for the betterment of our schools."

A former school teacher, Hutchinson is a graduate of Washburn College, Topeka, Kas., and the Chicago Theological Seminary. He regards the State Board of Education as an "ideal machinery for bringing about statewide coordination" of schools.

Hutchinson, during his association with the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, has been active for the past 20 years in helping develop neighborhood discussion groups in the state.

An Open Letter To the Voters of Columbus

Several months before the May primaries I announced my intention to become a candidate for City Council. I was urged to do so at the request of many of my friends. In view of the fact that my father, the late Milton W. Westlake, had been a member of City Council for ten years and a County Commissioner for eight years, I have been acquainted with the service than can be rendered in public office. I decided that I would like to try to follow in my father's footsteps.

Previous to the primary and since that time I did not seek indorsement of any political groups or organizations. I have at all times felt that it is my privilege to be a candidate and I sincerely believe I can be of extreme service to the conduct of good government in Columbus if I am elected a member of City Council. If elected I intend to at all times vote for the things that are good for Columbus and Will at no time be guided in my decisions by pressure from any party or group.

While I have sought no indorsements, in recent weeks I have received many indorsements from Republicans and Democrats alike. I welcome the support of everyone interested in the progress and welfare of this city.

As I have stated before, I believe the men on Council should be men of vision, sincerity of purpose and courageous action.

If elected, I shall at all times try to serve the people of Columbus in a manner that will merit their confidence.

Your vote in the election next Tuesday will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
W. RALSTON WESTLAKE
Republican Candidate for City Council

Open House And Dedication Set For Wednesday At Starling

Open house and dedication services for the new half-million dollar annex to Starling Junior High School, Central-av and Town-st, will be held next Wednesday, Nov. 9, beginning at 6:45 p.m.

Dedicatory speaker for the event, to be held in the new auditorium, will be Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, superintendent of Columbus public schools.

A whole section of the old school building has been moved into the annex, which houses an auditorium, gymnasium, locker rooms and an instrumental music room.

Remodeling of that section of the old school building, which formerly housed the gymnasium and locker rooms, has also been completed. Cooking and sewing laboratories, complete with shiny new stoves and sewing machines as well as kitchen facilities for the school and cafeteria now occupy the space where the gymnasium was located.

"The instrumental music room and gymnasium were moved in an effort to confine noisy subjects to a separate wing of the school," W. W. Barlow, principal, said.

The auditorium has been decorated with a new and unusual color scheme, the principal added, and also contains a spacious lobby, mezzanine, and a movie projection booth.

Remodeling of the old Starling Junior High School building has been in progress since 1953, and the annex was begun last year with funds provided by the last school bond issue. Many rural students now attend Starling, in addition to those from the West Side of Columbus.

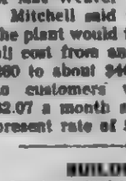
The annex is connected with the old school building by a hallway which displays on its walls the school's former athletic teams. Large photographs of Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy, Starling's first college football All-American graduate, and Bob Kline, a major league baseball player, also are located there.

The annex will hold open house for about one hour, from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. An informal dedication ceremony will follow in which members of various West Side organizations will participate.

An instrumental and vocal program, featuring the Starling Junior High Girls' Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Richard Jackson, and the school orchestra, conducted by Vaughn Jones, will be presented during the dedication ceremonies.

Ramsey Croce and Abbot were architects for the addition and the building was handled by the Gelo Construction Co.

Open Hearing Continued On Sewage Plant



A public hearing on the proposed sewage treatment plant for Hilliards has been continued until Nov. 17 at 11 a.m. by County Commissioners.

The commissioners ordered County Sanitary Engineer Dene F. Mitchell to relocate the plant approximately a mile east of Hilliards.

Original plans called for the location of the plant adjacent to and east of the present plant within the village. The new location will be in the vicinity of Leap-rd and the New York Central Railroad on either the farm of Mae Weaver or W. D. Brown.

Mitchell said the relocation of the plant would increase the overall cost from an estimated $364,280 to about $400,000. The cost to customers would be about $2.07 a month as compared to a present rate of $1 a month.

Dear Editor:

The longer the campaign for mayor lasts the more the Republican candidate vitiates. He continues trumped up charges and accusations.

Through it all, Mayor Sensenbrenner ignores them and maintains his composure and dignity in office.

When the irate mothers and fathers swoop down on council to protest against its long neglect of the sanitary tunnel, he plays his old trick of trying to shift the responsibility to the mayor.

The people have more intelligence than the veteran councilman would have them have. They are not as easily fooled as he thinks.

He boasts that when he becomes mayor of Columbus (?), he will not be bossed by the newspapers or department stores. How could he be if he is elected mayor, backed by a one party council? He would be the "big boss" himself with the possibility of Columbus having an invisible government planned in his office.

As a reminder for the veteran 20-year councilman, we will quote the words of one of his own party (whose example it would be well for Mr. Jones to follow), who said, "A government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

To establish a one-party system of government for Columbus, Mr. Jones would have it read, a government of a one party system, by a one party system, for a one party system shall not perish from the city of Columbus.

There has been a two party system of government in our country since the adoption of our constitution. The good people of Columbus will see to it on Nov. 8 that this system of government shall not end to satisfy the selfish motives of Mr. Jones.

By this token Mayor Sensenbrenner will be elected with representatives of the Democratic party elected to council.

I shall vote for the mayor and for the three Democrats.

Flower Arrangements, Puppet Show To Have Chinese Motif

The picture window at the Hilltop Branch Library has been filled with lovely flower arrangements the last few weeks. Mrs. William Xander, 226 S. Westgate-av, makes the compositions. At present there is an arrangement of autumn leaves.

For book week, which begins Nov 13, Mrs. Xander is planning a Chinese composition in keeping with the puppet show, "The Bag of Fire" which the library staff will present for the children during this celebration. Mrs. Harry Emrick of the library staff is making the puppets and planning the show with the assistance of other staff members.

Classes for community schools are invited to visit the library during Book Week. It is necessary for teachers to call for appointments, stating the number of classes that will attend. At this time the Kiwanis case will also feature a display of Chinese items which Mrs. Xander is assembling.

Mrs. Xander, a member of the Highland Garden Club, is particularly fond of arranging flowers. For others with a similar interest, the library owns such books as "The American House Book on Flower Arrangement and Table Setting," "Treasury of Flower Arrangement" by John Conway, "Flower Arrangement Workbook" by Myra Brooks," "Flower Craft" by Patricia Roberts, and "The Complete Flower Hobby Book" by Marguerite Yates.

A number of new fiction books added to the shelves of the Hilltop Branch Library include Budd Schulberg's "Waterfront," which pictures the turbulent harbor of New York. A new novel by Evelyn Waugh is entitled, "Officers and Gentlemen." A sequel to "Men at Arms", it completes the story which covers the period of the Russo-German Alliance. "Katrina" by Jeramie Price, has its locale in Russia in the early 1800's, and is the story of a peasant girl who becomes empress.

Four new mysteries are "Invasion of Privacy" by Harry Kurnets," "Gideon's Day," by J. J. Marric, "Death of an Angel" by Frances and Richard Lockridge, and "Clean Break," by Lionel White.

Library hours are Monday through Friday, 1 to 9 p. m. Saturday, 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

This week's bouquet from Rosebud to Jack Merriman, now the owner of Seiller's Department Store. A very wide host of his friends join in wishing him success.

Is Window Painting Project Worthwhile?

The Hilltop Kiwanis Boys and Girls Committee is asking the question: Is the Halloween window painting project worth all that it costs in money and effort?

First, it should be known that this year the club spent over $500 on this project. In addition numerous men spent many hours of their time and many a merchant spent hours afterwards cleaning up paint from windows and sidewalks.

Our observation is that the project could be materially improved if it could be limited to students in the more advanced grades.

The windows were much more attractive back several years ago when older students did the work and anyone who saw the windows in the Arlington and Grandview areas will agree that the project could be considered more successful there than was the one on the Hilltop. Older students did the painting in those areas.

Now Let's Get The Show On The Road

Every election year finds high tension built up, just before that final day and we all sit back and relax after it is over.

Today congratulations are in order for both those who won and those who lost. Anyone who is willing to run for public office is to be complimented. It is a sacrifice.

Now that the votes have been counted it is time to settle down to business again and give our support to the winning candidates and ask that they in turn live up to the promises they made before the election.

It is great to live in America where the pendulum can swing from one side to the other . . . but to the day when it swings too far to one side or the other. Our job is to keep it moving . . . in a direction that levels off into progress and better things for more people.

Jackpot Winner Tells Newsboy How To Win

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it at once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $10 in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

Mrs. L. H. Gossett, 32 N. Ogden-av, an employe of Seiller's Department Store, was the lucky reader who received the copy of last week's Record containing the big jack-pot insignia. She brought the paper to the Record office first thing Thursday morning to collect her $47 in "Confederate" currency.

She described her discovery with, "I've looked the paper over so carefully each week, expecting the insignia to be hard to find, but I spotted it in that Super Duper ad as soon as I turned the page." She was also looking forward to the fun of spending those 47 easy-come dollars.

So others might see for themselves just how the insignia looks in the paper, Mrs. Gossett's copy of the Record with the jackpot insignia will be displayed in the window at the Hilltop Record office this week.

Since the five $1 insignia were undiscovered last week, the value of this week's jackpot will be $10. The usual five $1 insignia

Teacher Appeals For Help In Locating Purse

A West High School teacher, who stopped her car at Broad and Hague-av late yesterday afternoon to mail a letter, returned a few minutes later to find her purse had been taken from the seat of the car.

Miss Emma Uncapher believes that the purse may have been discarded and she is hoping someone may find it and return it to her. The large, black leather purse contained keys, driver's license and papers valuable only to the owner.

The finder may return the purse to West High School or call her at home, AM. 2-3739. A reward will be given for its return and no questions will be asked.

Valleyview Boy Injured; Car Overturned

An accident which appeared more spectacular than serious Monday afternoon resulted in an injury to a six-year-old pedestrian and the overturning of an automobile at N. Hague and Valleyview-dr.

Six-year-old Jimmy Hilditch, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Hilditch, 2500 Valleyview-dr, was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital where he was held for observation. He suffered cuts and bruises about the head.

A witness, Lanny Werkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Werkman, who live across the street from the accident scene, said that the car, driven by Robert Sheldon, swerved off the road in a vain attempt to avoid hitting the youngster and his four companions. The car overturned. Sheldon apparently was uninjured.

Preacher Goes A Hunting; Meat Is Deer

The preacher went a-hunting—Rev. Alex D. Vance, pastor of Trinity Assembly of God Church, bagged four deer on his annual hunting trip this year, enough to assure a venison feast for all the adults in his congregation. —STAFF Photo

The annual venison banquet has become a tradition with members of Trinity Assembly of God, 29 S. Eureka-av, formerly located at 50 Hayden-av. Each year the pastor, Rev. Alex D. Vance, and his wife travel west to hunt deer for the annual event.

This year the couple, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Parsons of Springfield, hunted near Sundance, Wyo., and bagged four deer, two eight-point bucks and two does. One of the deer will be barbecued for the banquet to be held Nov. 19. Rev. C. W. Holland of 107 S. Westgate-av, the district superintendent of the denomination, will be guest speaker.

The party was gone for two weeks this fall and hunted in snow from four to eight inches deep. In the past four years the Vances have brought back a total of 16 deer.

A venison dinner is Rev. Vance's gift to members of his congregation, in grateful acknowledgment of their annual gift to him. This year they presented him with a 500-watt slide projector.

Rev. Vance, suffering from a throat ailment and unable to speak above a whisper, hasn't preached for the past 13 Sundays. However, he had a growth removed from his vocal chords three weeks ago and his doctor assures him he will be able to speak from the pulpit on Nov. 20.

The church is now being remodeled to accommodate the rapidly growing congregation.

Sensenbrenner, Westlake Winners

Westlake New Face In Council

City Council will have a "new look" next year. The voters of Columbus saw to that Tuesday when they flocked to the polls in a strong turnout for an off-year election, and chose, among other candidates, the Hilltop's W. Ralston Westlake.

Westlake led the council race most of Tuesday evening and was one-two going into the early hours of Wednesday, as Board of Elections workers began to work out the late returns from precincts not using voting machines.

Along with Westlake, the electors picked incumbents Dewey E. Garner and Daniel J. Whitacre, and a newcomer (and a Democrat) W. Wesley Llewelyn.

The final totals were so close, that there was talk at the election board that a recount might be asked by losing candidates.

Final results showed:

Garner, 43,035
Whitacre, 42,810
Llewelyn, 42,435
Westlake, 42,368
Walter J. Shapter Jr., 42,201
Roland A. Sedgwick, 42,077
Robert T. Forman, 41,336
Albert B. Gregg, 39,876

W. Ralston Westlake

Mayor Sensenbrenner

Besides Garner and Whitacre, other incumbents were: Gregg and Sedgwick.

Introduction of Llewelyn, a Democrat, and Westlake, an independent Republican, into council ranks, led some Democratic Party observers to believe that a reaction to Republican dominance of the Council was responsible. They point, too, to Mayor Sensenbrenner's comfortable win over Joseph R. Jones, one of the present Council's Republicans.

The final unofficial results were not available until about 3 a.m. Wednesday, due to the "loss" of the count from an 18th Ward precinct, it was reported. his home precinct O in the 11th Westlake drew 85 votes from Ward. His nearest opponents, Llewelyn and Forman, each drew 71 votes in that precinct.

In other action taken by voters Tuesday, complimentary votes were given to the four Columbus Board of Education candidates, Paul R. Langdon, with 56,216; Homer Trantham, 52,900; Daniel W. DeHayes, 52,553; and George C. Farris, 52,941. All were assured of election.

The city voted down the Health Levy, 43,858 to 33,142; passed the public buildings issue, 72,530 to 44,380; and thundered a big "No" to the CIO-backed Unemployment Compensation increase. The vote was 90,739 against and 40,133 in favor.

It's Mayor Over Jones All The Way

Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner was given a strong vote of confidence Tuesday by voters of Columbus when they re-elected him to the city's top office.

The Democratic Mayor led all the way. By 10 p.m. the outcome seemed assured and within the hour following, Sensenbrenner issued a statement thanking the voters for electing him.

In a vote, termed by Board of Elections Clerk Charles Davies as "heavy for an off-year election," Sensenbrenner piled up a tally of 80,878 to 49,560 for his opponent, Republican Councilman Joseph R. Jones.

Final figures, though still unofficial, were not forthcoming until about 3 a.m. Wednesday, as a "lost precinct" had to be sought out by board of elections workers.

The mayor took an early lead in traditionally Democratic areas, but maintained a comfortable margin even after Republican strongholds reported in.

In his home precinct FF in Ward 11 on the Hilltop, Sensenbrenner led his opponent by 97 votes to 30. The overall, unofficial, unchecked, figures in the entire 11th Ward showed the mayor leading 4246 to 3634.

Quotes From Bible

Issuing his early statement to newsmen, radio and television reporters, Sensenbrenner, as has been his custom, quoted from the Bible. He said:

"What shall I render unto the Lord for His benefit toward me?"

Then, in answer to the Biblical query, the mayor answered:

"I, as mayor of Columbus, shall render unto Him and to you, my citizens, integrity of heart and sincerity of purpose."

Statement Issued

The mayor's statement began:

"To citizens of Columbus who have placed this confidence in me, my sincere and heartfelt thanks. This is not only a happy occasion for me and my administration but one of rededication for all of us—Democrats and Republicans—to put our shoulders together in progressive cooperation in the united effort of building our city for the benefit of all its citizens."

Then after the Biblical quotation and his reply, he said:

"Again my thanks to you for the confidence you have placed in me and my administration. We shall never let you down."

The Mayor told reporters that

Merriman Names Mrs. McGinnis As Executive Assistant

Announcement was made yesterday by Jack Merriman, who recently acquired ownership of

Mrs. Mary McGinnis

Seiller's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad-st, of the appointment of Mrs. Mary McGinnis as his executive assistant. Her duties will include that of general merchandise and personnel manager.

Mrs. McGinnis has been with the Hilltop firm for about four years, having previously served in an executive capacity for 18 years with a downtown department store. She is the wife of Phillip McGinnis, a manufacturer of bakery equipment.

Mrs. McGinnis has been coordinator and commentator for Seiller's style shows since she joined the firm.

London Girl Is Victim Of Auto Accident

Peggy Lee Barker, 18, of London, became Columbus' 87th traffic fatality this year on the eve of her wedding when she was thrown from a car driven by her fiance, Lonnie Henry 18, of London, Friday evening. She died 40 minutes after the accident in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

The couple, accompanied by her twin sister, Patty Lou, and his brother, Floyd, Jr., were returning from a shopping trip to Central Point when the accident occurred. Their car collided with another driven by James W. Chamberlin, 16, 1048 W. Broad-st, at the intersection of Richardson-av and Olive-st.

A June graduate of London High School, Miss Barker is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Barker; sister, Patty, and brother, Richard, of Columbus.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Lukens Funeral Home, with burial in Kirkwood Cemetery.

Volunteers Of America Offer 'Real Cool' Bottle Warmer

By Bill Easterling

Are you in the market for a bottle warmer with a missing element? Or a school desk — the type used when mom and pop were kids?

May be that just the item you need to complete your living room is an empty case for an Edison talking machine. You'll find all these items, along with hundreds of others even more obscure, at the Volunteers of America store, 379 W. Broad-st.

"You'd be surprised," says Fanny Sexton, who has been a clerk at the Volunteers' store for 12 years. "Sooner or later we sell just about anything here."

Mrs. Sexton even remembers a day when she sold a coat right off a man's back—well, almost right off his back. A customer had come in to look around, Mrs. Sexton recalled, and laid his jacket down on a pile of the store's stock.

A second customer picked the jacket up, liked it and asked Mrs. Sexton the price. She decided that the jacket should bring about 50 cents. The first customer discovered his loss just as his jacket was leaving the building.

Fifty cents is not an infrequent price at the store. Fur coats sell as high as $5 and most men's trousers go for less than a dollar. Twenty-five-cent pocket novels, in excellent condition, may be had for a nickel, and 78 r.p.m. phonograph records, bearing such titles as "Huggin' and Chalkin'" and "They Raided The Joint" by Hot Lips Page, sell for 10 cents.

Most of the merchandise handled at the Volunteers' store, however, is of a more conventional nature. They have used clothes, reconditioned furniture and mattresses, electric motors, dishes, books, and a great many other items.

In cloth bound editions the Volunteers carry almost the whole series of Tom Swift stories. Naturally other well-known titles are also available.

Proceeds from the store are used as part of the income for maintaining the Volunteers of America organization in Franklin County. This charity maintains a refuge for migrants and homeless men. It was founded in New York in 1896 by General and Mrs. Ballington Booth, who also founded the Salvation Army in America.

The store is only a part of the Columbus' Volunteers' activities. The organization also collects paper, magazines and rags which they package and sell. Through these operations, and through the donations of individuals, the charity has become almost 100 per cent self-supporting. The community chest supplies only about one per cent of the funds used annually by the Volunteers.

The Volunteer group occupies the old Toledo-Ohio Central railway terminal, where from 30 to 40 men are housed and fed daily. A annex adjoining building contains the Volunteers' store, workshop and warehouse.

"We try to get the men to settle down and stop migrating," said Maj. Harriet McDonald, who heads the Volunteer organization here. "We offer them not only food and a place to stay, but recreation facilities and an opportunity to pay for these things in service to the organization."

Maj. McDonald told of a project recently completed whereby an "honor dormitory" has been installed. It is a large room attractively furnished with eight beds, two desks, lounge chairs and a library.

"We hope it will be an incentive for them to improve their living habits," Maj. McDonald explained. The honor dormitory may be occupied by all men who have lived at the Volunteer organization for over 45 days, who have observed all the rules of the or-

Mamie Writes; Hearts Sing

A gracious gesture from the First Lady of the land made two little hearts sing with joy last week.

The two children, students at John Burroughs School, had each sent a simple and sincere message expressing their concern over the president's illness, and Mrs. Eisenhower's grateful reply assured them that their well wishes were deeply appreciated.

Little Jeffrey "Kim" Reynolds, 202 S. Burgess-av, was especially worried about the president as Oct. 14 rolled around for he and "Ike" share that birthday. As any little boy knows, birthdays are no time to be ill, so he sent reassuring get-well wishes along with his birthday greetings.

Barbara Kay Garrett also felt that President Eisenhower would surely be cheered up if he knew the whole class was hoping for his quick recovery. At her suggestion, her classmates composed a letter.

The busy lady's reply to each child described her gratitude for their prayers and good wishes.

The gymnasium is being made into a two-floor arrangement to make room for more classrooms and future plans include a new sound-proof nursery and re-partitioning of basement rooms.

All the designing is done by Rev. Vance, and men of the church, whose occupations range from carpenters to tinsmiths, carry out the plans.

During the seven years since Rev. Vance has been pastor of the church, membership has increased from 40 to more than 200. The church has been located in its present building since March of 1953.

The church operates three buses to transport children to Sunday school and to take youth groups on outings.

ganization, and who have remained absolutely sober.

The Volunteers procure their merchandise for the store by solicitation and "call-in" donation.

The Volunteers store serves a twofold purpose in not only providing the home with funds, but supplying still-useful articles at small cost to people who need them.

A Volunteers truck picks up donated items from private homes and brings them into the warehouse, where furniture is reconditioned and miscellaneous items are sorted.

This often proves to be the organization's biggest job. What is to be done with the charred remains of a block of sealing wax, or a little glass object which resemble ash trays, but which turn out to be parts of electrical appliances?

But, as Mrs. Sexton says, there seems to be a market for just about everything they have.

Top Award At Kay Opening

"Jo-Jo," a live western burro, complete with bridle and saddle, is one of 103 awards to be given Nov. 26 by Kay Jewelers, who have opened their new store at the Great Western Shoppers' Mart. According to Newton King, manager, the burro is extremely friendly and gentle, typical of the breed, and will eat just anything that's fit to eat. "He's such a good-natured and lovable creature that everyone falls in love with him immediately," Mr. King said, "and the youngster who wins him will have a real buddy." Kay Jewelers have built a small corral in front of their Great Western store, where "Jo-Jo," named after the famous clown, can be seen daily until claimed by his new master.

he doesn't plan to make any changes in his administration. He said he will "stick with those" who helped him win election.

The victory of Sensenbrenner was given added significance when the figures on the council race were finally released. They showed that the mayor has gained possible allies in the election of a Democrat (Llewelyn) and an Independent Republican (Westlake) to council posts.

Mills Explains Farmers Attitude To Hunters As Deer Season Nears

By James R. Mills
(Franklin County Agricultural Agent)

How does the farmer feel about hunting?

A group of 990 farmers in 20 counties in Ohio were asked their opinions on this subject recently by representatives of the Wildlife Division of the Department of Natural Resources.

These farmers have problems with hunters in only 57 per cent of the cases. The two most important problems to them are property damage and hunting without permission. The 43 per cent who do not have problems have small farms, no cover or few hunters, or have arrangements which control hunters. Others find no fault with hunter conduct or achieve a personal and hospitable relation with the hunters.

The farmers indicated that much of the problem would be solved if each hunter asked for written permission to hunt on the farmer's land. There is a problem, but the majority of the farmers do not feel that it has reached a critical level.

Whether or not a farmer allows hunting depends on many things, including his past experiences with hunters, whether he likes to hunt (70 per cent do), how he is approached to request permission, and the situation on the farm. That farmers are a cooperative group when it comes to hunting is evidenced by the fact that 96 per cent of the farmers allow hunting.

Hunters can do their part to improve their relations with farmers by following a few simple rules of courtesy.

1. Visit the farmer before the hunting season opens to request permission to hunt on his land.
2. Respect his property.
3. Don't shoot near buildings, livestock or machinery.
4. Stay away from unharvested bean fields.
5. Climb fences at a solid post and close all gates.
6. Park automobiles out of the way and not in driveways.
7. Offer to share your game with your host.
8. Be a sportsman as well as a hunter.

The hunter can do much to develop a feeling of good will between farmers and sportsmen by following the simple rules of courtesy. Both the farmer and the hunter will benefit from this better understanding.

Seeds Planted In Navy Evolve Wilson Business

Columbus Floorcrafters, 2388 W. Broad st, springs from seeds planted in the mind of owner-operator L. E. Wilson, almost 25 years ago.

As a navy carpenter's mate in Washington, Wilson discovered an attraction in the pungent fragrance of new wood linoleum and paste.

When Wilson left the navy, after World War II, he opened a partnership floor-finishing business in Peoria, Ill. After a year and a half of Peoria, Wilson decided to return to his native Columbus.

Wilson opened his first floor-covering-finishing business in New Rome, and after three years in that location moved to the Hilltop, where the Floorkrafters have been since 1950.

Currently, Wilson is completing a sizeable project for the Manor Motel, of New Rome, although most of the firm's business is connected with private homes.

The Wilson firm handles all types of linoleum, wall tile and table top coverings as well as finishing wooden floors.

Wilson resides with his wife, Helen, at 2685 St. Patrick-st. They have two children Jo Ann, 19, a married son, Charles, and one granddaughter.

The seeds planted a quarter century ago continue to grow. Wilson plans to open a new storeroom and display window at the former location of Cunningham barbershop.

A record high acreage and yield has produced the largest alfalfa seed crop on record. The crop is estimated at nearly 210 million pounds, a third larger than last year and 18 percent above the former record of 1952.

Drive Begins In Local Areas To Sell Seals

Approximately 200,000 Christmas seal letters will go in the mail this week end for residents of Franklin County. Returns from the sale furnish the complete support of the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County and its countywide anti-TB activities.

Hilltop, West Side and West Franklin County residents were among the 58,000 free Chest X-rayed by the Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser last year. Free X-ray projects were conducted in Mix Addition, Lincoln Village, New Rome, Galloway, Georgesville, McKinley, Sullivant Gardens, and Greenlawn Housing areas, Westgate Manor, Miriam, Rosary, and Georgian Heights Additions, the Franklin County Fair, Central Point Shopping area, and Hilltop Bean Dinner.

A total of 359 chest ailments including suspected tuberculosis, heart and cardiac conditions were discovered in these projects.

Christmas seal funds are also spent on programs of medical research, rehabilitation, and health education.

This year's seal pictures two rosy-cheeked children in what are actually companion seals, each carrying out the color scheme of the other. The little boy, in apple green stocking cap and red scarf, holds a sprig of mistletoe over a gift package against a royal blue background. The little girl, hooded and mittened in royal blue is also holding a gift, pictured against an apple-green sky.

Designer of this year's seal, Miss Jean Simpson of New York City, was a recent visitor in Columbus where she judged entries in the local contest to design the 1957 Christmas seal.

Among contestants from this area were Don M. Thatcher, 238 Guernsey-av; Judith Ann Brannan, 285 N. Wayne-av; Terry Hitt, 841 S. Warren-av; Larry Miller, 367 Binns-blvd; Shirley P. Meyer, 845 S. Wayne-av.

OSU Chorus Has Five From Hilltop

Five Hilltoppers are among the 385 members of the Ohio State University Chorus, Prof. Louis H. Diercks, director, recently announced.

The localites are Eleanor Conrad, 20 Demorest-av; Gary Dixon, 231 Nashoba-av; Richard Gilbert, 654 Binns-blvd; James Kindig, 160 S. Harris-av; and Ruth Lorenz, 3009 Fremont-st.

The Chorus and other Ohio State musical groups will present the annual "White Christmas" programs at 3:15 and 8:15 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Men's Gymnasium on the campus.

After a three-year decline, the average value of farm real estate is now back at the record peak level of November, 1952.

Drive Carefully

You, as a pedestrian, can be easily hurt or killed in traffic. But you, as a driver, can become a pedestrian-killer! Unwittingly, many drivers do just that! When you are behind the wheel don't let that feeling of power and assurance tempt you to take chances with pedestrians. They may be rash, stubborn, absent-minded and unthinking, but no pedestrian deserves the death sentence for his carelessness in traffic. So, watch out for the pedestrian who may not be watching out for you. Drive carefully.

IT HAPPENED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

Wild Animals Once Roamed In Franklin County

By Gilbert F. Dodds

David Beers, Sr., moved from Pennsylvania to Ohio with his family in 1802, settling for a time in Fairfield County. After a residence there of two years, he moved to Franklin County, settling just north of the present Ohio State University campus in what was then Clinton Township.

When Beers settled in Franklin County there were many wild animals in the wilderness surrounding him. Here roamed the buffalo, elk, deer, black bear, wolf, mountain lion, the wildcat and many kinds of smaller animals. Beers, when seven years old, was taken captive with his mother and younger sister by the Indians and lived with them many years. He was an excellent hunter and supplied not only meat for his own table, but for many of his neighbors as well; these neighbors came to rely upon his supply for their subsistence. David Beers, Jr., was even more famous as a hunter than his father and many tales were told of his prowess. In 1809 Beers built for himself and his family (he was the father of nine children) a substantial hewed log house in which he lived until his death in 1850. At the time of his death he was one of the oldest and most active of the pioneers of Franklin County.

The mammals found about the Forks of the Scioto by the colonial traders among the Indians were large and numerous. In a geography by Jedidah Morse, published in Boston, 1807, the following interesting comment concerning big game in Ohio was quite true of the region embraced in Franklin County Morse wrote:

"No country was originally better stocked with wild game of of every kind than this. Innumerable herds of deer and wild cattle (buffalo) were sheltered in the groves, and fed in the extensive bottoms that here abound; an unquestionable proof of the fertility of the soil. Turkeys, geese, ducks, swans, teals, pheasants, etc. abound."

The elk, also were here in large numbers, but they were driven farther west about the same time as was the buffalo. Bears, wolves and whitetailed deer existed in this region long after the buffalo and elk. The bear was the first to be exterminated, then followed the wolf, and at last the whitetailed deer. Beaver were exterminated at a very early day.

Game animals and birds served their purpose of supplying the pioneers with the meat so necessary for their subsistence. It was unfortunate that the value of this wild life has not been more fully appreciated.

"Whew! Whatta Cliffhanger!"

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

ARMISTICE DAY

A voice spoke in the dawn at Thiaucourt:

"We who lie beneath these crosses, are not dead . . .
We live again, reborn through slime and blood
Of far-flung No Man's Land
Where shells were crimson flowers
In the garden of hell.
We lie and dream of lilies, white and rain-washed;
Of stars, white and singing . . .
Of a white Christ on a crimson battlefield."

Some of the pictures painted on store windows by Hilltop youngsters are really good. If they are any indication, in a few years "Hilltop, U. S. A." will be more famous because it will have produced several Grandma Moses' and Norman Rockwells — with perhaps, a few Salvador Dalis.

Poets are springing up all over the Hilltop and points west, too. Several have submitted poems to be used in this space-filler; their interest is appreciated. While reprints are usually used at the top, original poems are welcomed. If they have sufficient general reader appeal, they'll be used here.

Have started to read "Andersonville," by Kantor. It is definitely not for the squeamish, as it is an emphatic reminder of man's inhumanity to man and the horrors of war—although reminders are not needed by most of us.

From somewhere—All the arts are inhibited in our day by those who know too much and feel too little . . . Secret: something that's always too good to keep . . . Ego: the only thing that grows without nourishment . . . Adult: a person who has stopped growing at both ends and started growing in the middle . . . The difference between imagination and reality is that imagination is selective . . . We cannot change yesterday, that is quite clear, nor begin on tomorrow until it is here, so all that is left for you and me, is to make today as sweet as can be.

Attention, Motorists!

Motorists, don't run down a pedestrian. This month, the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce and other safety-minded groups are campaigning to cut down our annual toll of pedestrian deaths. Remember, pedestrians are people. Some are children, some are old and feeble, some blind, some crippled, and, of course, some just careless. Be ready to stop . . . and save a life.

Hilltop AC Romps To Victory Over Linden AA Sunday

By D. Thornton and F. Corcoran

Hilltop AC romped over Linden AA Sunday at Westgate Park, 27-0. The team clicked all afternoon with fine blocking coming from the line.

The first quarter was scoreless. The first tally came early in the second quarter by Herb Brown, and the conversion by Jim Waldo. AC regaining the ball on a fumble marched to the five yard line where Harvey Philps (a newcomer to the Hilltoppers) plunged from the five to make the score 13-0 and Herb Brown came through with the point after.

The next score came in the fourth quarter by former West High gridder Tom Ongaro. After the AC drove 50 yards, Ongaro took it over from the 15. Point after was missed.

The ball changed hands often due to fumbling of both teams.

In the final seconds of the game a pass from Roth of Linden was intercepted by Philps who scampered 80 yards for the last score of the game. Point after touchdown was good.

Donna Berlo Is High In Glenwood Bantam League

Donna Berlo copped individual high game honors with a 120 Thursday, Nov. 3, at the Hilltop Bowling Alley. Sandy Reeves and Jimmy Blackburn were second and third with 114 and 101, respectively. They finished in the same order in the high series division with 202, 190, and 172, respectively.

The Pin Splitters led the Bantam League with a 4-0 record. Following them are the Striking Five with 3-1 and Hilltoppers and Bowling Aces with 2-2 marks.

In the Junior League, Paul Nobile was tops for high game scores with a 120. Jim Pendergast's 124 and Wayne Robbins' 114 were good for second and third places.

High scores of 254, 221 and 219 were posted by Paul Nobile, Jim Pendergast, and Peggy Castle, to place them first, second, and third in this division.

YOUR YOUTH

by Bert Korte & Bob Schmidt

Saturday will be the big day for members of the West Broad and Highland Gra-Y Clubs. Both teams have won all their games so far and will tangle for the Gra-Y touch football championship.

West Mound has already finished its schedule. The boys from this school showed up for all their games even though, because of lack of size, they didn't win a game. Special tribute should be paid to these fellows because of the outstanding sportsmanship which they displayed on the field.

A group of 20 fellows went to the Central "Y" for the first Saturday afternoon swim. The "Y" will hold these swims on the first and third Saturdays of the month.

The West Junior Hi-Y and the Junior Y-Teens had their first of a series of canteens. About 40 boys and girls enjoyed the dancing, games and refreshment. Plans are being made to hold a Canteen once a month.

Members of the Junior Hi-Y Club will soon be selling packages of screws, nuts and washers. The fellows have taken on this program in order that they might buy a much needed ping-pong table for the "Y". We urge all of you to buy one of these packages and support Your Youth on the Hilltop.

Benefit Games Party

Wing 24 of Nightingale Cottage will hold a benefit games party Nov. 11, 8 to 11 p.m., in the community room of the City National Bank, 3100 W. Broad-st. Progressive euchre, canasta and bridge will be played. Tickets will be available at the door.

Pass Leads To West Score Vs. Central

Broncos Scuttled By Bucs Drop Finale 28-19

By Bill Heire

Central High's Pirates executed only two plays in the first quarter but made them good for two touchdowns as they went on to hand the host West High Cowboys their sixth defeat in eight outings last Friday at Magly Field by the score of 28-19.

The Buccos went into the contest heavily favored as a result of their sensational 16-14 upset of Springfield Public, ranked No. 2 in the state the previous week.

For a while in the opening quarter, it looked as if Mack Pemberton's crew was in for a terrific pasting as Central chalked up two rapid-fire scores.

The first came after Pirate tackle Fred Neal recovered Gary Nebinger's fumble on the West 38-yard mark on the second play of the game. After one play gained three, Buc fullback, Jim Bargdill, working out of the single wing roared up the middle, picked his way through the Cowboy defenders, and dashed into the end zone as an electrified Dad's Night crowd looked on.

Ralph Pentello's placement made it 7-0 as the clock showed only 1:45 gone in the game.

The Pirates racked up their second score minutes later with the same shocking suddenness. West had moved the ball from their own 37 to Central's 32 where the drive bogged down. On fourth down Cowboy quarterback Bill Spratley faded to pass, found his target and threw. The ball traveled only a few feet as Central's Ernie Wheelwright came thundering in from his end position to rush the passer, threw up his hands, and miraculously picked off the whistling pigskin. Spratley recovered quickly to tackle Wheelright but on his way down Ernie pitched the ball to mammoth (288 pound) Birtho Arnold and "Big Birtho" rolled on in for the tally. The play covered about half the length of the field. Pentello again split the uprights making the count 14-0.

The Cowboys came right back as they sustained a steady drive from their own 28 to the Pirate one in 14 plays with Junior Dennis McDonald calling the shots and seniors Bob Conley, Dave Randall, and Gary Nebinger delivering the punch. On fourth down Nebinger sliced off his own left guard for the score with 8:48 remaining in the half. Randall plunged for the extra point making it 14-7.

Central took Dick Furry's kickoff on their own 28 and chewed off some lengthy gains, putting the Cowboys in hot water once again. Ten plays left the Buccos knocking on the door again from six yards out.

This time it was quarterback Clancy Readout who did the honors as he went over on a well-executed option play. Pentello's placement made it 21-7 at the half.

Late in the third quarter, West's Bob Courtney fell on a Central bobble on the Pirate 11. West was penalized to the 20 for holding and decided to take to the air. Ray Williams, Conley and McDonald each took a shot at it without success. On fourth down Williams' heave was deflected by two Bucs only to fall into the waiting hands of Dick Furry. The lanky end tucked it away and galloped for the score.

Dave Chandler broke through to block Furry's extra-point try leaving the score at 21-13.

Just when things were beginning to brighten up for the Cowboys a little guy by the name of Smokey Garwood cast everything back into darkness again as he received Furry's kick-off on his own 30 and threaded his way 80 yards to score, eluding Bob Courtney's last ditch dive as he went over. Pentello's unerring toe made it 28-13.

In the last canto, Cowboy tackle Ed Richardson gobbled up a Central fumble on the Bucs eight. Conley swept right end to the five, Randall punched to the two and then bulled over for the final marker of the year for the Cowboys.

The pass from center went away to foil Furry's extra point try.

Friday's game marked the end of what must be considered a poor season as the ledger reads two victories against six setbacks. Victories were scored on Marion Harding and South while the losses came at the hands of Arlington, Aquinas, North, Linden, East and the Pirates.

In explaining the last four games, the win over South, and the losses to Linden, East, and Central, Pemberton stated that it was a shame his boys had to lose any of them as he felt the team was vastly improved in those games and deserved a little better fate.

The Central game also wrote finis to the scholastic football careers of 15 seniors. Among these are: Linemen George Watkins, Gary Glass, Ron Radcliff, Bob Courtney, Fred Preston, Dick Furry, and George Hilf, and backs Bob Ackerman, Bob Conley, Jerry Keyes, Ray Williams, Gary Nebinger, Bill Spratley and Co-captains, Bill Link and Dave Randall.

Highland Gra-Y Ties For First In Hilltop Group

The Highland Gra-Y football team went into a tie for first place with West Broad in the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Touch Football League as they defeated John Burroughs 13-0.

Two touchdown passes from Bill Karn did the trick. Karn hit Bill Dildine in the second quarter to take a 6-0 lead. In the third period Karn threw to Steve Galentine to make the score 12-0.

In the other game Westgate broke into the win column as they turned back West Mound 7-6. Westgate scored in the first quarter on a long pass from Jim Cook to Mike Totman. Cook ran for the P.A.T. West Mound scored in the third quarter on a pass from John Franke to John Goodin. The try for the extra point failed.

This Saturday Highland will meet West Broad at 2:15 for the Gra-Y Championship. John Burroughs will meet Westgate at 1 p.m. to decide the third place winner. These games will be played on the West High School practice field.

Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made on all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted if requested. The Editor.

Dear Editor:

I will write you about an incident that happened to me last Monday night, Halloween. I do think something should be said about it in your paper.

My son, Don, drove me to a church dinner downtown and picked me up afterwards. We stopped off at his home and it was quite late, 11:45 p. m. when I got out of his car in front of my home.

I heard water running as we got to the door, and saw my garden hose between the storm door and the inside door with the water pouring out of it.

Since I was gone between 9:15 and 11:45 p. m., I wasn't sure how long the water had been running, but you can imagine what a mess. Much of the water ran under the door on my new carpeting and a great deal of it ran down the basement wall clear across my basement floor to the drain, puddles all over.

I am the widow of the late Ray F. McVay and I live here all alone. I have always tried to live by the Golden Rule. I had this small one-floor built so I could manage to do things for myself and not always be calling on someone else.

I just moved into this new little house last March. I don't believe I have any enemies. It was probably just some kids that thought it was smart.

Mrs. Ray F. McVay, Sr.

Hilltop Man Gets Contract Worth Million

A contract for more than $1,000,000 for state highway construction has been awarded to Hilltop contractor, L. R. Skelton.

The contract calls for widening and straightening of U. S. Route 22 between Fultonham and Somerset for a distance of about seven and seven-tenths miles.

"This will involve widening an existing bridge and new construction of a second bridge, as well as grading and black topping," said Richard Nash, 626 Crescent-rd, accountant for the Skelton firm.

"Total amount awarded for the construction work was $1,115,467," Nash added.

Currently the firm, which employs about 30 men, is in its fourth week of operations on the Route 22 project. Earth-moving and bridge foundations have already begun along the almost eight mile long stretch.

State completion date for the construction is slated for October, 1956. The Skelton firm was one of eight contractors bidding for the route 22 job.

Skelton, a civil engineering graduate of Ohio State University started his own firm about two and a half years ago.

The TRUTH About Rug Cleaning

Clean Rugs Last Longer, Look Lovelier!

You wouldn't think of wearing a wool suit for more than two years before having it cleaned, would you? Yet the carpets in your home are in constant use and subjected to far more dirt, grease and grime than any single piece of clothing.

That's why many women suffer disappointment when their lovely carpets become dull and lifeless. This is caused by incomplete removal of grease from the "roots" of the carpet—grease which traps soil and grime, thus sapping the "life it the pile." Ordinary home cleaning methods allow up to 15% of the grease to remain in the rug.

Only by taking the carpet from the floor and subjecting it to professional cleaning can 100% of the damaging grease be removed from your carpets. This should be done once a year for maximum protection of the investment you have in your carpets.

Our methods are based on recommendations made by the National Institute of Rug Cleaning and are guaranteed to restore your carpets to like-new beauty. Call HIckory 4-1191 for immediate pick-up. When your carpets have been restored to their original beauty they will be re-laid on your floors by our delivery man at a small charge, if you so desire.

About The Hilltop

The beauty of autumn is fleeting; rustling leaves that were once a symphony of color wither and fall, scattering and crumbling on the earth as they bed down under a cold winter sky . . . The Bill Crums are bidding goodbye to their friends and heading south where they plan to reside. Bill is a retired employe of The Columbus Dispatch . . . Well known Ernie Potts, realtor and big game hunter left this week on a hunting trip up in the wilds of Canada. Others in the party were Frank Palmer and Lee Fryor . . . Recently, Mrs. Clifford A. Norris of Westgate, was hostess at her home to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson Huffman, on their golden wedding anniversary.

Wilbur Morrison, secretary-treasurer of the Main Federal Savings and Loan Co. is the newly appointed trustee of the Columbus Savings and Loan League. Mr. Morrison is also finance chairman of the local Girl Scout Council . . . Howard and June Ogle are the proud parents of a 10 pound, six ounce baby boy. June is the granddaughter of Frank Wolfe, former bowling alley operator.

Grab your partner! Everybody is invited to the round and square dance Saturday evening at the K of C Club rooms, sponsored by the Ladies of Maria. Mrs. Joe (Alice) Ryan is president of the newly formed club.

Mrs. Margaret Dinsch is the newly elected president of the down-town YMCA Mothers' Club. . . . Monday of this week, Mildred and Harold Casey (the washer man) celebrated their 29th Wedding anniversary . . . This week, Rodger D. Meyer of the First US Marine Wing is due home from the Far East . . . No, he didn't sell. Harley Sapp is still sacking groceries at his popular stop . . . You can still get your ticket to the Boys' Town concert a the new Veterans Memorial Building Thursday evening. Mrs. Thomas J. Murnane of Westgate is chairman of the affair.

Carole Lee Robinson, OSU senior and Kiwanis scholarship award winner and George Sherman Brown are planning a June wedding. Mr. Brown, senior student at Ohio State is pre-enrolled at Drew Theological Seminary. At present he is serving as pastor at Wesley Chapel in Hilliards . . . Recently, Joe Florio, the ole mastero, attended the fall hairstylist convention in Miami. While there he resided at the Hotel Allsion on the beach . . . Mrs. Russell Alban is the newly elected vice-president of the Naval Officers' Wives Club . . . Young William C. (Bill) MacPhail, son of Larry MacPhail, ex-major league club owner has been appointed director of sports for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

By Judy Redman

Traveling with a study group from Ohio University Mrs. Dunlap spent a profitable and enjoyable summer in France and Italy. The group sailed from Montreal, Canada aboard the Seven Seas, landing at Le Havre, France.

Classes were held in the mornings with frequent trips in the afternoons and week ends to the many museums, cathedrals and monuments of Paris and its suburbs. Mrs. Dunlap reports that the highlight of her trip was a three-day sojourn with the chateau country.

Following a three week period in Paris, the group accompanied by the professors left Paris for Nice of the Mediterranean. The trip was made by bus through the French Alps. While in Nice there were excursions to various places of interest including Monte Carlo with its famous casino, Grasse, the Perfume city, and San Remo, Italy.

The final week before leaving Europe Mrs. Dunlap flew to Rome by Air France. Mrs. Dunlap regrets that the historical cities of Rome and Florence were visited so briefly.

Y-TEEN NOTES

By Judy Redman

The Y-Teens of Starling are looking forward to the following events being held at the YWCA: the World Fellowship Service, Nov. 13; the World Fellowship Festival, Nov. 17 and the Junior Christmas Party, Dec. 8.

The senior and junior groups are making plans for a big party with the Hi-Y Club as a joint project. The party will take place Dec. 16 in the Starling gym.

Both Y-Teen Clubs have been selling pencils to increase their funds in the club treasuries. To honor World Fellowship Week—Nov. 13-17 the clubs have decided to contribute part of the proceeds to the World Fellowship fund.

What is a Lutheran?

On October 31, 1517 there was only one Protestant and one Lutheran, and that was Martin Luther, a former Roman Catholic priest. Luther had "protested" against the Church's sale of certificates called indulgences, which were said to reduce the time a soul must spend in purgatory. From Scripture, Luther had learned that FULL FORGIVENESS OF SIN IS PROMISED THROUGH FAITH IN THE MERCIFUL GOD, REVEALED IN CHRIST. This and other similar differences led to an open break. Lutherans don't claim any doctrines different from the common Christian faith described in the New Testament and first summarized in the Apostle's Creed. For full details on these important fundamentals, we invite you to send for material described below.

Give them a Faith to live by

Worship with them this week

Naturally you want them to have all the good things in life . . . a happy home . . . a good education . . . plenty of chances to meet other nice young people.

But be sure, too, that you give them the most precious gift of all . . . Faith. When you give it—you give the youngsters the world—and all.

The wonderful part is that faith is yours to give . . . no matter who you are, what you do for a living, how much money you have in the bank.

Faith is the gift you give a little at a time. Every week you and the children worship together at your church or synagogue. The youngsters see you . . . the biggest, smartest, most important people in their world . . . asking God for help, thanking Him for blessings. Then it's clear to them . . . here they can always find the strength they need, always find the happiness they want.

Then you've done the best a parent—any parent—can do.

Distinctive Home Is Result Of Many Years Of Careful Planning

Indiana limestone and white stucco are combined in the new ranch style home of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Williams. The house is set in a large, slightly pie-shaped lot, planted with judiciously chosen trees, shrubbery and evergreens. The distinctive garage doors to the left are enameled in black with striking accents of white. Glass jalousied doors open onto the breezeway and next, across the front of the house are bathroom, den, large entrance hall and guest room. The kitchen, living room, large bathroom and master bedroom face the back of the lot. Spotlights are placed under the roof across the front.

Designed strictly for comfort and fun during leisure hours, from acoustical ceiling to durable floors, is the breezeway. The wall to the right, gaily papered in "playtime" plastic wall covering, with its vivid colors on a black background, sets the tone of the room. Jalousied glass walls provide controlled sunshine and make the room accessible from the patio to the rear as well as from the front of the house. Studio couch and comfortable chairs contribute to the easy living atmosphere and the white ice-cream parlor furniture to the left lends a decorator's touch. Music from the large record player is also piped into the living room. The room opens on the left onto the garage, which is another playtime room for the Williams. The floors are waxed, making an ideal dancing surface.

The color scheme of the living room and dining area was carefully chosen as an effective background to cherished modern Chinese pieces. The beautiful turquoise of the nylon and rayon twist carpeting is repeated in the walls and the entire wall to the left, composed of picture windows, is hung from ceiling to floor in turquoise net with a gold and white thread. The three-piece sectional couch is of black and white frieze, the chair before the fireplace is gold with black braid and four chairs are upholstered in rose with a floral design. The open fireplace, seen in the upper right of the picture is of stone and features a large planter section. Not visible in the foreground is the dining area with a large ebony Credenza and an ebony extension table. The built-in three-cornered cupboard, lower right, is finished in the same ebony. Other ebony pieces are the round coffee table, end table and corner table. Chinese figurines, lamps and a Chinese garden with miniature Ming tree, emphasize the modern Chinese theme. The door in the upper right corner opens into the entrance hall, and the lower right wall corner. A modern accordion-fold door in white leather separates the dining area from the den.

Modern Chinese Decor Is Key Of Williams' Home

By Betty Doft

This is the year for dreams to come true for Mr. and Mrs. Mose Williams. Their lovely home at 4796 Hayden Falls-blvd, with its perfection of detail, is a true reflection of years of careful planning that went into its design.

Mrs. Williams did her own decorating and worked closely with the architect in designing the interior. The result of her efforts is a dream home with charm and originality which truly mirrors the tastes and personalities of its owners.

Their hospitality is expressed in the colorful and bright entrance hall with floors of Vermont slate in shades of russet and gray and the striking wall panel combining turquoise, chartreuse and coral on a white background.

To the left, the bedroom hall features a large linen closet, and opens onto both bedrooms and the bath. The guest bedroom is furnished with warm, deep-toned maple. Amethyst spreads with matching drapes complement the soft gray tones of the carpet and walls.

A surprising note in the bathroom is the sheer luxury of wall-to-wall carpeting in a burnished gold shade called "top brass." The carpeting, as practical as it is beautiful, is in nylon and rayon twist and is laid in strips that may easily be taken up for laundering. A bold, white fleur-de-lis design accents the same top brass shade in the towels, shower curtain and drapes. Formica in a marble pattern of soft browns and beiges surrounds the wash bowl and the tiling is in carara glass. Tall gold and white lamps pick up the gold, rose and brown tones in the sea shell chintz vanity skirt and bench in the dressing area.

The kitchen, opening from the dining area, combines yellow walls and ceiling with birch cabinets, in driftwood finish. The outstanding lighting arrangements combine recessed ceiling lights with florescent lighting encircling all work areas and spotlights over the sink and breakfast bar.

Early American autos, in delicate fine lined wings of black, turquoise and pale yellows on a white background, paper the wall over the breakfast bar. The bar is covered with yellow formica and the wrought iron chairs have turquoise seats. The floor covering here, as in the adjoining utility room is a spatter pattern of cream and browns, striped with yellow.

Plenty of space for supplies is in the cupboards over the automatic washer, dryer and deep freeze in the utility room. There is also an ample broom closet with room for cleaning needs.

Nile green and white, with gay, harlequin-pattern drapes is the color keynote of the conveniently-located extra bathroom. The shower stall is lined in carara glass and the shower door, also of carara glass, is green with a white swan design.

An oil-burning, radiant heating unit, used to heat the house is located in a small room which opens off the entrance hall.

Seen at the left, in the entrance hall, above are one of the cupboards of birch in driftwood finish, which flank either side of the door. Straight ahead is the den, combining beauty and practicability with its cork tile floor and large closets, which conceal the filing cabinets. One wall is in peg board and contains book shelves, wall magazine rack and pictures adding a bright spot to the room. White leather folding doors separate the room from the living room.

Peppermint candy pink and charcoal gray with a judicious accent of mint green are combined in the master bedroom with striking results. The same shade of pink is used for carpeting and three walls, and is repeated again in the quilted headboards, dust ruffles and enameled chest and night stand. The enameled pink chest, whose corner is visible on the extreme right, is in beautiful contrast to the fourth wall in charcoal. Quilted bedspreads, also in charcoal, are piped in pink and the soft mint green chosen for the chaise lounge, is the perfect color accent. The colors are repeated in the modern abstract design of the heavy silk shantung drapes. The wall-length closet with sliding doors features built-in accessory drawers and shoe racks.

Big Brave Fred Schaaf has been elected temporary Chief of the recently organized Westgate Tribe. C. R. Eagen will serve as the assistant chief of his tribe.

Bob Walker is new chief of the Dakotas, while Don Roederer of the Cherokee Tribe was recently elected Big Chief of his tribe. Mrs. Frank Calland is new chief of the Pawnee Tribe of the Indian Maidens. Mrs. Betty Chrisman is serving as chief of the Mohican Indian Maiden Tribe.

One of the noisiest spots in any of the oceans is off San Diego, Calif., according to a Naval Electronics Laboratory spokesman. Untold numbers of shrimp snapping their claws make the racket. Submarines can often evade detection by electronic equipment under cover of the noise.

No virtue is safe that is not enthusiastic—John Robert Seeley.

Hilltop Councilmen Vow United Front

Three Stand Together For City Progress

Three Hilltop men, soon to be sitting side-by-side in Columbus City Council chambers, met Tuesday and pledged their wholehearted efforts to achieve the same unity of spirit for which their home area has been noted.

Newly-elected councilmen: W. Ralston Westlake, Independent Republican, and W. Wesley Llewelyn, Democrat, expressed approval of a statement by the third Hilltopper, incumbent Republican Councilman Jerry Spears Jr. that he was going to seek a meeting with Mayor Sensenbrenner to plan, "where we want to go and how we're going to get there."

Member of a heavily-Republican Council, often at odds with Mayor Sensenbrenner during the past year, Spears nevertheless was outspoken in favor of united effort. He said:

"The greatest and most important factor for our future as a city is community cooperation. There isn't any problem large or small that cannot be resolved if we are willing to cooperate with each other both as citizens and as communities.

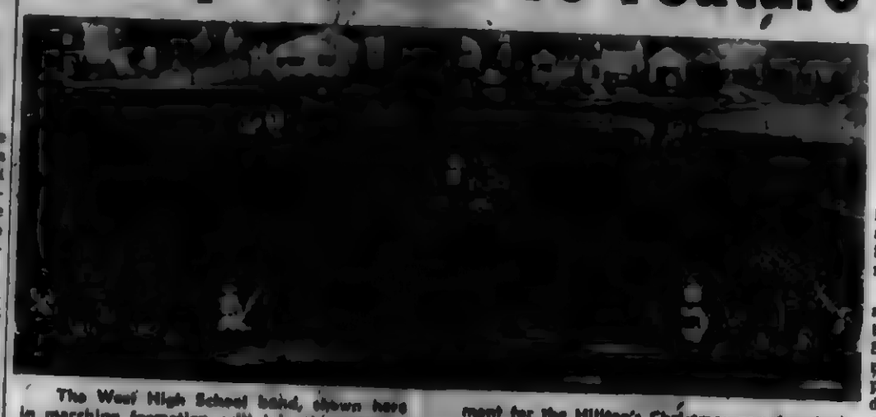
"The problems of sewer and water, expressways, police and fire protection, recreation, garbage and refuge collection, street lighting, traffic and transportation, financing, etc., can be solved and be advantageous to all communities if we are willing to put our shoulders to the wheel for an unbiased, constructive program."

Westlake, confident of "fine cooperation" ahead, outlined briefly some of the problems the city faces. He said:

"Among the many problems facing Columbus, one of the most challenging is traffic. A satisfactory solution will not come easily. The planned inner and outer expressways as well as grade crossing separations must be pushed to completion.

"Increased use of mass transportation should be encouraged. More one-way streets and less left hand turns are necessary, as well as increased facilities for off-street parking.

"Federal and state aid should be sought to establish a by-pass for the Route 40 inter-state traffic as soon as possible.



"Continuous planning, cooperation and aggressive action will do much to overcome these problems."

Llewelyn, in accord on the need of cooperation, stated:

"In recent years, the council has been very reluctant to provide any money that would put the city in position to prepare for future expansion and improvements. Being the second fastest growing city in the country, we must expand, not only our boundaries but our various departments of government."

Llewelyn stated among the city's needs were a finance director with cabinet status; solutions to the traffic and public transportation problems; equalization and increase of police and firemen's pay; more Federal aid for slum clearance; cleaning up and improving conditions at the Columbus Zoo; increased recreation and park facilities; and a definite program for street cleaning.

Hilltop Parade To Feature Christmas Scenes

The West High School band, shown here in marching formation, will join the Hilltop High School band to provide music and merriment for the Hilltop's Christmas parade scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Nov. 26. The event is sponsored by Hilltop Business Association.

2 Bands Will Add Note Of Gayety To Hilltop

In an effort to "put Christ back into Christmas," the Hilltop yule season will be "kicked-off" on Saturday, Nov. 26, by a parade of religious floats.

Two high school bands, West's and Hilliards' will participate in the parade, scheduled to start at Sylvan-av and W. Broad at 2 p. m. on Nov. 26. The parade will proceed east on Broad to Belvidere-av, South to Sullivant-av, west on Sullivant-av to Huron-av, north to Wicklow-rd, east on Wicklow-rd to Roys-av and North on Roys-av to West High School.

Sponsored by the Hilltop Business association in co-operation with the Hilltop Ministerial Association, the parade will feature floats made by young people of various Hilltop church groups.

Each float will depict a different subject on this year's general theme, Christ, the Light of the World," C. H. Campbell, executive secretary of the HBA, explained.

At the parade's end, a caroling will be held at West High School with music by the two bands. D. T. Crawshaw, director of music at Glenwood Methodist Church, will conduct.

At present, 16 floats are in construction by youth groups in various churches. Some of the subjects which will be depicted are "The Shepards See the Light," "The Light Appears to the Wise Men," "The Need of Light," and "Adoration at the Manger."

The Hilltop Business association is underwriting the cost of each float up to $50.

Elmer Hegenberger is chairman of the HBA parade committee. Members are Joe Goodwin, C. Carlton Hartley, Jack Merriman, Harley Sapp, Clarence Sibry and Robert Schmidt.

The Hilltop Ministerial Association parade committee consists of Chairman Rev. C. T. Langholz, St. John Lutheran Church; Rev. George Taylor, Westgate Methodist, and Rev. George Alexander, Hilltop Church of Christ. Rev. Joseph Shellhaas, Glenwood Methodist Church, is president of the ministerial association.

"Both the ministerial and business association hope," Campbell added, "that the parade will be the first in a series of annual events."

Five Candidates Vie For 'Cranberry' Crown

A queen will be chosen, and Tommy Dale's orchestra will be featured at Glenwood Recreation Center's "Cranberry Ball," Wednesday, Nov. 23.

Scheduled for 8 p.m. until 11, the dance is to be semi-formal and admission is free. Dale's band was obtained for the affair through a special arrangement with the Columbus Federation of Musicians.

During intermission of the Cranberry Ball, featured entertainment will include: "The Willowa," currently appearing at the Carolyn Club, and Frank Love will act as master of ceremonies. Advancement Lags In District Units Scout Leader Says

Results of a recent survey in advancement program of Boy Scout and Scout Explorer Units in the Southwest district reveals that only four units in the district have reached or surpassed the national standard of advancement to first class scout, a district spokesman announces.

The national standard calls for a 40% advancement to first class in a one year period. District units which complied with the standard are Troop 48, with 61% advancement; Post 147, 60%; Post 312, 77%; and Post 219, 60%.

"Many of our units, unfortunately," the spokesman added, "have shown no advancement whatever during the year."

Christmas Plans

District Boy Scouts will cooperate with the local Marine Corps Reserve again this year in the "Toys For Tots" campaign. The combined group will collect and issue toys to the less fortunate children of the area for Christmas.

The Scouts urge all persons who have toys to donate to cooperate in the collection drive, when Scouts make door-to-door calls Dec. 10.

The Broadview addition, extending from Broad to Sullivant-ave and from Roys-av to Westmoor-av, was known as the David Binns farm when Orr and Day became interested in the area as building sites.

Jackpot Copy Of Hilltop Record Now Worth $20

No winners last week means that six Hilltoppers lost an opportunity to cash in on our "Confederate" money game. On the brighter side, though, it also means that the jackpot is $10 richer this week.

The $10 jackpot was unclaimed last week, as were the five $1 prizes, so the jackpot insignia in this week's issue is worth $30: the sum of last week's jackpot, plus the five unclaimed $1 prizes, plus the new $5 added each week.

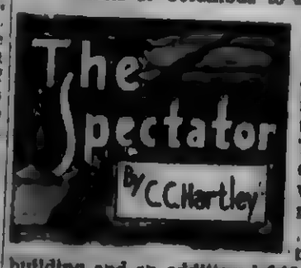
Surely $20 is a fair exchange for a few minutes time spent scanning the ads in your copy of the Record, wouldn't you say? As an added attraction there are also five $1 insignia imprinted in ads in five other copies of the paper.

That lucky copy could be the one you are reading right now!

Remember, the insignia are hand-imprinted in bright blue ink, in plain sight on the ads. When you find an insignia, bring the complete copy of the paper to The Hilltop Record office before noon on Saturday and exchange it for "Confederate" dollars. These may be "spent" just like cash with any of the merchants advertising in this week's issue of The Hilltop Record.

Join your Hilltop neighbors and play our "Confederate" money game, which pays off even to the losers. For with the real, money-saving values your local merchants are offering this week, how can you lose?

Here's What To Look For



If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it at once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $30 in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

NOW . . . Is The Time For The City Of Columbus

Columbus has grown up . . . it is no longer a small city and as this growth continues there is a real need for the citizens of Columbus to review their thinking on the many ramifications of this growth.

Today there is the need for elimination of 21 grade crossings in the city at an estimated cost of some 20 millions. To carry out the program of expressways so badly needed will mean another 15 to 20 millions.

Extensive additions are needed for the city safety building and an additional 140 policemen. Additional fire houses and police sub-stations are needed.

The Columbus street lighting program is pitifully behind the times as is the garbage and refuse collection system, and sewage disposal plant, all of which means additional millions to do the job right.

Columbus needs new streets in many sectors, a traffic control system, extension of sewer and water lines, additional airport improvements and acquisition of auxiliary air fields, more parking space and off street parking facilities.

These are but a few of the city's needs.

But the first need of Columbus is a city charter that looks to the future of such a rapidly growing city. Without numerous changes being made in the present city charter we will still be in the talking stages on all the above subjects 10 years from now. We are already 15 years late.

Such extensive growth of the city makes it almost impossible to get good candidates for city council if they are required to campaign city wide. Councilmen should be selected on a sectional basis.

And foremost is the need of paying our councilmen a salary more nearly in keeping with what we expect from them. It is most ridiculous for the city of Columbus to ask men to give the time necessary to do a good job on council and then pay them a measly $1000 per year for services.

The people of Columbus in a referendum vote instructed city council to negotiate a cost of service franchise with the transit company. As of right now, over a year later, the franchise has not been negotiated.

This is typical of the way our city government operates when the legislative body, having so many duties delegated to it by the city charter, is made up of part time representatives. But is it reasonable to expect more? Every member of council has that all important job of making a daily living just like you and you!

What is the answer?

It is time that enough public spirited citizens of Columbus get behind a movement to get the charter changed and plan for the future needs of the city. It is time that the citizens of Columbus look to the future and take some steps right now to establish the confidence that is going to be needed to put Columbus where it should be.

Hilltop Poetess Appears On Nation-Wide TV Today

A Hilltop poetess and the 11-year-old heroine of her poem left Columbus yesterday, scheduled to appear on the Dennis James show "On Your Account" (CBS TV) today.

Mrs. Stephen Cox, 191 S. Brinkley-av, wrote the poem, after reading an account of an accident in which Mary Louise Core, now 11, sacrificed herself in order to save her baby sister.

A police report of the accident shows that the car, driven by the mother, Mrs. George L. Core, was struck by a car that failed to stop at an intersection.

Noting the accident was inevitable, Mary Louise threw herself across her baby sister, and the then eight-year-old youngster was thrown through the windshield, badly disfiguring her face.

Most of the disfigurement has been corrected by plastic surgery.

After writing the poem, Mrs. Cox sent it to Mrs. Core on the insistence of a friend. The poem was later sent to "On Your Account."

In past months so many letters have been received by the program's director that the poetess, Mary Louise and her mother were asked to appear on the show.

Sabers, Cowboys Win In Glenwood League

The Sabers and Cowboys continued their winning ways in basketball just as they did in Little League baseball last summer.

The Cowboys won Glenwood's Little Jet League title and went on to win the city championship. The Sabers wound up in second place in Glenwood's league.

The Sabers crounced the Bucks 12-4 in their first basketball encounter of the season Wednesday, Nov. 9 at Glenwood Recreation Center. The first quarter practically won the game for the Sabers as they led 11-2. The remainder of the game amounted to the Sabers adding a few more points while playing fine defensive ball.

Dick Brothers of the Sabers collected eight points to cop scoring honors, Frank Hatfield accounted for all of the Bucks' points.

The Cowboys won their game over the Eagles 12-2. Each team had difficulty in getting started as the first quarter ended 0-0. The Cowboys picked up speed with each quarter, however, as they scored 2 in the second, 4 in the third, and 6 in the final quarter. The Eagles' lone tally came in the third quarter on a field goal by Shelly Smith.

Junior Rhinehart, playing fine ball for the Cowboys, scored 7 points to collect scoring honors.

Hilltop Trotters Sharpshoot Way To League Win

The Hilltop Trotters combined some sharp shooting by Wayne Robbins and Jerry Hummel to win over the Squires 36-22 in an intermediate league contest at Glenwood Recreation Center. The game was played Thursday, Nov. 10.

The game started out slowly as the Trotters led 4-3 at the end of the first quarter. The score at the half became 14-7 as the Trotters began to surge ahead. The third period score favored the winners 29-14.

Hummel accounted for 11 of the Trotters' points, and Robbins hit for 10. Ernie DiGioia also scored 10 points for the Squires. The Aces tromped the Atomic Five by a score of 64-12 in the other intermediate league game. The game was a complete runaway from beginning to end as the Aces led at all three quarter posts, 11-0, 19-2, and 27-4.

Roger Tidwell and Bill Jackson led the Aces with 8 points each.

Gra-Y Football

The West Broad school has won the championship in the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Touch Football League. In another game played John Burroughs defeated Westgate for third place.

In the championship game West Broad took a 6-0 lead in the second quarter on a long pass from Bob Dent to Dan Snyder. Highland came back to tie the score at 6-6 in the third frame on a pass from Bill Karn to Dick Ohde.

At the end of the regulation game the score was all tied up. An extra five minutes was added. West Broad took a 12-6 lead on an eight-yard-run by Glen Rohrer. Don Snyder intercepted a Karn aerial and returned it 25 yards to make the final score 18-6.

In The Other Game

Westgate took an early 6-0 lead in the first quarter as Jim Cook intercepted a pass from Bob Eberhard and ran the ball back for a touchdown.

IT HAPPENED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

First Settlers Discovered Huge Trees Near Columbus

By Gilbert F. Dodds

When the first settlers moved into Franklin County they found immense trees of oak, walnut, beech, sycamore, chestnut, ash, gum and many other kinds growing on the upland but particularly in the river and creek valleys. South of what is now Columbus, the trees were immense in circumference and height.

One of the pioneer settlers on the west side of the Scioto south of the forks was Michael Fisher. He was born Sept. 15, 1767, in Hardy County, Va., coming to Ohio in 1799. At first he settled with his wife, Sarah Patty Fisher, on the west side of the river in the bend, in what are now Franklin and Jackson Townships. Later he bought 600 acres from John Dill on the east river bank where the house was located.

To make the best use of the timber on his tract, Fisher purchased a saw mill and placed it near his home close to the river bank. For many years he cut and sawed lumber which was used largely in the construction of houses in the new city of Columbus. All went well until the feeder canal from Columbus to Lockbourne was built and it was necessary to demolish the saw mill to make room for the canal bed. The Four Mile Locks are located just a short distance south of the old Fisher mansion. Fisher was frequently a candidate for office and was an early justice of the peace in Hamilton Township. He died at his homestead, Jan. 15, 1824, and his wife passed away Jan. 2, 1843.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

FRONT TONIGHT

Good night, my comrades of the summer day,
The flowers and leaves, the blades of grass
That waved me greeting
Through the heat. For it is [illegible]
That all who live must sleep a while.
The frost shall come with silent tread
And weight your eyelids with an argent dust.
Rest quietly, rest quietly.

Answering inquiries — and thanks for being interested: Have finished "Andersonville." I agree with a friend who read it and said it left a bad taste in her mouth. But it is a fine book; so is "No Time For Sergeants," which should help dispel the horrors of "Andersonville."

Vignettes of friends I'm proud are my friends — Her theme-song is all about how carefree and happy she is. She sings it as though she hadn't a care in the world, evenings at 7:15, over WLW-C. The night her new series of programs started, the father she adores was lying ill in an oxygen tent at Mt. Carmel Hospital. She is a trouper in the tradition of the theatre: "The show must go on." She is a Hilltopper, incidentally, and lives on Columbian-av. She is Patti O'Harra . . . Last March, a tornado completely destroyed all the barns, sheds and trees on their Hilltop farm. Even their home was damaged. After the storm had passed she and her husband and their neighbors and friends stood helplessly viewing the wreckage. She began to cry, and said "The wind blew down the bluebird's house!" Her farmer husband has written a poem about it. She is Mrs. Fred Zartman, of near Thornville, Ohio.

Mail — From Columbus: The funniest thing I ever saw on television was the interview a comedian had with the champion sprinter. He ran alongside of the champ for a while, asking questions, then told the sprinter "I'll run ahead to the goal and wait for you so we can finish this interview" . . . From Columbus: Do you know the poem—Are All The Children In? If any of you readers have it, and would send it to you, would you reprint it? (I'd be glad to, if there isn't a copyright.)

This poem was found in an old anthology. I like it and think you will:

TRAVELERS

Life is like a journey on a train,
With a pair of travelers at each window pane.
I may sit beside you all the journey through,
Or I may sit elsewhere, never knowing you.
But if fate should mark me to sit by your side,
Let's be pleasant travelers — it's so short a ride!
—Charles Brandon. Reprinted.

Heard in passing — Secret: something that's always too good to keep . . . Income: something you can't live without or within. . . . The school teacher asked Johnny to define "anatomy." Johnny's answer: "Well, everybody [illegible] anatomy but it always looks better on girls" . . .

My dearest, I figured before we were wed
That my pay was sufficient to keep us ahead.
But darling, the bargains you find in a store
Are more than your husband was bargaining for.

YOUTH today is so impatient. Young woman in Houston, Tex., bopped hubby on the head with a hammer on morning of their second wedding anniversary. Grandma waited until the ninth, or pottery, anniversary to bust the old man's crock.

West High News

By Dave Nice

The Y-Teens will be in charge of the Thanksgiving Assembly on Nov. 23, reports Mrs. Murphy, advisor and Janet Young, president of the group.

Guest speaker will be Rev. Alexander of Hilltop Church of Christ. Vocal music will be furnished by the West High Choir. The audience will sing Thanksgiving songs.

The seniors like to keep things in their own class, so the decorations for their mixer, Nov. 18, are being done by senior students.

In charge of the committee doing the circus-theme, poster type decorations is Barbara Glass. With suggestions from Mrs. Hester and under the supervision of Mr. Teichart, the committee has done a life-sized bearded lady, a four-foot lion and several near life-sized clowns.

The artistic committee members are Donna Hessler, Patti Hixson, Larry Miller, Jerry McLina, Ann Theil, Barbara Herbster, Catherine Christeff and Theresa Di Gioai.

AT JOHN BURROUGHS SCHOOL

Dad's Trophies Of War Shown By Youngsters At School

Veterans' Day celebrations were observed in several of the rooms of John Burroughs School.

Medals and insignia of the army, navy, air force and marines were displayed in Miss Marilyn Nolan's room. Children contributing their fathers' trophies were Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Damron; David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Taylor; Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller; Merideth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson; Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicklaus; Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Doughty; Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McGill; and Ladislaus Varga who displayed his uncle's medals.

In Mrs. James Fitch's room, a Distinguished Flying Cross, won by Roy Moore, was brought by his daughter, Phyllis, to appear with other insignia contributed by Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren McDaniels; Virginia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Olinger; Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gurewick; Judy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jones; David, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons; and Christopher, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Damopoulas.

The sixth grade rooms of Sam Simons and Jess Burks planned a show about Veterans' Day for the second grade pupils, with songs, stories and a reading of "I Speak for Democracy" by Louis Price. The second grade pupils responded with songs and choral readings.

Forty-two pupils of John Burroughs School have been organized into a school orchestra by John Dale, music director from West High School. The group meets Monday afternoons for practice. The various sections are composed of these pupils from the fifth and sixth grades:

Trumpets: Carl Birtcher, Bill Stimson, Terry, Ocher, Eugene Derr, Terry Murray Brad Brown, Michael Poole, Jim Widener, Robert Anglin, Jon Morgan, Johnnie Joe Smith, Jim Jones, Robert Weiler, John Wilson and Arthur Smith.

Clarinets: Jim Stevens, Mary Blumgren, Carol Alban, Suzanne Morgan, Mack E. Ray, Beverly Bolin, Buddy Sellars and Judy Reed.

Friday morning the Columbus Woodwind Ensemble will play for the first to fifth grades at John Burroughs School. The school auditorium will be the site of the two concerts.

Dorothy Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clark, 294 S. Richardson-av, has returned to John Burroughs School after being absent for eight weeks with polio. Dorothy is a pupil in Miss Rowe's fifth grade.

A teen age book club has been formed by a group of pupils in Mrs. Ellen Hurd's 6A class.

Twenty-five boys and girls are circulating an order of 36 books and will re-order new sets specially written for older children's interest, when they have read those in their original selection.

Members of this teen age book club are Danny Shady, David Dittman, Larry Maish, Larry Smith, Donna Colombo, Susan Noel, Sylvia Pruitt, Steven Latham, Billy Randolph, Richard Nelson, Rita Reis, Stephen Spangler, Connie Heibel, Vivian Gratt, Sandra Athey, Ronnie Wagner, Vera Bass, Sandra Shipley, Dick Edwards, Melvin Allard, Jim Roberts, Dolores Hardrick, Kathryn Thomas and Richard Rector, secretary, and Mollie Myers, assistant secretary.

An assortment of field trips has been on schedule for classes of John Burroughs School.

Visiting the American Education Press, where their weekly readers are printed, were the pupils of Mrs. Hulbert's fourth grade. Several mothers accompanied the pupils, including Mrs. Glenn R. Johnston, Mrs. Wood J. Myers, Mrs. Roger O. Kuhn and Mrs. Alfred Fox.

The police station was the site of the visit from pupils of Mrs. Bessie Stoval. Mrs. Margaret Barclay's students visited the State House and Miss Nolan's pupils toured the Pennsylvania Railway station.

A unit of Sea and Shore has been completed by the first grade pupils of Miss Elizabeth Speckman's class.

A large mural decorates their room, made by the children, with sand for the bottom of the ocean and a painted sea above. On the sea they placed pictures of shells, animals, sea weeds and fish which they drew and colored. Large shells, molded from clay, were patterned from shells gathered from the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Songs and poems relating to the sea were correlated in the unit study.

HILLTOP BUSINESS ASSOCIATION PARADE

Biddle Managed Restaurant As College Student

Clark E. Biddle

When Clark E. Biddle graduated from Ohio State University in 1951, he found his work cut out for him. In fact, Biddle had had a strong foothold on a rewarding restaurant business since 1948.

That was the year that Clark, his father, and brother combined forces to build Biddle's Drive-In at 3571 W. Broad-st. Since Clark's father, Maurice, was (and still is) a printer for the Columbus Citizen, and his brother a full time teacher, Clark took the management of the business on a part-time basis when he was discharged from the army in 1948. At that time he was a sophomore at OSU.

When Biddle received his BS in 1951, he decided to stay on as full time manager of the restaurant.

Currently, the restaurant is undergoing remodeling and alterations, at an expense which is estimated to reach into five figures. Twelve people are employed there.

Biddle resides in Lincoln Village with his wife, Betty, and children, Gary, 4, and Sally, 1, at 374 Murray Hill-rd.

Larry Scales Honored By Hilltop Kiwanis

Larry Scales, center, holding the plaque, was honored by his fellow members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club last Thursday noon when he was presented a plaque in recognition of his many years of service on the Selective Service Board. At the left is Vernon Fiscus, chairman of the program, and Meek Pemberton, Kiwanis president. On the right is Col. Harold Hayes, Ohio State Director of Selective Service, who was the speaker. Larry was a member of Board 13 since inception in 1940, and at present is chairman of Board 42 serving the Hilltop and West Side. The flowers were a gift of his son, Robert L., and son-in-law Vincent Wolter and John West, who were present when the award was made.

Snips Ribbon At Kay Opening

Kay Jewelers, a nation-wide organization, is marking its 40th anniversary. Numerous awards are being presented to visitors at the store during the grand opening period, which extends until Nov. 26.

Salesman Awarded Check

Colony Plans Special Thanksgiving Menu

The Colony Restaurant, 2170 W. Broad-st, which is marking its first Thanksgiving day under the management of George Xanes, is planning a special menu for the occasion.

While the traditional roast turkey will play an important role, other specials will also be available, according to Mr. Xanes.

"We are arranging a menu that will be particularly attractive to family groups," he said, "with half portions available for youngsters."

Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made in all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted if requested. The Editor.

(Copy of a letter to Mayor Sensenbrenner:)

Dear Editor:

Now that the din of battle is over, political campaigns are finished and Americans have had their opportunity to say what they wanted to and voted as they wanted to vote, whether they agreed with you or not, it is time now for us to join in a common effort to make our city what so many people feel that it ought to be.

Following your election two years ago, I pledged to you then my cooperation and gave my best wishes for your success in office and for progress for the entire community and I hasten to follow the example and bring to you this year my hope that the man chosen to do a job, whether legislative, executive or judicial in our form of government may take seriously the seriousness of public service and lay aside political differences that go with campaigns and focus their entire attention upon the tasks at hand.

As a citizen of Columbus, and especially of the Hilltop, I join with you in every good effort to accomplish the purposes that I have mentioned.

Jerry Spears sr.

Dear Editor:

"My country, when right I will stand by her; When wrong I will help to make her right."

The above expresses true patriotism. The people are the government. The preamble of our constitution proclaimes it.

In colonial times the people held town meetings where all the people met to decide on policies by which they were to be governed. But when the population increased, the town meetings became too unwieldy so the people chose one to represent them.

That was the beginning of representative democracy. This has become the form of government in the nation, state, and municipality.

History reveals that when one party, whether Democrat or Republican, feels that they are securely entrenched behind a strong majority vote, wrongs in governmental policies make their appearance. The officials of the party in control will take such actions as will perpetuate themselves and their party in power.

The people will tolerate such procedure until forbearance ceases to be a virture then they step in and teach the officials that the government belongs to the people, not to a select few, nor to one party.

This principle of government was decicively demonstrated Nov. 3, by turning a normally strong Republican majority of the city, into an unprecidented Democratic majority of over 4,000.

By so doing they materialized the sentiment expressed at the beginning of this article by paraphrasing it to read. My city, (the people) when wrong I will help to make it right.

In closing a scripture quotation is applicable for what happened in the recent political election.

"As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away; so he that goeth down to his (political) grave, shall come up no more."

He that digs his own political grave can rest assured that there is a resurrecion and that he can have another chance, providing that he has learned the lesson that government belongs to the people and that he conforms his ways accordingly.

Hilltop Chorus Plans Christmas Party At Meeting

Plans for the annual Christmas party and caroling were made by members of the Hilltop Women's Chorus when they met in the Hilltop "Y" Wednesday night.

Newly-elected president, Mrs. Lucille Cooley, conducted the meeting. It was announced that the Christmas party will be held Dec. 14 and the caroling on Dec. 21.

The meeting was followed by a social hour with a Thanksgiving theme. Hostesses were Mrs. Bertha Masters, Mrs. Ernestine Sherman, Mrs. Ruth Slaughter and Mrs. Velma Kidwell.

More little piggies are going to market this year than last year, according to a joint report of the Department of Agriculture and Ohio State University. Hogs slaughtered in first half of 1953 are expected to top by 18 per cent the number for the same period of 1954.

For and About Hilltop Women

Marian Ator Is Bride Of Robert Woods

MRS. ROBERT M. WOODS

Miss Marian Ator and Mr. Robert M. Woods exchanged their marriage vows Sept. 11, 8:30 p. m. in Glenwood Methodist Church. Rev. Joseph Shellhase read the wedding service before an altar decorated with arrangements of crysanthemums, gladioli, palms and candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Ator, 265 S. Richardson-av. Her husband's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Woods of Akron.

The bridal gown, which was made by the bride, was fashioned of candlelight satin, designed with a fitted bodice fastened with self-covered buttons, Peter Pan collar edged with seed pearls and three-quarter length sleeves. The buoffant skirt was floor-length.

A half hat of satin edged with seed pearls held her fingertip-length of veil of illusion and she carried her Eastern Star Bible, mounted with crysanthemums and satin streamers.

Miss Barbara Harlow, maid of honor, wore a coral crystelletta gown in ballerina length with a draped bodice, worn with matching shrug jacket. She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow and bronze crysanthemums and wore a bandeau of matching flowers in her hair.

Mr. Roger Davis served as bestman and guests were seated by Mr. John Abell, Mr. Ray Benson and Mr. Edward Stabura.

The mother of the bride chose a navy silk print gown with black accessories and a corsage of white crysanthemums. The bridegroom's mother wore a frock of blue crepe with dusty rose accessories and an identical corsage.

Hostesses for the reception held in the basement of the church immediately following the ceremony were Miss Dianne Greene, Miss Martha Wren, Miss Mary Lou Cheney and Mrs. Norman Engelberg.

The new Mrs. Woods was graduated from West High School, attended Bliss, Business College and is employed at Beacon Mutual Indemnity Co. Her husband was graduated from East High School in Akron, served with the U. S. Air Force and is now enrolled in pre-dentistry at Ohio State University.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada the couple is at home at 178½ W. Eighth-av.

Martha Lewis Is Engaged To Marry John Martin Weaver

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE of the engagement of Miss Martha Louise Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Lewis, Rt. 3, Johnstown, and Mr. Edward H. Member of the "Forgotten Generation"?

This Message Provided In Cooperation With The National Citizens Commission For The Public Schools

Not if we can help it! Yet if there SHOULD be a "forgotten" generation – a generation of American children denied the education they deserve – it will be because OUR generation has done the forgetting.

We won't forget! As citizens, we wholeheartedly support the right of every community to provide and administer its own schools. And we willingly accept the responsibility, shared by each member of the community, to see that our schools are the best that we can give our children.

We won't forget! As friends and neighbors, we will meet regularly in the interests of our schools and our youngsters–in PTA gatherings, at school board meetings, in community conferences on schools.

A good education for every child is an American right as unshakable as Plymouth Rock. We guard that right by eternal vigilance, as we guard our liberty itself. WE WON'T FORGET!

For a free booklet, outlining school conference plans and procedures that WORKED, write: Better Schools, 2 West 45th Street, New York 36, N. Y.

WITH AN ELECTRIC DRYER
An automatic electric dryer frees you from a whole basketful of old-fashioned washday equipment. Clothesline, pins, and clumsy clothesprop aren't needed . . . for all you do is put the clothes in the dryer. Sprinkling bottle can be thrown away . . . your electric dryer automatically turns out clothes damp-dry or fully dry with just a touch of the dial. The almanac? That's for weather forecasting you'll never have to worry about again. EVERY day's a good drying day with a dryer . . . flameless . . . economical . . . automatic electric clothes dryer. Member of the "Forgotten Generation"?

Not if we can help it! Yet if there SHOULD be a "forgotten" generation – a generation of American children denied the education they deserve – it will be because OUR generation has done the forgetting.

We won't forget! As citizens, we wholeheartedly support the right of every community to provide and administer its own schools. And we willingly accept the responsibility, shared by each member of the community, to see that our schools are the best that we can give our children.

We won't forget! As friends and neighbors, we will meet regularly in the interests of our schools and our youngsters–in PTA gatherings, at school board meetings, in community conferences on schools.

A good education for every child is an American right as unshakable as Plymouth Rock. We guard that right by eternal vigilance, as we guard our liberty itself. WE WON'T FORGET!

Stuff Turkey Just Before Roasting, Specialist Says

Homemakers should stuff a Thanksgiving turkey just before roasting, according to Irene Netz, Ohio State University extension nutritionist. This lessens danger of food poisoning which may result if the bird is stuffed and frozen in advance.

The nutritionist also cautions homemakers against stuffing the turkey the day prior to roasting. The ingredients used in stuffing, especially the egg and milk, are ideal for growth of toxic bacteria. When the bird is stuffed the day before, the time and temperature of roasting may not destroy bacteria. The same is true of the stuffed, frozen bird.

Since frozen stuffing tends to become soggy and develop off-flavors, it is best to prepare dry ingredients and egg and milk separately not more than a day in advance. Then on the big day, the refrigerated stuffing ingredients can be combined and put into the turkey just before roasting. This method will save time at the last minute, and the product will be safe for the family to eat, says the nutritionist.

Miss Netz points out that commercially stuffed, frozen birds are good quality because they have been processed under laboratory conditions.

Columbus Needs Student Bus Fare Schedule

The subject of special bus fares for students is a popular one these days with parents. It is one that deserves very careful consideration and it is to be hoped the transit company can come up with a special bus fare schedule that will make it possible for students to ride a little cheaper each week.

Many large cities find it possible to provide special student rates. Columbus should do the same.

Beware The Salesman Who Doesn't Give A Name

Telephone wires are kept busy these days by solicitors with gimmicks of all kinds. And in many instances their sales talk needs a lot of investigation before you buy.

Currently a solicitor is calling to sell Christmas records saying the program is to help children. The firm represented is in Los Angeles but the local solicitor will give no name. Such practices as these are frowned upon by the Better Business Bureau and all such solicitations should be carefully investigated before you invest.

Looking Back 20 Years

Twenty-three years ago Alva Hartzler of the Hilltop Furniture Co. opened his store at the present location and this week Alva sent us a copy of The Hilltop Record of that date making the announcement of the new store.

A lot of things have happened in that time. The Record itself has grown in size from the then four pages of seven columns to our present standard size eight columns usually 16 to 20 pages per week. The circulation has doubled in that time.

The housewife could stretch her budget pack into shape if she could buy at prices advertised in that issue. For example fresh cailies were 6c per lb., coffee was 2 lbs. for 45c, ham was 19c a pound and butter was 23c.

Congratulations, Alva . . . and may you be around 23 years from now.

Health Board Reviews Housing

The above chart shows which parts of the Hilltop area would be affected by a slum clearance and redevelopment plan discussed Tuesday night by city and regional planning officials. Other sections near the Hilltop, but across Central-av, were also mentioned during the discussions, as were South Side, North and East Side locations.

Suggests Clearance For 3 Hilltop Areas

A meeting of vital importance to the Hilltop took place last night in the new City Health Department building, 181 Washington-blvd when members of the City and Regional Planning Commission discussed slum clearance and rehabilitation of old, but still useful properties.

Recommendations were made for areas throughout the city by Russell Riley, a partner in the City Planning firm of Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis. The firm was hired by the city to find out what's wrong in housing and neighborhoods and to make recommendations for improvements.

Areas Pointed Out

Riley's list of areas needing either public or private help include the following Hilltop areas:

1. Properties between the Pennsylvania Railroad on the north, Guilford and Central-av on the east, Cable-av on the south, and Yale-av on the west.

2. Properties located within a block east and west of Sylvan-av from the New York Central Railroad to Valleyview-dr. About one-third of this area is located within the city limits.

3. County properties two blocks south of Sullivant-av on the south and one block from Sullivant on the north. It is bounded by Athens on the east, Demorest-rd on the west, and city limits on the north, south and east.

Area 1 was designated as needing to be redeveloped by private enterprise. This means that the structures in the area should be replaced with industrial developments, primarily because of location near the railroad.

Areas 2 and 3 indicated as needing rehabilitation with public assistance and could qualify as future project areas for the Slum Clearance and Rehabilitation Commission of Columbus. (If the proper requirements were met in part of area 2, the city could obtain "federal matching funds for its public improvement. The city or area involved would put up one-third of the cost in funds, labor or improvements as against two-thirds provided by the Federal government. Desire for the program would have to be shown in the neighborhood, and that could be shown in the form of a neighborhood civic improvement organization.)

However, under existing legislation, those areas in the county which are outside the city limits are not eligible to conduct a slum clearance and rehabilitation program on an organized basis. A state law is needed to provide such powers to counties. Federal legislation on this matter was discussed at the last meeting of the legislature.

If this legislation is not secured, Riley said, outlying areas would be eligible in the future for an improvement program provided they were annexed to the city. The city could carry out the pro-

Riley said that other areas on the Hilltop need conservation. This involves enforcement of minimum housing standards, maintenance and minor repairs and the installation of neighborhood improvements, such as parks, playgrounds, playfields, community centers and improved street patterns.

The findings of Riley's company are to be generally adopted as part of the Master Plan for Columbus.

Riley described the areas in his report as "being destructive to good neighboring communities," adding, "the effects of a blighted area seem to spread to adjoining sections like a cancerous growth. They are presently costing every property owner in Columbus for their upkeep and they are simply

First Christmas Hilltop Parade Set For Saturday

Eighteen floats and two high school bands will fall into formation at 2 p. m. Saturday Nov. 26, and initiate what is hoped to be the first in a series of Hilltop Christmas parades.

Sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association in cooperation with the Hilltop Ministerial Association, the parade floats will be built by young people of various Hilltop Church groups. West's and Hilliards High School Bands will participate in the parade which will begin at Sylvan av and W. Broad-st. The route then will be East on Broad to Belvidere-av, south to Sullivant-av, west on Sullivant-av to Huron-av, north to Wicklow-rd, east on Wicklow-rd to Roys-av and north on Roys-av to West High School.

At the parade's end a caroling will be held at West High with music by the two bands.

Elmer Hagenberger, chairman of the HbA parade committee announced that the floats under construction and the order in which they will appear are: one, "Christ, the Light of the World," being built by youth groups at Burgess Avenue EUB; two, "Seed of the Light," by Community Christian Church; three, "Prophecy of the Light," by Glenwood Methodist; four, "Examination of the Light" by Hillcrest Baptist; "Initiation of the Light," Hilltop Baptist; five, "Shepherds see the Light," Hilltop Christian Chapel.

The sixth float, "The Light Appears to the Wise Men," is being constructed by youth groups of the Hilltop Church of Christ; seventh, "Adoration at the Manger," St. Mary Magdalene; eighth, "Simeon Meets the Light," Sullivant Avenue Friends; ninth, "John the Baptist and the Light," Valleyview Church of Christ in Christian Union."

Tenth, "The Light in Home Mission Fields," Wayne Avenue Church of Christ; 11th, "The

FREE FOR THE FINDING

$30 Awaits One Alert Hilltop Record Reader

Twenty "Confederate" dollars, free for the finding, went begging last week, as did the five additional "Confederate" dollars. Hilltop Record readers completely overlooked the lucky insignia imprinted in ads in six copies of the paper.

However, the misfortune of last week's readers means the increased good fortune of this week's jackpot winner, for the jackpot value has now boomed to $30. Five other insignia, each worth $1 will also be imprinted in ads in this week's paper.

"Confederate" cash in pocket . . . 30 crisp, new bills to be spent with any merchant advertising in this week's issue would be mighty welcome at the start of the holiday gift-buying season. So take a good look at the insignia replicas in the accompanying box and then carefully examine each ad in your copy of the Record.

The entire copy of the paper containing a lucky insignia should be brought to The Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, before Saturday noon, to be redeemed for "Confederate" dollars.

So, polish off your specs and scan those ads right now. Happy hunting!

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it at once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $30 in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

Alvin Richards, Local Pioneer, Dies Sunday

Funeral services for Alvin Lafayette Richards, 74, 2100 W. Broad-st, prominent Columbus attorney and an early developer of New Rome farm lands, will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Rader funeral home, West Jefferson.

Mr. Richards died Sunday in St. Carmel Hospital.

Born in a log cabin near Alton, he had taught school in and near Georgesville. He was a graduate of the old Central High School, attended Valparaiso University and was graduated from Yale Law School in 1907.

Mr. Richards took over the Little Farms Addition at New Rome in 1916 and was instrumental in organizing and developing the village's original electric light and water systems.

A 32nd degree Mason, he was a member of Scottish Rite, Shrine and Columbus Lodge No. 20, F&AM.

Mr. Richards is survived by his wife, Helen Sutherly; a daughter, Rachel; and twin sons, Robert R., associated with his father in the law firm, and John Ruskyn Richards, contractor and builder with offices at 50 W. Broad-st; and two brothers, Wilfred H., of Columbus, and Howard A., of Colorado.

Floats Are Readied For Parade

Aroused Citizens Stop Annexation Of Rich Land

The multi-million dollar proposed annexation of Westinghouse plant and several oil companies in Franklin Township was stopped dead this week by county commissioners.

The petition to annex to Columbus lands worth $30-million on the tax duplicate was bitterly fought by residents of six school districts consolidated last Nov. 8. The residents submitted a 2235-signature petition to stop the annexation of the school district's leading revenue producing territory.

School Districts Fight

Though Columbus City Council members were bitter about the action of the commissioners, the city apparently must settle for about 400 acres of the 887 originally mentioned in the petition.

Commissioner Henry A. Koontz said that an attorney, representing the petitioner, agreed to make an amendment in the original petition to take out the Westinghouse and oil company lands, and that a meeting next Monday, Nov. 28 of the commissioners would result in a final decision on the request.

Koontz said that the commissioners' decision to turn down annexation of the Westinghouse plot, valued at $17-million on the tax duplicate, and the combined oil companies' territory, valued at $3-million, was based largely on West High and OSU students have been working like beavers to construct the No. 1 float in the parade. The float to represent Burgess Avenue EUB Church is shown in process here. The lads shown are: Charles Langenberger, senior; Pete Trott, sophomore; and Dick Trott, freshman at Ohio State University.

'S No Man; It's Snow, Man!

From little snowballs grow big snow men, and the one above may have been the first to grow in Columbus this year. The two lads below, returning from a dance after midnight Friday, got the bright idea of making a snowman during Columbus' first snow storm. So David Darby, 17, Hilliards High School student, 286 Buena Vista-av, and Barbara Herbster, 17, 144 N. Chase-av, a West High School student, rolled snow at 1 a. m. in Barbara's front yard.

Look Up and See 'Pennies From Heaven' Saturday Afternoon

Five thousand "pennies from heaven" are scheduled to fall over the Hilltop and surrounding area at 2 p.m., as part of a Sunday School contest sponsored by the Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av.

The pennies, securely fastened to cards, will be dropped from an airplane and contest information will accompany each penny.

Highland-av, from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m., with the cooperation of 14 churches. Other local churches have arranged to hold independent services. The public is cordially invited to attend any of them.

Rev. Joseph Shellhaas, host pastor for the union services, is president of the Hilltop Ministerial Association Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker and Rev. Irvin Lane, pastor of Burgess Avenue EUB Church, will read the Scripture. Glenwood Methodist Church choir will sing.

The Haldeman Cleaners, burned out of their shop at 2115 W. Broad-st last Wednesday, are now back in business next door at 2117 W. Broad-st.

Harley Haldeman, owner of the plant, said all claims for clothing destroyed in the fire will be taken care of as soon as possible. Pickup and delivery service is operated by the firm.

Haldeman's is open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

BAD MIXUP

Two men bearing identical names, one a clergyman and the other a businessman, lived in the same city.

The clergyman died at about the time the business man took a trip to Southern California. Upon reaching the Pacific Coast the businessman sent his wife a telegram informing her of his safe journey.

Unfortunately, the message was delivered to the widow of the clergyman. Imagine the surprise of the good woman when she read: "Arrived safely—heat terrific."

The fancy-dress dance was over and the local gossips were comparing notes.

Near Half-Century Of Service Leads To Reclining Chair

Railroading for 45 years can be a rewarding experience in itself, but when at the end of that time, your fellow workers give you a testimonial banquet and a farewell gift, you just about know it's been worthwhile.

George E. Hipps

These may have been the feelings of George E. Hipps, 334 S. Harris-av. this past week when co-workers on the Pennsylvania Railroad honored him with a banquet and presented him with a beautiful reclining chair as a parting gift on his retirement.

More than 100 employes and fellow workers representing all points on the Buckeye, Northwestern and Southwestern Regions of the road were there to show appreciation to their friend for his long and faithful service with the company.

At the time of his retirement, Hipp was assistant storekeeper for the southwest region. He and his wife have lived on the Hilltop for 24 years.

What will George Hipp do when he retires?

"Travel," he said. "I've got some railroad passes for Florida and my annual pass is still good for another trip."

There will always be the reclining chair at the end of the travels.

Agriculture At Low Ebb Till Weber Tilled Fields

By Gilbert F. Dodds

When Frederick Weber moved to Franklin County in 1834, he purchased a small farm on which there was a log cabin and only five acres of cleared land. This land was located between what is now Weber-rd on the south and Oakland Park-av on the north, lying east of Indianola-av.

Few people had settled in this section of the county as the land was wet and heavily timbered. Weber purchased the land from Thomas Johnson at a reasonable price and on good terms. Agriculture, however, was at a very low ebb in Franklin County at this time, but by crop rotation, proper drainage, and good plowing, Weber discovered that other crops besides corn and wheat could be raised from the soil which he owned. Potatoes, cabbages and other garden vegetables began to be cultivated and the surplus found a ready sale. He also planted an orchard of apples and peaches which soon produced profusely.

Weber had a family of 10 children, and during the late fall and winter months he and the boys were engaged in clearing more land. By Weber's industry and thrift, he purchased additional land and within a decade he owned a fine farm of 310 acres.

Weber had emigrated to the United States from Germany in the spring of 1830, settling at first in York County, Pa., where he lived one year. He moved to Stark County, O., where he married and resided three years, moving to Franklin County in 1834. One of his sons, Fred, purchased a farm just south of his father's farm; which extended to what is now Hudson-st. In connection with his fine apple orchard he owned a cider press which was used much by his neighbors. Weber-rd perpetuates the name of this industrious family.

In Passing

THANKSGIVING DAY

There's something kind of special
About Thanksgiving Day.
It isn't quite like Christmas,
But it's nice in its own way.

That's when the families gather
And talk and laugh—and eat,
And everyone is happy
And real polite and sweet.

After dinner, grownups doze
But we kids go out to play
We run all over grandpa's farm
As long as it is day.

By sun-down we are hungry
So we all eat again,
Then we go home. Everyone says
"What a good day this has been."

Barbara Holmes, age 12.

This poem was written for the column last year but was received too late for the Thanksgiving week. Barbara and her family have since moved to Phoenix, Ariz.

Add nice people — the girls in the Shank & Saunders office. And we all hope that Mr. Shank will recover very soon.

Speaking of Thanksgiving Day —have a happy day, everybody. This year, there are more things for which we should be thankful —there is no war or rumor of war; the President is well again; the Buckeyes have won almost every game, to list a few.

Mail. From Columbus: Sunday we drove to Tar Hollow, picking up bittersweet on the way. We shook down a persimmon tree and we all looked like we had eaten alum after eating some not quite so ripe. The hills were lovely. I planted myself under a huge maple tree and looked up at the blue sky. I'll remember that when the soot falls on me in Columbus . . . From Spokane: Have you read "Minding Our Own Business" by Charlotte Paul (newspaper family, Snoqualmie, Wash.?) If not, try to read it and try to put it down till you have finished it. Am reading "The Last Wilderness," which is about Washington, too . . . From Raleigh: It's too bad you didn't get down while the trees were so lovely but you could still come, for there is still some colorful foliage. We all think North Carolina is pretty any time.

A friend recently asked what I do with my evenings. What I do isn't exciting or interesting but it will fill up space, so here is a typical "evening at home": Pick up book or magazine I'm reading; phone rings, wrong number; start reading; brakes squeal outside, wait for crash, no crash—thank goodness; resume reading; phone rings, wrong number; (there is not much telephone advertising at night, but I do wish a certain doctor's patients could read phone numbers) start reading; phone rings, wrong number; car zooms around the corner on two wheels, no crash; give up reading; watch Bill Pepper's newscast; phone rings, wrong number; and so to bed.

Senior League Has Two Tied For First Place

As it appears now, the Glenwood Recreation Center senior boys league title will be decided on Dec. 8 when the Jokers and Chuck-a-Lucks meet. The two teams are currently leading the league with two wins each.

The Jokers racked up their second win by trouncing the Celtics 46-25 on Tuesday, Nov. 15. The winners started out fast as they chalked up a 12-4 first quarter lead. This lead was increased to 21-12 at half-time. The final two quarters were a runaway as the Jokers scored almost at will.

Howard Tidwell and Tommy Bridges sparked the victors with 12 points each. Dave Snavely collected eight for the Celtics.

The Chuck-a-Lucks romped over the Methodists 51-33 to give them their second straight win. The Chuck-a-Lucks took a commanding 17-10 first quarter lead, added 14 more in the second quarter to lead 31-15 at halftime. The rest of the game was fought on fairly even terms.

Don Brown again paced the Chuck-a-Lucks with 15 points while Floyd Love collected 12 for the Methodists.

The Pirates broke into the win column with a hard earned 43-38 victory over the Cavaliers. The lead changed hands several times during the course of the game. The Pirates led 10-8 at the first quarter, the Cavaliers led 22-20 at the half, and the Pirates regained the lead at the third quarter post 32-30.

The winners outscored the Cavaliers 11-8 in the final quarter to give the Pirates their first league win.

Jim Hakes and Ronnie Reeb paced the Pirates with 16 and 12 points respectively. Ron Forrer and Jerry Swindler scored 12 each for the Cavaliers.

The Bulldogs also won their first league victory by winning over the DeMolay 38-27. The Bulldogs actually won the game in the first quarter as they piled up a 13-5 lead. The remainder of the game found the scoring fairly even.

Ralph Seymour and Bill Neal led the Bulldogs with 13 and 10 points respectively. Chuck Lantz paced DeMolay with 11 markers.

In the season opener, the Hilltoppers took an 11-7 victory from the Hot Shots. The Hot Shots held a 5-0 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Hilltoppers rallied in the second to tie it up. The Hilltoppers tallied six points in the decisive third period, which the Hot Shots could not overcome.

West Basketball Mentor Reveals Season's Lineup

By Bill Bettin

Fred Heischman, West High basketball mentor, this week disclosed the names of the boys to be sporting the Buff and Brown on the hardwood for the coming season. The probable starting five will be Dick Furry, Dave Randall, Bill Chappalear, Bob Courtney and George Watkins.

Furry, Randall and Chappalear saw more action last season than the latter two. All are seniors.

Seniors Ray Williams, Gary Nebinger and Bill Harris, along with Juniors Ron Dixon, Ken Clapsaddle and Dennis McDonald complete the roster. Harris is a transfer from Chillicothe High, and will graduate in January, as will Furry, Chappalear and Nebinger.

According to Heischman, the team to beat thus far will be East's Tigers.

Kindergarten Pupils Bake Own Bread For Party

Kindergarten pupils in Miss Grace Elliott's room celebrated Thanksgiving with a party for which they baked their own bread. With the teacher's help, the children mixed the recipe, baked it in an electric oven, and then ate their bread with butter.

Brownies of Troop 606 are making yarn dolls to give to the children in the State School.

Mrs. Marjorie Spears is a student teacher in Miss Grace Smith's fifth grade room.

In Mrs. Katherine Hulbert's fourth grade room, Mary Johnston, Nancy Swoik, and Sharon Jantzen wrote Thanksgiving stories. The pupils have also started a children's library. Nancy Kuhn and Chris Sarr will be librarians.

Recent field trips by John Burroughs pupils included a visit to the police department by Mrs. Bessie Stovall's class and a trip to the train station by Miss Marilyn Nolan's pupils. Miss Nolan's classroom will present a Thanksgiving play.

Planck Elected VP Of State Auto Dealers

Edgar G. Planck

Edgar G. Planck, of 2084 Crescent-dr, a lifetime resident of the Hilltop, has been elected first vice president of the State Automobile Dealers Association.

Planck, well-known president and organizer of West Side Motors, 1350 W. Broad-st, was elected to the state office at the 22nd annual convention of the group last week in Cincinnati.

How does a man reach a first vice presidency, from which incidentally he'll have first refusal of the state presidency at the next election? Planck's answer is:

"I started as a mechanic, and worked at every job on my way up. In the state auto dealers' association I have held all the offices in turn, secretary, treasurer, second vice president, trustee and so on."

Planck is a past president of the Columbus Auto Dealers Association. He is a 30-year member of the American Legion, has a 10 year perfect attendance record at the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and holds membership in all Masonic orders.

He is married and has two daughters.

Trotters Take Burgess E.U.B. In Glenwood Tilt

The Hilltop Trotters had their hands full on Thursday, Nov. 17, as they met up with Burgess EUB in Glenwood Recreation Center's intermediate boys' league.

Burgess grabbed a 8-0 first quarter lead, but the Trotters bounced back in the second period to score eight points while holding Burgess to three, knotting the score at 8-8 at half-time. The third quarter saw the Trotters pull ahead by outscoring their opponents 6-3. The final quarter was played on fairly even terms as Burgess hit for seven points, and the winners six.

Mike Wolf and Jerry Hummel sparked the victor's attack with eight points apiece. Dan Grosh was almost a one-man team for Burgess as he scored 11 of their 18 points.

The other intermediate league game saw the Aces smother the Squires 55-16. The game was a complete runaway except in the third quarter when the Squires outscored their opponents 11-7.

Dan VanHooss of the Aces copped game scoring honors with 22 points. Mike Momburg collected six for the Squires.

OBVIOUS

While examining a class in grammar the inspector wrote a sentence on the blackboard and asked if anybody could see anything peculiar about it. After a long pause, one small boy put up his hand.

"Yes," said the inspector encouragingly, "what do you see remarkable about it?"

"Please, sir, the bad writing, sir."

Letter Carriers To Aid Muscular Dystrophy Here

The annual Thanksgiving Week collection for muscular dystrophy will this year, by their unanimous vote, be the responsibility of the Columbus letter carriers as it was in 1953. Bruce Emery, London, president of Buckeye Branch No. 78, National Association of Letter Carriers, appointed James H. Huntley, 3096 Parkside-rd, as his co-chairman, and named other branch officials to an action committee.

Members of Ladies' Auxiliary have agreed to distribute 500 canisters in business places. The plastic canister is molded in the shape of an hour glass to denote that time is running out for the 200,000 victims of the disease, most of them children.

Last year Franklin County residents chipped in over $26,000 to the national fund of nearly four million dollars. One-fourth of that sum came back here to provide wheel chairs, hydraulic lifts, hospital beds and other sickroom equipment for needy patients. Two out of town victims were brought to Children's Hospital for observation. The rest of the fund was allocated to medical research projects in clinics and hospitals throughout the world.

Broad-st . . . The Hilltop Christmas decorations are scheduled to be in operation by time of the Christmas parade on Saturday . . . Never let it be said that we would knowingly sit back and be scooped on a news item, to wit: about May 24 will be another important day for Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hartley . . . And ditto for the Don Rees only about a month earlier . . . And with that we can truly say we have a lot of things to be thankful for and wish you all a very Happy Thanksgiving the hardship that would be created for 7000 school children in the school districts which voted last election day to consolidate. Loss of the tax monies might cause the school consolidation to be a failure, he said.

Michigan Saw Red All Over

Michigan fans saw red . . . flannel night shirts that is, at the game in Ann Arbor last Saturday. Hilltoppers Joe Goodwin and Dr. Bruce Tanner, pictured above, attended in full regalia of red flannel night shirts, shoulder pads and helmets. Numbers on the night shirts left no doubt as to who their heroes were and Joe Goodwin added his own personal touch of a big black cigar. Their wives, incidentally, were dressed as OSU cheerleaders. Adding insult to injury, the four decorated the home of Goodwin's son-in-law, Thomas Clark, with OSU colors. Clark is an alumnus and an ardent booster of University of Michigan.

Acted Against

The commissioners acted against the annexation after a petition signed by 3235 residents of Pleasant, Franklin, Georgesville, Urbancrest, Prairie and Grove City-Jackson school districts was brought to their office Monday morning.

The original petition asked 897 acres bounded by Phillippi-rd on the west, Broad-st on the south, Fisher-rd on the north and Wilson-rd on the east.

In the amended petition, the 400 remaining acres are bounded by Broad-st on the south, Fisher-rd on the north, Wilson-rd on the east and a point near the Westinghouse plant on the west.

Council Refuses

City council, Monday night, threatened to refuse to deal with county commissioners for the remaining acreage.

In return for the township acreage, the commissioners asked that the city assume the remaining $600,000 indebtedness of a $750,000 bond issue, which was used to extend a water line from the county-owned pumping station on Phillippi-rd toward New Rome. It was an extenuation of a city line installed for Westinghouse and Franklin Village.

Councilmen indicated they would accept the indebtedness only if the city gets the area served by the city water.

A Second Petition

The second petition to annex to Columbus 128 acres in the Valleyview area will be heard at 10 a. m. Friday, Nov. 25. The territory includes the site of the new Hilltop Civic Center. Here will be located the new YMCA, Glenwood Methodist Church and Luther Turner Masonic Lodge.

not doing anything for the city."

"The only answer to the problem is to remove this blight and to redevelop these areas. Efforts should be made to prevent the other neighborhoods which are generally indicated as conservation areas from developing into blighted areas."

The program could be carried out through the Slum Clearance and Rehabilitation Commission. The Commission has a bond issue coming before the voters this spring, it is to provide funds for slum clearance project for the Goodale area on the North Side, but future plans of the commission include work on the Hilltop, West Side and rural areas adjacent to the city.

Anyone interested in forming a committee for community action on the problem has been asked to contact either the City Planning Commission or the Slum Clearance commission at City Hall.

Parents Give Able Assit To West High Band

With the exception of instructors who are hired by the board of education the Band Parents Association of West High School is responsible for the entire support of West High's band, including purchase and maintenance of uniforms and instruments.

Two members of the uniform committee, Mrs. Roy Hawthorne and Mrs. J. C. Calter are on hand each time the band makes an appearance to make sure each member is dressed according to regulation.

New instruments purchased this year include two junior size bass viols and two junior size cellos, and plans call for enlarging the band's bass section to six pieces.

Letters for band and orchestra members who have qualified are also furnished by the association, as are gold engraved pins, presented to each graduating senior who has been enrolled in either class.

Projects are supported by the group's money-making projects and proceeds from the big event of the year, the Band Variety Show, presented each spring.

Instrumental classes at West include beginning students in brass, reed, string and drums. Clair Barnard is in charge of all instrumental classes, assisted by John R. Dale.

Plans are now underway for the traditional Christmas party given by by the association for band and orchestra members.

It will be held this year, Dec. 14.

About The Hilltop

Happy Thanksgiving! Just being together with family and friends, around a bountiful table, counting blessings and giving thanks is an old Pilgrim custom that every American shares on Thanksgiving.

The Russell Longs are off on a holiday weekend in Indiana, former home of Mr. Long . . . This Thanksgiving, Rev. Paul Miltheim and family are snug in their new parsonage home at 617 Racine-av . . . The Jack Douglas are up from Bradentown, Fla. While here they are guests of Goldie and Chet Maccabee . . . A bad cold didn't keep Johnny Terry, WVKO announcer home from the OSU and Michigan game . . . The lucky three, Dick Ucker, Jim Morrow and Jack Ziegler, arrived home from the OSU and Michigan game tired, hoarse, but happy.

Early this month, the Harry Gearharts left for their annual winter stay at Ft. Pearce, Fla. . . . Rev. and Mrs. Ralph S. King of Marion, Ind. are the proud parents of a baby boy. (Mark Wayne). Mrs. King is the daughter of Rev. Donald Luellen. The Kings will soon be leaving for Athens, Greece, where Rev. King, graduate of Wesleyan Methodist College of Marion will teach at the Oriental Missions in Greece . . . This year, the Berean Sunday School Class of Immanuel Baptist Church will remember someone at the Columbus State School with their Christmas exchange presents. Mrs. A. C. Skipper is president and Mrs. Joseph Byrum, secretary of the adult class.

The well known Lee Weigand is back in the swing again after a few days stay in Mt. Carmel and several weeks recuperation at home . . . We're happy to report Jack Shank is on the mend after a severe fall. Just had to pass this "chuckle" along — while sharing a ward in Mt. Carmel, Jack demanded a private room, saying his buddies "talked too much."

While on a hunting trip in Canada, Fred Spangler didn't even get a "peep" at a deer . . . The Tom Flowers are knitting tiny garments . . . The John Montoneys are proud parents of a baby girl (Marie Renee). Mr. Montoney is stationed with the US Navy in Rhode Island and is due home for a short furlough during the Christmas holidays . . . Edwin Strong is the newly-appointed sales representative in the southern area of the state for The American Printing Co. .

Proud Father—I want our Willie to be a politician.
Friend—Why?
Father—He's so big and strong. I'd hate to have him ruin his physique by working.

Benefit Euchre Party

Executive committee of District 40 of the Ohio Rebekah Assembly will sponsor a progressive euchre party for the benefit of the home at Springfield, Nov. 28, 8 p. m., at the Odd Fellows Temple, 34 W. Goodale-st. Mrs. Horace Elliott, 704 S. Ogden-av is co-chairman. The public is invited.

IT'S A FAIR QUESTION

Daddy: "Yes, I'm positive."
"Well, then, how can people go in the far corners of the earth?"

THANKSGIVING

By Rev. Melvin Oehrtman
Chaplain of Columbus State School

True Thanksgiving cannot be an event that takes place only once a year, it is, rather, an emotion or an attitude that cannot be turned on and off at will. By its very nature, true Thanksgiving is a way of life; an attitude toward what we have to enjoy and how it comes into our possession for use.

Thanksgiving, by its very nature is closely united with religion, for the concept of Thanksgiving is based on, "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above and commeth down from the Father of lights, with Whom is no variableness neither shadow of turning."—James 1:17. Until men learn this truth, there is little likelihood of any thanksgiving.

Because until this is known truth men get the idea that they have in possession just what they deserve or else just what God owes them. Should anyone give thanks to God for what he has if it is owed to him or he is deserving of it? Hardly. It is more likely that those who feel that God owes them something or that they are deserving of material blessings will tire of, and be dissatisfied with their possessions.

Life is not satisfying, the car isn't fast enough or powerful enough, wife or husband is not congenial, children do not show proper respect, polititians do not know how to run the country, something is radically wrong with either mamagement or labor — depending on whose side the person is on, and a host of other real or imagined criticisms.

It is only the God-fearing, and God-loving who can truthfully say "I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound; in any and all circumstances I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and want." Philippians 4:12.

In view of our inadequacies, our own frailties, our own sins, our own mis-managements, our own wastefulness our own misjudgements; just what does God owe any one of us? Just what do any one of us deserve? Perhaps not much. However in His goodness, and even in spite of our own shortcomings, He has abundantly provided for all that we need to support this body and life.

Thus viewed, everything we enjoy from day to day is the subject of thanks-giving to God.

Hilltop Y's To Expand Little Theatre

Hilltop branches of the YMCA and YWCA announced plans this week for an expansion in the group's "little theatre" movement.

The proposed expansion will provide an outlet for increased participation by adult residents of the community, a spokesman for the YMCA said.

Program for community youth groups in "little theatre" have been active in this area for some time, the spokesman continued, but the proposed program will be the first offered to adults in the Hilltop YMCA and YWCA.

Plans for the proposed organization have not yet been completed, the spokesman said, but he announced that a one-act play will be presented Wednesday evening, Nov. 30. The play, a comedy with a Christmas theme, is scheduled to be given in the assembly room of the Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church at 8:30 p.m.

Cast of the production, now in rehearsal, include Mrs. Lynn Barr, R. W. "Red" Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moon. Properties are being handled by Mrs. Cecile Grant.

Family Of Four Nearly Overcome By Gas Fumes

A family of four were nearly asphyxiated as they slept Monday night, firemen reported. An 11 year old boy's fall downstairs saved his parents and sister.

Michael Papp, 287 N. Algonquin-av, got up and started for the bathroom about 4:45 a.m., but he collapsed and fell down the stairs. The noise of the fall aroused his father, John Papp, 33.

The father telephoned for help and the family was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital and released.

Firemen said a defective gas heater flooded the house with deadly fumes.

Kiwanis Men Love A Parade

Bob Miller of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club's church committee writes a check for $100 to the Hilltop Business Association, sponsors of the Christmas parade to be a feature of next Saturday afternoon on Broad-st. Jack Imler, president of the HBA, stands at left.

Lonely Fatherless Boys Need More Hilltop 'Big Brothers'

On the principle that a fatherless boy is a lonely boy, the Big Brothers Association was organized 51 years ago in New York, and since its inception here 400 such boys have been befriended in Franklin County alone.

So, on a similar principle, that the situation should not remain uncorrected, eight Hilltop men have become active members of the Big Brothers.

Taking an active part by being "pals" with a fatherless boy through the United Appeal agency are Mayor Sensenbrenner, 235 Guernsey-av; Roy F. Robet, 210 Letchworth-av; Earl A. Brownlee, 524 Nashobe-av; L. E. Levengood, 241 S. Southampton-av; George Levisay, 86 S. Algonquin-av; Harry E. Richter, 366 S. Brinker-av; Jack Sherick, 60 Letchworth-av; and William E. Muench, 435 S. Powell-av.

The boys to be befriended are those between ages of six and 17 left fatherless through divorce, death, separation or desertion. The boys come from all different parts of the county and from different economic strata, but all have the same problem in common.

Boys are referred to the Big Brother agency by schools, social agencies, relatives, friends and churches. The boy and his mother are contacted and in a personal interview, the boy's interests are noted so he can be "matched up" with a Big Brother of similar interests.

"Our program is one of friendship," said W. E. Richardson, executive secretary of Big Brothers.

The association also runs a boys' camp in Hocking County for 10 weeks in the summer, in conjunction with the United Kiwanis Clubs of Franklin County.

But despite the interest and enthusiasm taken and engendered by the Big Brother movement here, there are still 50 boys on a waiting list for a friend.

These are the boys who are still lonely. Any really sincere fellow can be a Big Brother. You just have to care.

Hilltop GI Helps Army Cut Expenses In France

Take a leg from some old chair, give it to Hilltop soldier, Sgt. Paul C. Dodd, NCO of the Perigueux, France Quartermaster Depot, and chances are he will work it into a like-new piece of furniture in no time.

Sergeant Dodd, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dodd, 312 N. Harris-av, who is soon to return to the Hilltop with his Czech bride and son, works with two other GI's at the Perigueux Depot in turning out more than 600 pieces of furniture a month. All look like new after having arrived there in every condition of breakdown short of kindling wood.

What's more, they're doing a lot of repair with left over scrap lumber from which they fashion parts like arms and legs that will be needed the most.

Sgt. Dodd estimates that his men saved the government $5,000 recently at one government installation alone. Dodd sent a team of four Frenchmen and one GI to Poitiers, France, for 21 working days. They repaired 315 pieces of furniture that otherwise would have been procured new.

A well-planned assembly line type operation has stepped up production in Dodd's shop to about 800-pieces repaired per month from the days when the shop was turning out only a third that many.

The furniture repair shop spreads its work over seven Army installations in France. These installations send in upon request estimates of the amount of furniture they have to repair. The furniture repair section then schedules each installation based on the percentage of furniture that needs servicing.

Dodd has the use of $22,000 worth of equipment to run his operation, and its a complicated business. The shop handles, for instance, more than 3,000 items of supply needed for repair, such as wax, bolts, sandpaper and glue.

The Sergeant, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dodd, 212 N. Harris-av, is proudest of his shop's safety record. Considering the great amount of time his men spend working with power tools, they've had an amazingly low accident record and almost nothing serious.

Most of the men, including Dodd, in the shop, built it from the ground up. Capt. John D. Henson, who had charge of the section, gave Dodd the go-ahead to set up a system to make the shop. Time spent procuring supplies and working out a method of operation kept initial production fairly low. Furniture started coming in during February, 1954, and remained there for a while before it went out. Now the pieces roll in one door and out the other on a smooth chain.

Dodd says he hopes to add an infra-red drying room that will speed up drying time on repainted items even more. But until that day arrives, the 600-a-month figure is nothing to be ashamed of.

Three Firemen Injured In Fire At Haldeman's

Three firemen were injured in a $12,000 fire that swept through the Haldeman Dry Cleaners, 3115 W. Broad-st. last Wednesday.

The fire burned for more than an hour and tied up traffic for several blocks before the blaze was brought under control.

The dry cleaning establishment was closed as is customary on Wednesday. Owner Harley Haldeman, 156 Powhatan-av, said $10,000 of the loss was to clothing.

The firemen were injured when an explosion blew the three men several feet and sent a jet of flame out the door as they were entering the store. They were treated on the scene.

Battalion Chief J. C. O'Conner said the fire apparently originated beneath a steam boiler at the rear of the store.

Injured firemen were Lt. Albert Ferrand, 37, 443 S. Harris-av; Lt. Mel Neff, 46, 2262 Springwood-dr; and Fireman Robert Husk, 28, 977 W. State-st.

THANKSGIVING 1955

Come to Thanksgiving Church Services

A time to be truly grateful for our many blessings in this land of plenty

Thanksgiving is a time for family gatherings . . . for heartfelt rejoicing in the blessings of home, family, peace and plenty. It's a time to be joyful . . . and a time to be quietly, prayerfully grateful because the abundance and freedom our forefathers dreamed of are ours in reality. On this Thanksgiving, we join in giving thanks, and among our blessings we count the opportunity of serving you during the past year. May we continue to serve you in a manner that will ever deserve your patronage.

"With thanks to all our customers and friends"

Drug Store Popular With Different Types

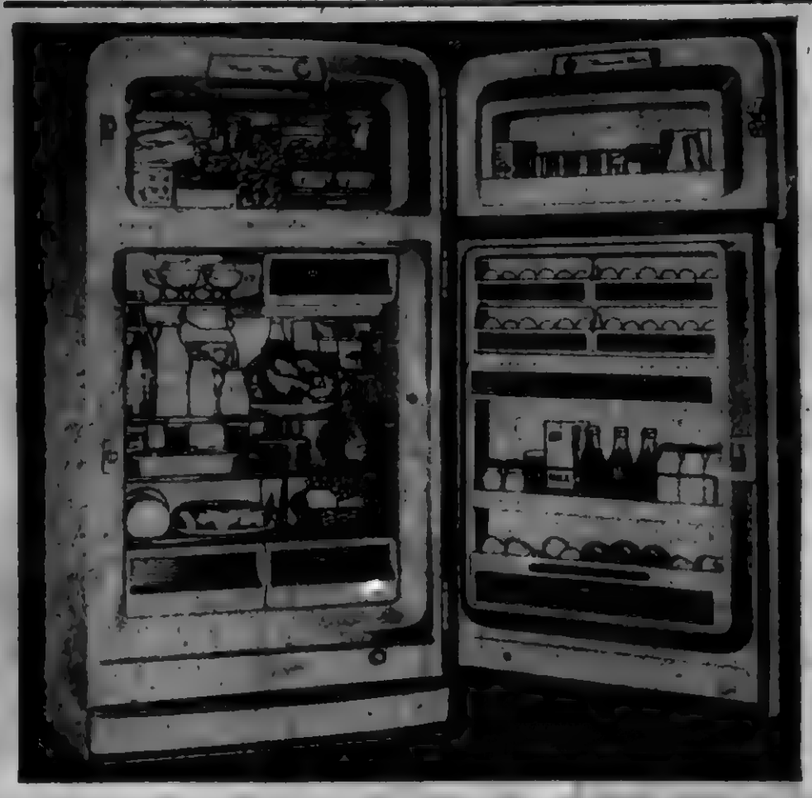
With 22 years as a pharmacist and drug store proprietor behind him, F. E. "Gene" Todd might well be convinced that next to people with prescriptions to be filled, the most persistent persons he has encountered are drug store bandits—the kind that wield pistols rather than soda straws.

Since the time Todd opened his first drug store, near The Hilltop Record on W. Broad-st, bandits have entered his store with intent to commit armed robbery on four occasions. They have never been successful, however, in taking any loot.

Todd opened his first drug store in a partnership arrangement with his father, Charles E. Todd, in 1922, after having graduated from Ohio State University in 1921.

Before attending Ohio State, "Gene" served with the army in the first World War.

Todd took over his present location at 2378 Sullivant-av in 1960 and for some time he and his father operated two stores.



First Aid Class Graduates 24 At Westgate

Westgate School's West Side Disaster Hospital unit reported its largest class to date, 24 Hilltop residents, has completed a first aid course there.

Large Areas In Franklin Township Are Annexed To City

This Business Of Christmas Shopping

The night before Christmas is not too far off . . .

And that means that a lot of shopping must be done in the next few weeks . . . just 21 days to be exact.

Shopping in crowds is an unpleasant adventure at any time and especially so in Christmas crowds. Looking for parking space downtown is far from a pleasant thing.

The most pleasure will come from your shopping experience at this or any other season when you visit your local community stores where there is parking space nearby. This community abounds in wonderful stores with an array of merchandise to meet almost any requirement.

It is good business to buy at home . . . from your neighbor. He will be there to assist you and serve you after Christmas or any time you should find an adjustment necessary. You at all times have the satisfaction of knowing the person you deal with.

For a merrier Christmas, shop at the stores in this community. We highly recommend the advertisers in this and succeeding issues of this newspaper.

Scribbler Eye Notes: A big word of thanks to the downtown papers and radio and TV boys and gals for their publicity on the Hilltop Christmas parade . . . Clarence Latham miraculously escaped injury in an accident on Rt. 33 a couple of weeks ago but had his car almost completely destroyed . . . Chet Benery is back in Mt. Carmel Hospital . . . Cay Mowrey will be the speaker at this week's West Franklin Kiwanis meeting . . . Hilltop Kiwanians will hear a panel discussion on "What an Airport Means to the Hilltop" . . . City Furniture, Highland and Sullivant, will be open till 11 p.m. through Saturday Dec. 3. In their fifth expansion in four years, they have acquired an additional 8000 feet of warehouse space . . . The Hilltop's first Christmas parade last Saturday was well received and indeed was a very fine event . . . Carol Sue Whitfield was a recent visitor to Orlando, Fla. . . . Our apologies to Robert Cassell, AIA, 142 Powhatan-av, architect on that new Biddles Drive in as shown in last week's Record. We regret his name was not listed as the architect, 'cause any time a Hilltopper does a nice job like that we want him to have credit for it . . . Mayor and Mrs. Jensenbrenner were in Ft. Euston Va., last week visiting their son Eddie following an operation.

Christmas Parade Ruled Big Success

The Christmas parade co-sponsored by the Hilltop's Business and Ministerial Associations has been pronounced a big success. Throngs of people lined sidewalks, kept warm in automobiles parked along the parade route or peered from buildings at the more than 18 floats that whisked by.

Tempo of the parade was speeded up because of waiting traffic and the cold weather. The float seen above was entered by the HBA and shows Santa Claus, newly-arrived in town. At the right is one of the prettiest floats, entered by the Highland Avenue Friends Church Bands of Hilliards and West High Schools played.

Pictures of all the floats in the parade may be seen displayed in the window of The Hilltop Record beginning Thursday.

259 Acre Annexation Is Approved

In one busy week, characterized by the filing and hearing of a number of petitions to annex large areas to the city of Columbus, county commissioners approved the annexation of 259 acres south of Sullivant-av and postponed hearing until next week on another nearby 90.23 acres.

The approved area, including Sullivant Avenue Airport as well as Westgate Manor and a large portion of Rosary Addition is bounded on the north by Sullivant-av, Columbus city limits on the east, Briggs-rd extended on the south and an irregular line to the airport's west boundaries.

Hearing on a proposal to annex 90.23 acres between Racine-av and Terrace-av north of Briggs-rd, was postponed for a week after Mrs. Ivy Schultz, owner of 46 acres there but not a resident, protested.

Commissioner have set a Dec. 15 hearing date on the proposed annexation of another 147 acres north of Sullivant-av to the N.Y.C. railroad. The area includes Derrer-rd, Josephine-av and Wicklow-rd, as well as the site of the proposed International Harvester Co. plant and would expand to a line just east of Franklin Township Fire Department headquarters.

West Wins Borden And Kroger Awards

Two awards and trophies, for mechanical drawing and science, were presented to West High School personnel at a school assembly Tuesday from the Kroger and Borden companies.

For the second consecutive year, West High won the Kroger Grocery Co. award for having the most students entering projects in the central district of the Ohio Junior Academy of Science. The award, consisting of a bronze and wood plaque and $50 check, was presented by J. Redman of Krogers to Miss Mary Baker of West's Science Department.

The presentation was preceded by talks on the Academy of Science by Miss Baker, Dr. F. Mikelson, Ohio State University professor, and Roy Grinch, Everett Junior High teacher and district chairman of the junior academy.

The Borden Milk Co. trophy was presented to Robert F. Darrow, principal, by Ralph Palmer of the company. The award was presented for quantity and quality at the Ohio State Fair in drafting, where West was the sweepstakes winner for the 10th consecutive time since the war.

Explorers Invited To Inter-Group Meet

Explorer scouts of the Southwest District who are interested in joining an inter-group club have been invited to a meeting of the Hillcrest Baptist Church on Dec. 5. The meeting is open to all boys 14 and over.

Rich Territory Asks To Annex

Annexation of rich lands in Franklin Township came closer to reality in one sweeping move Tuesday as petitioners asked the city to take 2493 acres including Westinghouse, General Motors, Lincoln Village and several oil company lands.

The filing, made by Harrison W. Smith, jr., attorney for area residents, presented the petition Tuesday afternoon to county commissioners. The petition was signed by more than 70 per cent of the residents in the area.

The city would, if the petition were approved, extend out as far as New Rome. It would encompass part of Prairie Township as well as most of Franklin Township.

In a previous action Tuesday, commissioners had approved the annexation of 259 acres lying south of Sullivant-av, and including Westgate Manor and Sullivant-av Airport, and a large portion of Rosary Development. Another 90 acres may be brought in after a further hearing next week.

Annexation Approved

On Monday, commissioners had approved the annexation of 340 acres around the Broad-Wilson addition. The area lies north of Broad-st, west of Wilson-rd and extends east of Wilson-rd to include the 32-acre Great Western Shopping Center. It also takes in four farms north of Fisher-rd.

It was this petition which originally included Westinghouse and the oil company properties. Commissioners last week refused to permit annexation of the two rich big properties.

However, Tuesday's petition is believed to have a chance of passage. The Commissioners reluctance to approve the Westinghouse entry into the city stemmed from their fears that the resultant loss of tax revenues would cause great difficulty to the six school districts recently consolidated and dependent on the tax monies. Sheriff Checks Hilltop Boy's Driving Record

Franklin County Sheriff's office began investigation Monday into the driving record of an 18-year-old boy involved in a W. Broad-st two-car crash Saturday. The teenager, Thomas J. Reed, 338 N. Southampton-av had been arrested several times for traffic violations.

In the latest accident, Reed, according to sheriff's deputies, crashed broadside into a car driven by Jay Edwin Monk, 17, of Dublin. At the time, Reed was being pursued by deputies through Lincoln Village.

The crash occurred when Reed sped onto Rt. 40 from the village with headlights out. Reed, as well as the occupants of the other car, Morris and Marie Hunter, 17, of Mt. Vernon, are in Mt. Carmel Hospital with serious injuries.

Previously, Sheriff's Deputy Robert Blake had arrested Reed for driving 75 miles an hour on Broad-st near New Rome.

Last February deputies say, the youth's father promised to take young Reed's car from him

Correspondent Celebrates 88th Birthday

Mrs. Belle Boucher, until recent years a resident of New Rome and a correspondent for the the Rural-Urban News, celebrated her 88th birthday Sunday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Rylon Smith, 591 Townsend-av, Columbus.

Mrs. Boucher, unfil a recent illness, was very active in combing the village of New Rome for news and information about the founding of the community and its history. Some of the information gathered was used during the centennial observance.

She was born near Salem Church in 1867 and lived most of her adult life in the local area. She now resides with a granddaughter Mrs. Eva Sager, in Co-

Cranberry Queen Reigns At Dance On Hilltop

Nancy Ream

Nancy Ream, 760 Chestershire-rd, was elected Queen of the Cranberry Ball last Wednesday, Nov. 23, at Glenwood Recreation Center. The Queen's Court consisted of ElAnn Pospichal, Donna Listou, Irene Chucales, and Ruthann Hardacre.

Judy Lloyd and master of ceremonies, Floyd Love, sang, accompanied by Mrs. H. C. Booth.

Over 300 teen-agers danced to the music of Tommy Dale and his orchestra, furnished through the courtesy of the Columbus Federation of Musicians, Local 101.

Civic Center Area Taken In By City

County commissioners Friday approved the annexation to Columbus of 128 acres of Franklin Township land in the Valleyview area, including the proposed new Hilltop Civic Center.

The annexation, a dream of Mrs. Thelma Neal, 267 N. Sylvain-av, for the past several years, went through with only one complaint. Attorney Tom Applegate, representing the Franklin Township Citizens' Association, cited the city's health and sewage problem as the chief reason against annexation.

However, Columbus Service Director Floyd C. Redick, in reply to a query from county commissioners about whether the city could furnish sewer and water to the area, said:

"This section is the key to a large area on the West Side, and while there is a lot of work to be done, and really work, preliminary plans have already been made."

The area approved for annex

Hilltop Kiwanis Paper Sale Is Set For Dec. 15

Thursday, Dec. 15, marks the date for the 1955 Hilltop Kiwanis Club Christmas Charity Newspaper Sale, Ed Schaedler, chairman for the annual drive announced yesterday.

Some 200 volunteers are expected to participate in the house-to-house sale of the special paper, said Schaedler. All profits from the sale will go into the Kiwanis Club treasury for use in youth work, welfare work, civic betterment, schools, Boy Scouts, Little League baseball, Hilltop YMCA assistance and support of religious activities.

Highlight of the 1955 Christmas sale will be the auction of first editions during the regular luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club at noon Thursday, Dec. 15. Harold Fox, chairman of the auction committee, promises that Clarence Latham, Hilliards auctioneer who has brought "top dollar" for the newspapers in earlier years, will again conduct the auction.

The 200 house-to-house salesmen will meet at the West High School cafeteria on the evening of the sale for a "pep rally" and dinner, traditionally prepared by the Kiwanikwe, ladies auxiliary of the Kiwanis Club.

Ohio Bell To Enlarge Plant

As part of a $78,000 telephone expansion program for Hilliards, construction is scheduled to get under way today for an addition to the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. exchange building.

The addition will be concrete and brick to match the present building. J. P. Gibbs, Ohio Bell district commercial manager, stated that the new building will contain dial central office equipment. George W. Timmons Co. has been contracted for the building program.

Business Firms Object To Parking Ban Edict

Announcement Tuesday by the city traffic commisaion of additional "no parking" and "no left turn" bans on W. Broad-st, brought immediate groans from already harrassed West Side and Hilltop business men.

Plans, which would be effective "as soon as signs are ready," call for the elimination of parking on the south side of Broad-st between 7 and 9 a.m., with the same rule applying to the north side of the thoroughfare between 4 and 6 p.m. No left turns would be permitted at any traffic light.

W. Broad-st merchants give numerous reasons why they think the ban on parking is unfair—particularly as the peak of holiday buying approaches. Faced with additional shopping center competition as well as from downtown merchants they feel it will be an additional squeeze.

The city has provided a municipal garage, a definite aid to downtown stores, Hilltop business men assert, and feel it is unjust to eliminate parking here—particularly between 4 and 6 p. m.

They also point out that if only one car or truck is halted — for parcel delivery or only a one-minute stop by a passenger car —the traffic speed-up plan is defeated. Policing to prevent this would be impossible, they point out, and the only thing to be "gained" is by merchants in the downtown area and the shopping centers.

Merchants interviewed feel that the situation is a result of short-sightedness in planning as much of the traffic problem on W. Broad-st is the result of cars passing through Columbus on Route 40. A by-pass around Columbus has been "talked about" for years, but nothing as yet has been done, while through traffic continues to increase.

Some pointed out the continued lack of planning by maintenance crews which paint new traffic lines and make small repairs during the busiest hours of the day. This type of work is done during light traffic periods or at night in most cities, they assert.

Christmas Trees To Be Sold By 'Y' Men's Club

The Hilltop Y's Men's Club will conduct their annual Christmas tree sale beginning Saturday, Dec. 10. Proceeds from the sale will be used for youth work in the local area.

Heading the committee for the Christmas tree sale, to be conducted in a lot at Harris and Broad-sts, is Lewis M. Proper. The Hilltop club is one of over 200 in the country that raise funds by tree sales.

Two Readers Find $1 Insignia; Jackpot Worth $38 This Week

"Confederate" cash in the pocket is as good as gold with any merchant advertising in this week's Hilltop Record, and 38 of those crisp, new "Confederate" bills would come in mighty handy during Christmas shopping season. Since the jackpot was not claimed last week the value of this week's insignia is $38.

Two Hilltoppers discovered for themselves that playing our "Confederate" money game is just as easy as we promised Tom Vargo, 11, of 84 Clarendon-av, found a $1 insignia in his paper, as did Barbara Baker, 16, a student at West High School.

In addition to the jackpot insignia, the usual five $1 insignia are also imprinted in ads. The insignia, hand-imprinted in bright blue ink, are always in plain sight.

Easy-to-follow rules and replicas of the lucky insignia appear in the accompanying box.

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it at once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $38 in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

If bats seem unduly combative, farmers should rid the premises of them, according to T. H. Parks, extension entomologist at Ohio State University.

In successive order he was in charge of the rug department, stock control, warehouses and customer relations with Glick.

Tom is a graduate of the National Retail Furniture School at Northwestern University.

Tom and Mrs. Garrity have two daughters and a son, the latter in grade school at St. Mary Magdalene School. For 10 years Tom was active in Boy Scout work with Troop 216. He is a member of Hilltop Council K. of C. and the Chamber of Commerce Transportation Club.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

REMORSE

If we could un-say the things we've said
And un-do the things we've done,
A happier life this surely would be,
And certainly lots more fun!

But alas, life's such a tricky maze
Just waiting to snare the unwary,
So it's better to "hurt inside" for days
Than to be one bit unchary.

Abbie W. Weber

Miss Weber lives at 112 Norton-rd, New Rome, and works nights at Franklin Village Glendale Hospital. Her kind letter and poem — written for this space-filler are appreciated.

If you ladies who crochet, knit or tat have any odds and ends of thread, any color, and would like to help a deserving little lady who has had a leg amputated and must spend the rest of her life in a wheelchair, please call BR. 4-8517, and it will be picked up. The lady's doctor has advised that she keep busy. She can make use of your odds and ends as she crochets beautifully, and is financially unable to buy thread. She will appreciate it; so will I.

ARE ALL THE CHILDREN IN?

I think of times as night draws nigh,
Of an old house on the hill;
Of a yard all wide and blossom-starred
Where the children played at will,
And when the night at last came down,
Hushing the merry din,
Mother would look around and ask
"Are all the children in?"

It's many and many a year since then
And the old house on the hill
No longer echoes to childish feet,
And the yard is still, so still.
But I see it all, as the shadows creep,
And though many the years have been,
Since then, I can hear my Mother ask
"Are all the children in?"

I wonder, if, when the shadows fall
On the last short earthly day;
When we shall lock all the world outside,
All tired with our childish play;
When we step out into the Other Land
Where Mother so long has been,
Will we hear her ask, just as of old,
"Are all the children in?"

Author unknown. Reprinted.

Mrs. Harry Cooper, 184 S. Ogden-av, phoned last Friday morning and read the above poem to me, answering the request for it. I'm most grateful to Mrs. Cooper. She is a busy lady and it was good of her to take the time. Am hoping my not too dependable sherthand hasn't let us down; that I have transcribed the poem as she read it to me. Mrs. Cooper is an active member of West High PTA and of the Mothers' Study Group of Calvary Apostolic Church. She also read a sweet poem — entitled "Childlike Trust," which will be reprinted here later.

Overheard in passing — Within the perfect lawn's confines, dew's on the grass; don't on the signs . . . If all the columnists who have mentioned that the President has a Gettysburg address were laid end to end, they would go far — and they should. . . . The great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in which direction we are moving.

It Happened In Franklin Co.

Tale Told By Historian

By Gilbert F. Dodds

John Brickell, who was a captive among the Ohio Indians for many years, was one of three or four white men who took up their permanent residence in what is now Franklin County. Brickell came to Franklinton in 1797 and made it his permanent place of residence.

When Brickel first came to the forks of the Scioto, he bought a 10-acre lot of land from Lyne Starling before the City of Columbus was laid out. The lot was located in front of what is now the Ohio Penitentiary. Here he built a log cabin.

When a boy of ten, Brickell was living with a brother on the east side of the Allegheny River about two miles from Fort Pitt. One day while he was cleaning out a fence row he was captured by Indians and taken to their camp on the Sandusky River. Brickell remained with them until after the Battle of Fallen Timbers in which General Anthony Wayne defeated the tribesmen. He was then taken to Greenville where he was given his liberty.

After living for a time with a sister in Kentucky and visiting his former home in Western Pennsylvania, Brickell came to the Fork of the Scioto where he lived until his death July 20, 1844. In 1843, he wrote a narrative of his captivity which was published in the American Pioneer, a monthly periodical. The story was later republished in W. T. Martin's History of Franklin County. Brickell was a hatter by trade, highly respected by his fellow townsmen in Franklinton, and for many years was a member of the Methodist Church in Franklinton.

Joseph Foos—Early Tavern Keeper

For many years Joseph Foos was one of the prominent men of Franklin County. In 1798 he removed from Kentucky to the Northwest Territory, purchased land from Lucas Sullivant and settled in what is now Franklin Township. His log cabin was constructed upon the farm later owned by the Osborns heirs on Harrisburg Pike.

In 1803, Foos built a brick house in Franklinton in which he kept a tavern. This building was considered a large one for the period and during the War of 1812 it was the headquarters for both military and civil leaders of the community. Foos continued in the tavern business until 1818. He was early elected to the legislature and served with scarcely an interruption for twenty years. He is credited with proposing the name Columbus for the new capital "to be located on the 'High bank' of the Scioto River."

COMPETITION

"I suppose the little wife will win all the arguments in your house?"

"No; she'll only win half of them."

"Oh, you expect to win the other half?"

"No, but my mother-in-law will."

Chuck-A-Lucks Hard Pressed In 33-23 Win

The fired up Bulldogs came close to defeating the league leading Chuck-A-Lucks in a senior league game at Glenwood Recreation Center, Nov. 22.

The Bulldogs grabbed a 9-8 first quarter lead, but the winners retaliated in the second quarter to go ahead 13-12 at the half. The Bulldogs kept within striking distance during the third quarter as the score read 19-17 in favor of the Chuck-A-Lucks.

The Bulldogs faded out of the picture in the fourth quarter as they were overpowered 14-6. This was the third league win for the Chuck-A-Lucks. The Bulldogs now possess a 1-3 record.

Joe Bowman of the Chuck-A-Lucks copped game scoring honors with 12 points. Ralph Seymour led the Bulldogs with seven.

Co-leaders of the senior league, the Jokers, also had to come from behind to win their game from the Pirates.

The Pirates started off strong with a 9-4 first quarter lead, but the Jokers came back equally as strong in the second quarter to post a 18-15 lead at half time. After this, the Jokers played possession ball to go on to their third league win.

Howard Tidwell paced the victors with 18 points while Jim Bargdill collected 10 for the Pirates.

The Celtics cashed in on their second league win with a 67-24 victory over the Methodists. The score was 16-10 at the end of the first quarter which showed promise of a good game. The Celtics, however, had a field day the rest of the game.

Don Spencer paced the Celtics with 18 points with Bob DeWitt and Jeff Dum collecting 13 and 12 respectively. Dudley Hereford sparked the Methodists with 14.

In the final game of the evening the Cavaliers humbled DeMolay 67-38. This has been the highest senior league score posted to date.

The first half was fairly even, but the winners ran rampant in the second half to outscore their opponents 42-19.

Warren Pemberton and Ron Forrer collected 21 and 18 points respectively to pace the Cavaliers' attack. Larry Dinch copped 13 for DeMolay.

Single Men Beat Married Men In 25th Annual Tilt

In a football game which has been played annually since 1930, the Single Men of West Park Methodist Church defeated the Married Men of the church, 6-4 at Westgate Park on Thanksgiving Day.

The traditional battle, begun 25 years ago under the leadership of Miles V. (Gap) Hoover, was a contest between the loose-running Single backs and the heavy middle line of the Married Men.

Capt. David Guyton of 143 S. Princeton-av, home on leave from the army, led the Single Men to a touchdown early in the game. The hard-charging Married crew, led by Capt. Chuck Dillie, 317 S. Central-av, garnered two safeties.

Officials for the game were R. W. Gray, Bob Miller, Bob McGuire and Clyde Fulton.

Basketeers Defeat Sunshine, 26-16

Donna Young's 18 points led the Basketeers to a 26-16 victory over Sunshine in a junior girls' basketball game Friday, Nov. 25, at Glenwood Recreation Center. Rosemary Rubadue of the Basketeers and Linda Thompson of Sunshine tallied eight points each.

The Clowns defeated the Bobby Soxers 30-5 as Vicki Quinn chalked up 18 points, and Donna Berle scored 12. Ruth Ann Scales scored three of the Bobby Soxers' five points.

The Dragonettes downed the Six Aces 36-4. Patty Riddle and Barbara Waldo tied for scoring honors with 18 each. Diane Butler and Eunice Smith tallied two points each for the Aces.

New Law

Tuesday's petition will come under the terms of a new law, effective Sept. 20, which says the new State Board of Education must approve all annexations affecting parts of school districts.

It was believed that commissioners could approve the annexation and leave the school problem up to the state board.

Boundaries of the new, giantized tract would include Fisher-rd and the north line of Lincoln Village on the north; the west line of Lincoln Village near New Rome on the west; Sullivant-av on the south; and Columbus at the New York Central Railroad underpass on W. Broad-st on the east.

The area includes Lincoln Village, Garden Heights, but leaves out the Mix Addition south of Broad-st. An estimated 240 families live in Lincoln Village and about 60 in Garden Heights.

The 2462 acres is larger than annexations of 2251 and 2421 acres covering much the same area filed last year. Both were refused.

If approved, the annexation of almost three square miles would be the largest single expansion in the city's history.

Sheriff Checks—

and not allow him to use it again.

Two weeks later he was involved in a two-car race which resulted in the death of Charles E. Engel, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Engle, 177 Evergreen-tr, near New Rome. Engle died from injuries received when the cars left the roadway and crashed into a ditch, according to sheriff's records. Engle was a passenger in a second car.

Reed was then indicted by a grand jury on charges of manslaughter and reckless operation. The manslaughter charge was dropped when he pleaded guilty to reckless operation.

The youth's driver's license wa revoked at that time by Judge Leach.

Judge Leach said today, in reviewing Reed's case:

"I made the statement that I was sorry I couldn't assess Reed a greater penalty under the law. I did not believe anybody who had control of his car and was driving at a reasonable rate of speed could possibly have done what he did.

"From the physical facts, I felt he was driving at an excessive rate of speed."

At that time, Judge Leach's penalty for first offense, as provided under the state law, he assessed the maximum said.

Civic Center—

ation is bounded by a line west of Hague-av on the east; the Columbus corporation line on the south; the Pennsylvania Railroad on the north, except for a 33-acre stretch of land of the stretch of land belonging to the Universal Real Estate Co. which remains outside the city, causing the northern boundary of the annexed tract at that point to rest at Valleyview-dr; and includes N. Southampton-av in the Joan Heights addition on the west.

Speaking on behalf of the annexation were Noble Allen of the board of trustees of Glenwood Methodist Church and C. Carlton Hartley, chairman of the board of management of the Hilltop YMCA; and John W. Burr on Luther B. Turner Masonic Lodge.

The three organizations will erect new buildings as part of a 23-acre Hilltop Civic Center to be located within the tract near Valleyview-dr and west of Hague-av.

Request for annexation came from Mrs. Neal, acting as agent for 51 of the 71 resident freeholders in the area. It was her third attempt to annex the area to Columbus.

The city refused to accept the tract in 1946 and the county commissioners declined to approve its annexation a year ago.

Santa Arrives At Central Point

Recobs Builds Home, Boats In Free Time

S. H. Recobs

When G. H. Recobs, owner-operator of Recobs' Bakery, 2840 W. Broad-st, isn't busy making dough of one variety or another, he's likely to be found engaged in his favorite hobbies, carpentry or boat-building.

In the last few years, while turning out some 600 doz. rolls and innumerable other pastries, cakes and pies each week for sale in his shop, Recobs has managed to build his own new home and three boats of various sizes. A carpenter helped Recobs construct the frame of the house, but the boats were strictly his own creations, as are 65 lb. wedding cakes, which he is frequently called on to produce.

Although Recobs got his start as a baker in 1928, his business interests are almost balanced by his enthusiasm for working with wood. Possibly, when fishing season on the Great Lakes rolls around, and Recobs is out on Lake Erie in his 14-foot cabin cruiser, the scales might be tipped in the other direction.

Recobs opened his own bakery in 1947 at its present location, when he was discharged from the Navy after World War II.

He resides at his new home, 3671 Dibble-av, with his wife, Ruth, and daughter, Barbara, 8.

OVI LAND, SEA AND AIR

News Of Hilltop Servicemen At Home And Abroad

By Bill Botkin

Three Hilltop soldiers were reported by the Army on maneuvers or graduated from Army schools during the past week.

Specialist Ronald Adams

Specialist Third Class Ronald M. Adams, son of Andrew C. Adams, 566 Catherine-st, is assigned to the aggressor force in Exercise Sage Brush, the largest Joint Army-Air Force Maneuver since World War II, now being held in Louisiana. Regularly assigned to the 8th Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex., Specialist Adams is a tank commander in Company K of the division's 508th Tank Battalion. Graduating in 1951 from West High School and having attended Columbus Business University, he entered the Army in December of 1952. His wife, Charlotte, is living in Killeen, Tex.

Specialist Benjamin Nye

A member also of the aggressor force in Exercise Sage Brush, Specialist Benjamin H. Nye, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Nye, 556 Clark-av, is a tank crewman in Company C of the 4th Armored Division's 508th Tank Battalion. Before entering the Army in December of 1953, Specialist Nye attended Xavier University in Cincinnati. He was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Some 110,000 Army troops are testing the latest concepts of bacteriological, atomic, chemical and electronic warfare. The exercise ends Dec. 15. The aggressor force furnishes opposition to the regular maneuver troops in simulated battles.

Private James Condon

Pvt. James Condon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Condon, 584 Townsend-av, recently was graduated from the Sixth Army Communications School at Fort Leyis, Wash. A radio man in Company K of the 2nd Infantry Division's 9th Regiment, Pvt. Condon entered the Army in January of 1953 and received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and Fort Ord, Calif. Graduating from West High in 1951, he is a former employe of Nippert Electric Products Co.

Sciolo Savings Plans Ceremony

The official opening of the new main office building of the Sciolo Savings Association, 190 S. High-st, has been announced for Dec. 6 by Marion O. Davis, president.

On that date an opening celebration will be held for the public, starting at 11 a. m. with the customary ribbon cutting ceremony with public dignitaries in attendance, and concluding with a radio broadcast over WVKO directly from the new building.

Souvenir gifts will be provided and there will be a guessing contest built around "The House of Money," a transparent toy house stuffed with currency and coins. The object of the game is to guess how much money the "House of Money" holds. Winner gets a week's vacation for two at the Algiers Hotel, Miami, Fla. Transportation will be provided via Eastern Airlines.

A television set and a $50 savings account are second and third prizes in this contest, it was said.

Doodle Bugs Take Lead in Glenwood Pin Loop

The Doodle Bugs, with a 9-3 record, now lead the Glenwood Junior Bowling League. The Pin Busters, who were tied with the Doodle Bugs for the lead last week, dropped to a two-way tie with the Regulars, each with a 7-5 mark.

The high team game was turned in by the Lucky Strikers with a total of 974 pins. They were followed by the Regulars and the Pin Busters with scores of 930 and 924. The Lucky Strikers also took high series honors with a 1005. The Pin Busters' 1000 and the Regulars' 1036 were good enough for second and third.

Single game laurels went to Al Normile for his 198 game. Jim Pendergast, with 194, was second and Peggy Castle's 187 placed her third.

Jim Pendergast was tops in high series with a total of 577 pins for the two game set. Peggy Castle's 542 and Paul Ferguson's 514 followed in that order.

Paul Noble, Peggy Castle and Jerry Hawk with averages of 188, 115 and 110, respectively, finished in that order for all games bowled to date.

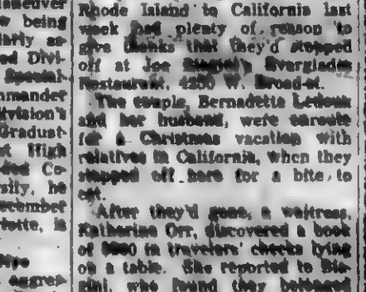
Travelers Find Honesty Is Biagini Policy

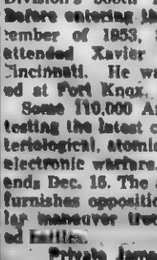
A pair of weary travelers from Rhode Island to California last week had plenty of reason to give thanks that they'd stopped off at Joe Biagini's Everglades Restaurant, 4250 W. Broad-st.

The couple, Bernadette Ledoux and her husband, were enroute for a Christmas vacation with relatives in California, when they stopped off here for a bite to eat.

After they'd gone, a waitress, Katherine Orr, discovered a book of $900 in travelers' checks lying on a table. She reported to Biagini, who found they belonged to the Ledoux couple.

A call was placed to the Ledoux home in Woonsocket, R.I., where the description of the couple's car and its license number were obtained. Then the State Highway Patrols of Ohio and Indiana were alerted.





Finally, the Ledoux's in Indianapolis discovered their loss and realizing they'd stopped only twice, they phoned the Everglades and were told their money was safe and waiting for them. Biagini then sent the money by air mail registered letter to them in Indianapolis.

Cowboys Take Over Junior League Lead

The Cowboys made it three in a row by defeating the Sabers 22-16 in a junior league game at Glenwood Recreation Center. This gave the Cowboys sole possession of the lead. The game was played Wednesday, Nov. 23.

The first half was fought on even terms as the half-time score read 10-10. The third quarter, however, was all Cowboys as they scored six points while holding the Sabers scoreless. Each team scored six points in the final quarter, but the Cowboys had already provided their winning margin.

Jerry Jaynes collected 12 points to lead the Cowboys' attack. Junior Reinhart added seven. Dick Brothers was high man for the Sabers with six.

The Jets forfeited to the Bucks in the other scheduled junior league game.

These games left the league standings as follows:

	W.	L.
Cowboys	4	0
Sabers	1	1
Jets	1	1
Bucks	1	2
Eagles	0	2

Ina Willis, John Martin Exchange Vows

The altar of Trinity Episcopal Church was decorated with vases of white chrysanthemums and pons, and white tapers in traditional seven-branch candelabra for the wedding of Miss Ina Ruth Willis and Mr. John Willard Martin on Nov. 23. Rev. Robert W. Fay, assisted by Rev. Richard Schacklett, Jr., officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Willis, 512 Larcomb-av, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James B. Posey, West Jefferson.

The bridal gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was designed with a basque bodice, low, scalloped neckline with an illusion yoke and long fitted sleeves. The bouffant skirt extended into a chapel train and featured an apron of lace. Her fingertip veil was caught to a plateau of ruffled lace, bead pearls and iridescent, and she carried a prayer book with white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Virginia Croul served as maid of honor for her cousin and bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Delaney and Miss Carol Robinson. They wore identical ballerina-length gowns of Dubarry pink taffeta with molded bodices, full, circular skirts and carried cascade arrangements of roses and camellia foliage.

Mr. Curt Lowery served as best man and wedding guests were seated by Mr. James Kay, Mr. George Brown, Mr Clyde Altvater and Mr. Robert Willis.

The mother of the bride chose an ice blue gown of pure silk peau de soie and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore a mauve rose satin gown with matching accessories and a corsage of cream cymbidium orchids.

MRS. JOHN WILLARD MARTIN.

Honka's Provincial House was the scene of the reception that followed for 175 guests. Hostesses were Miss Marilyn Cramer, Miss Nancy Timmons, Miss Sally Bevis and Mrs. Richard Bowers.

Mrs. Martin was graduated from West High School and will be a December graduate of the college of education, Ohio State University. Mr. Martin was also graduated from West High School and will be a March graduate of the college of education, Ohio State University. He is an associate member of Delta Phi Delta honorary and will enroll in Wayne University, Detroit, to study occupational therapy.

'DEAR FOLKS,

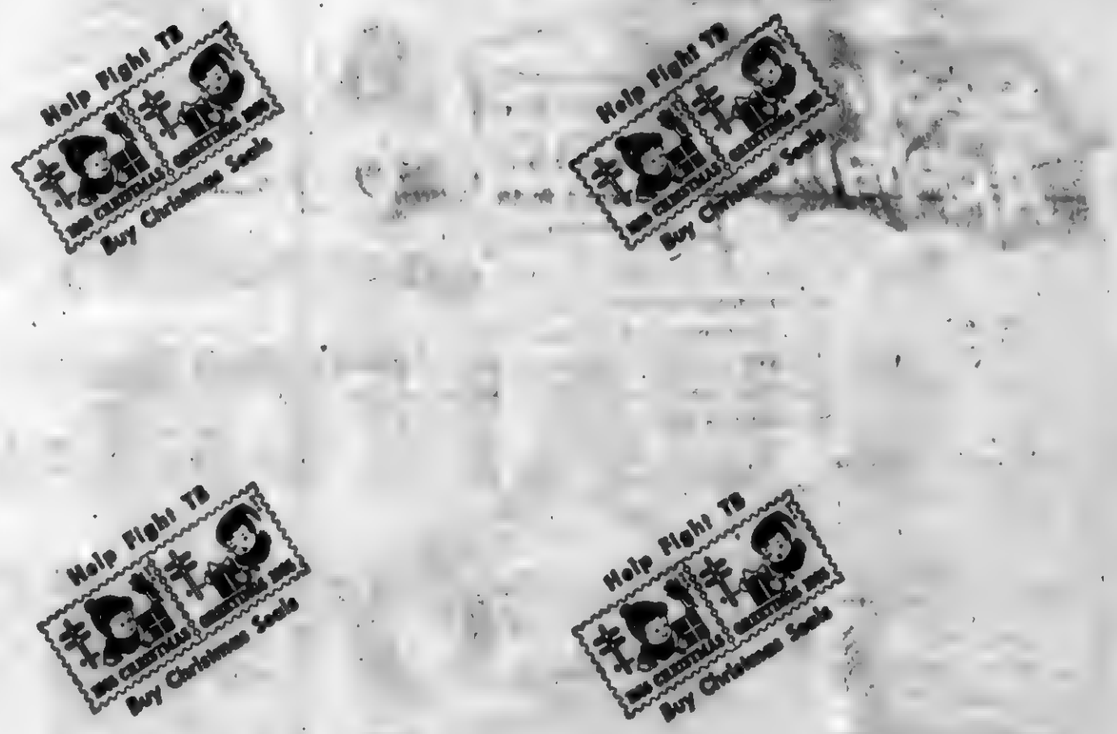
This Is A Magic Envelope...'

These are the words of little Sharon Goodwin, 2754 Perdue Ave., Columbus, in the 1955 Christmas seal letter. Sharon knows the wonder and power of its magic, because it helped bring her Daddy home from the TB hospital.

Yes, Sharon's envelope is magic, but only if your Christmas seal dollars are enclosed.

Then it will

. . . . find hidden TB through free X-rays



. . . . carry on medical research

. . . . teach health and tuberculosis prevention

. . . . pave the way back to jobs for ex-TB patients.

It will perform miracles of magic throughout Franklin County, for Christmas seals are the only support of the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County.

Mail your magic envelope today!

New Dog Tags Go On Sale Thursday

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their dogs.

Yes, it's that time again when man's best friend has to get next year's license. No respectable canine would be caught dead wearing last year's tags. Licenses go on sale Thursday, Dec. 1.

The nicest part about this license-getting is that it's getting easier all the time. Fred C. Dunn, Franklin County auditor, by making an early announcement again this year, may have saved dog owners all over the city from waiting in a long line.

Dunn said this week that licenses may be obtained at the Humane Society animal shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk, at the courthouse license division, or by mailing $2 with name and address of owner, a brief description of the dog (age, sex, color, long or short hair, breed) and a stamped, self-addressed return envelope to County Auditor, Courthouse, Columbus, 15.

Money derived from licenses is allocated in part to finance the activities of the Humane Society. For those who will go to the courthouse for the licenses, the county auditor's office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and until noon on Saturdays.

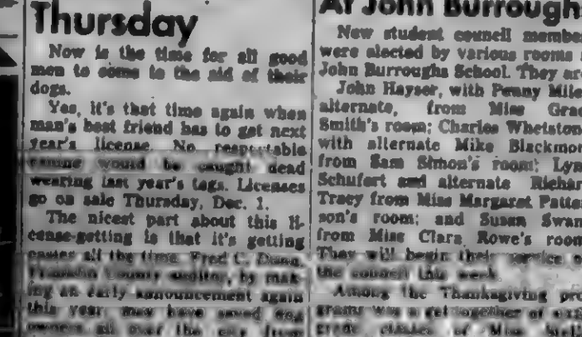
As expected 45,000 dog owners will be trying to get licenses this year for their four-legged friends. An early tag will keep Fido out of the "stray" category.

Council Members Elected To Serve At John Burroughs

New student council members were elected by various rooms at John Burroughs School. They are:

John Hayser, with Penny Miles, alternate, from Miss Grace Smith's room; Charles Whetstone, with alternate Mike Blackmore from Sam Simon's room; Lynn Schufert and alternate Richard Tracy from Miss Margaret Patterson's room; and Susan Swank from Miss Clara Rowe's room. They will begin their service on the council this week.

Among the Thanksgiving programs was a get-together of sixth grade classes of Miss Stella Schart and Miss Marion Kane. Their guests were pupils from Miss Ginter's room.



Taking part in the program were Billy Bennett, Carl Birtcher, Bobby Buell, Dick Carter, Phil Fleming, Norma Valentine, Mary Ellen Davis, Shirley McClain, Jon Morgan, Alice Wilgus, Mike Phillips, Judy Reed, Eddie Slaughter, David VanCuran and James DeBarry.

A dramatization and songs of Thanksgiving were combined in the rooms of Miss Alspach and Mrs. Stovall.

In a fashionable girls' school in New England the history teacher was telling the story of the settlement of the country.

"Miss Cabot," she said, "can you tell me who came over in the 'Mayflower'?"

"Yes," said the girl, "I can, my ancestors and a few other people."

BUYING A HOME is a serious matter. It's probably the most important and biggest single purchase a family makes. Unlike buying an auto it may not be as readily exchanged if the family's tastes or circumstances vary. Therefore we recommend sound thinking before making a purchase—not just signing on the dotted line after a hasty impression.
